Happenings in Pullman During the Past Week.

Movements of our Citizens Chronicled by the Herald.

The democratic combination held forth in the auditorium last night. J. W. Mathews was ring master, and the first exhibit was a monstrosity bearing the name of N. T. Caton, who is up for slaughter for congressman, and the greatest curiosity about him is that he believes he will be elected, and that he can do more for the people of Washington than any other man for whom they can vote. He was followed by S. J. Chadwick, a Colfax attorney, who spoke for a few minutes to the ladies, after which he was followed by Judge Hanna, who told the people that he was running for prosecuting attorney, and that if they voted for him he would be very grateful, but if they voted for the other fellow he could grin and bear it. Boss Warner then appeared before the footlights, and sent up an earnest prayer to the populist party, asking the votes of the members of that party, and thereby assist democracy in snoving the republican party under. Mr. Warner evidently realizes that his party is not in it. The meeting was well attended, and the audience was very orderly and quiet, which fact was due to the large number of republicans present.

A large crowd turned out last Monday night to listen to Wm. Rasmus expound the truths of republicanism. Mr. Rasmus spoke so eloquently and brilliantly that bursts of applause were frequent, and he held the close attention of his hearers. Mr. Rasmus is neither politician or office-seeker, and his words fall with great weight. He is on the stump simply because he believes that the great masses of the people will be benefited by a return of republican rule. His arguments have the greater force on account of the fact that he speaks, not from hope of office reward for himself, but that his interest is purely for the good of the greatest number. Following Mr. Rasmus, Lake Wolfard, a young business man well known to the people of Pullman, spoke briefly on the silver question, showing conclusively that the republican idea of the free coinage of American silver was the most rational one. Moses Bull, nominee for representative, was introduced, but, owing to the lateness of the hour, only spoke a few minutes.

The Young Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet Saturday afternoon, Nov. 10th, at 3 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Marvin. The meeting will be in charge of Miss Mattie Dobbins. Subject, "Current Events in Corea." All are invited to bring items of interest concerning this country.

Prof. Balmer, of the college, made a trip to Crab creek, above Spokane, the early part of the week, after ducks, and as a result of his day's shooting brought home 53 of the toothsome birds.

Ira Allen returned from his hunting trip to North Dakota, last Sunday. He brought home a box of game as proof that he did not miss everything he shot at.

Peter Brown, who is the nominee for clerk on the republican ticket, is well known in Pullman, as he at one time attended the agricultural college here.

E. V. Thompson is in Colfax filling a vacancy in the O. R. & N. depot, and J. C. Calvy is doing Mr. Thompson's work in the depot here meantime.

Geo. Layman with a party left this week for a tour of inspection through the Nez Perce Indian reservation, which is shortly to be opened to settlement.

The college students had a merry time at the reception in the college hall on Hallowe'en.

Mrs. J. H. St. Lawrence was quite sick the early part of the week.

J. A. Wilkinson is contemplating going to Great Falls, Montana.

Attorney E. K. Hanna, of Colfax, is in the city.

L. J. Lindley, county clerk, was here yesterday.

Auditor J. M. Smith was here Monday.

D. M. Holt, of Wawawai is in town.

Next Monday night the campaign will close with a republican meeting, at which speakers will address the people on the issues that will be decided one way or the other on Tuesday. Moses Bull will speak for a while on needed legislation. Let everybody turn out and have a rousing rally.

Rev. Clark Davis, of Seattle, will deliver three lectures in Pullman, on Nov. 9, 10, and 11, in the Congregational church, under the auspices of the local I. O. G. T. lodge. The meetings will be enlivened by appropriate music. Admission free.

Geo. Ingraham, who commenced braving on the N. P. some weeks ago, had his right hand badly mashed a few days ago, and is now undergoing repairs in the hospital at Missoula, Mont.

Word has just been received that Role Towson, late of this city, has today been killed while at his duty as a brakeman on the N. P. road. No particulars have been obtained.

