

THE NEWS OF THE CITY.

Record of Happenings of a Week in Pullman.

What People are Doing and how They are Doing it.

The Spokane Quartette Concert company will give a concert in the auditorium of the college chapel next Saturday evening, April 2nd. This company consists of Misses Gilbert, Gilbert, Thompson and DeNeffe. The programme to be given is a very attractive one, consisting of violin, piano and vocal music, and recitations. Miss Gilbert's violin playing has received the highest praise in Spokane. Miss Thompson's beautiful mezzo-soprano voice shows the highest training, and her repertoire is one that will surely give pleasure. Miss Suzette DeNeffe has just returned from a two years' course in a conservatory, and has an entirely new selection of recitations. The price of admission has been fixed at 25 cts. No extra charge for reserved seats.

The Pullman military band, under the leadership of Prof. Harris, is making rapid progress, numbering in its membership excellent musical talent. The band should have the support and encouragement of every Pullmanite, a good band being an immense advantage to a city. An opportunity to show appreciation for the efforts of the boys will be given on Friday night, April 1st, when the band will give a dance in Odd Fellows hall, the proceeds to go for new music, paying for services of instructor, etc. By purchasing a ticket you will be aiding a worthy cause, and your interest in the band will be increased.

Earl Crane, G. P. McKinley and Geo. Snow, a committee from the University of Idaho athletic association, were in the city, Thursday evening, in consultation with a like committee from the W. A. C. athletic association. As a result of the deliberations of the two committees arrangements are now progressing for a field day, between the two institutions, at Moscow this spring.

The ladies of the Golden Rule society will give an "April Fool" social, at the Congregational church, on Friday evening, April 1st. An interesting feature of the evening will be a cake walk, the prize to be an elegant cake. Refreshments will be served during the evening. Admission will be 10 cents, and everybody is invited.

Miss Suzette DeNeffe, the reader of the Spokane Quartette Concert company, has been greeted by rounds of applause wherever she has appeared. She is not a stranger to many students of the college, and her friends will indeed be glad to have this opportunity of hearing her.

For the toilet, for the bath, and for the laundry go to Bragg & Reed and get their good soaps and washing powders. They make life easy.

A. C. Butcher, ex-county superintendent of schools, has purchased a farm adjoining town, and will build thereon this spring.