Messrs. Munroe and Baum have returned from their trip to Camas Prairie, where they went with a string of carriages, wagons, etc.

S. M. McCroskey, of Palouse, and J. M. McLean, of Oakesdale, were talking politics in town Monday.

Baptist Church.

The anniversary entertainment and reception held Monday evening at the church was a decided success. The program was very superior and the ladies outdid themselves in the matter of entertaining and serving. The committee having the matter in charge are very grateful to those who so kindly and efficiently assisted in the entertainment. The recitation by Miss Lanning was delivered impressively and well received. Aunt Samantha at the fair was happily personified by Miss Alice Barbee, and Miss Bryan's violin solo would have done credit to one much older in years and experience. The mixed quartet was fine, the professors were at their best, and Mrs. Spillman never sang prettier. Mr. and Mrs. Windus were greatly appreciated, as they always are in Pullman, and Mrs. Fulmer as accompanist was equal to every emergency; and the neat little sum of $26 was netted by the Ladies' Aid, for which they are profoundly thankful to their friends.

Church services Sunday, November 4, will be as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m., C. C. Fletcher, superintendent; preaching at 11 o'clock, followed by the observance of the Communion; Young peoples' devotion at 6:30 p. m.—topic "Sabbath Observance;" preaching by the pastor at 7:30. Topic for the evening sermon, "The Abrogation of the Jewish Sabbath." All are invited.

A FARMER SUICIDES.

David Hickey, a Farmer who Lived Below Winona, Took Poison.

Despondency over Business Conditions Supposed to be the Cause.

David Hickey, a rancher living in "The Rocks," below Winona, suicided with strychnine at an early hour Tuesday morning, says the Gazette. There is no clue to the cause for the rash act except a slight attack of despondency.

From Coroner Shaw, who returned from the scene of death Wednesday afternoon, and who made a careful investigation of the facts, the following particulars are learned:

Hickey had been away from home harvesting and had returned but a day or two before, seemingly in his usual cheerful mood. About an hour before daylight he arose from his bed and struck a light. His wife saw him reach to a shelf and take down a full and unopened bottle of strychnine. She called to him and asked what he was going to do with it. Hickey replied that he proposed to swallow it. Mrs. Hickey jumped from her bed crying, "For God's sake don't!" and grabbed her husband by the arm. The determined man struggled from her grasp and struck the bottle against a table breaking off the neck. Quickly he threw a portion of the fatal powder in his mouth, reached a mug of water near and washed it down his throat. The frantic woman struggled wildly with her husband. The drug was thrown about the room from the open bottle and a small portion of it entered Mrs. Hickey's mouth, which was wide open with screams. Four men were sleeping in the loft of the small cabin. They quickly appeared on the scene and were told by Mrs. Hickey what had happened. They attempted to pour some melted grease down the suicide's throat, but he fought them with a chair and escaped from the house into the jagged rocks surrounding the little dwelling. The men were barfoot and could not follow Hickey among the sharp rocks. In the delay caused by putting on their shoes Hickey got away among the rocks. For nearly half an hour they chased him about the rocks but failed to catch him, when Mrs. Hickey called that he had returned to the house. They rushed in and found the man in a spasm on the floor. They at once poured such antidotes as they could command down him, but it was too late and death soon followed.

By this time Mrs. Hickey was found to be in a dangerous condition as a result of the poison which had entered her mouth in her attempt to restrain her suicidal husband. Prompt attention saved her life.

Coroner Shaw could find no reason for the act of Mr. Hickey. Reports of domestic troubles seem to have no foundation in fact.

Fortnightly Club.

Friday afternoon, Oct. 26th, The Fortnightly Club met with Miss Maude Hungeate, an unusually large number of the members being in attendance. After the usual opening exercises, a paper entitled "Critique," was read by Miss Bessie Williams. In this paper Miss Williams gave an excellent critical dissertation of Shakespeare's King Lear.

The remaining exercises of the afternoon consisted in the discussion by all present of the following topics:

[a] Lear's Insanity—Was Lear insane at the opening of the play, or does he go all the way from mental soundness to entire loss of mind?

[b] Character of Kent.

[c] What is the function of the fool in King Lear?

[d] Was he boy or man? (Proofs of position taken.)

[e] Your idea of Gonril, physically, intellectually and morally.

[f] Does Shakespeare overstep the bounds of the natural—in human nature—in Gonril and Regan?

[g] Your idea of the aim and lesson of the play.

These discussions were perhaps the most interesting that have yet occurred, and were participated in freely in spite of the fact that the necessity of more reference books in our study of Shakespeare is very keenly felt.

After a musical selection, Mrs. Fulmer presented Current Topics. There being no business to be transacted the club then adjourned to meet November 9th, at 2:30 p. m., with Mrs. Geo. H. Watt, SECRETARY.

Methodist Church Notes.

The usual services will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday. Subject for morning service, "What is That in Thine Hand?" In the evening the pastor will speak on the subject of "Friendship, as illustrated in the characters of Damon and Pythias in classic literature, and David and Jonathan in the Sacred Writings." The young people of the town are especially invited to be present at the evening service.

Pullman boasts of two "Fortnightly" clubs. The dancing club of that name trespassing on ground already located when they appropriated the title by which the literary organization of ladies is known. The "Fortnightly Club," and the "Fortnightly Dancing Club" are separate organizations.

Alexander III is Dead.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—The angel of death in the shadow of whose pinions the autocrat of all Russia has been lying for many days, today beckoned, and the soul of the man who had in his hands the lives and destinies of millions, was borne away. Calmly and peacefully as a sleeping babe, he, who, by his slightest word could have plunged Europe into a war, the horrors of which would defy description, fell into a calm sleep which he feared not. He, though the head of a church whose members number over 70,000,000 persons, took its last rites from a lowly priest a few days before death claimed him from all his greatness.

At 2:15 o'clock p. m. the summons came, and a few hours later a thunderous booming of cannon at Livadia and St. Petersburg announced that the czar was dead, and that he who had been Grand Duke Nicholas, reigned in his stead.

On lightning's wings the news of Russia's loss spread throughout the world, and it is safe to say that everywhere the intelligence created sympathy for the family of him, who by his policy, had maintained the peace of Europe. From America came words of sympathy, for the dead ruler had always been a friend of the great republic of the west, and Americans have not forgotten how well his father's friendship sustained the north in the war of the rebellion.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 7 c.

WAS BORN FREE.

I was born free but soon became a slave to the weed called tobacco. For nearly 20 years I was its slave almost continually. I tried to quit but could not. Through the kindness of friends I was induced to try Dr. Matchette's infallible Indian Tobacco Antidote, which took away all desire for the filthy weed. I will be pleased to answer all inquiries. L. P. FARR, Pullman, Wash. For sale by Archie White.

Must Wheat Mixed with Wild Oats and other Foul Stuff be Cleared here before Shipping to Market in order to pass for Merchantable?

To settle this question fully, I will buy wheat so mixed with wild oats or other foul stuff, on any line of R. R. in Eastern Washington, to any amount, as merchantable, and pay the full market price at any and all times for same. All I ask is that the wheat be merchantable and the seller to allow the tare contained in same to be deducted. I have made complete arrangements for cleaning all the wheat mixed with foul stuff, free of charge to the farmer, at terminus. Realizing the condition of low price of wheat at the present time, and believing the farmer could ill afford to lose 1 1/2 cents per bushel or more for any new experiment in order to have his wheat grade merchantable or No. 1, I made these arrangements and am prepared to carry out the same to the full satisfaction of customers. I am also in market for barley, oats and flax seed at my old stand on the N. P. R. R. at this place. E. H. LETTEIMAN.
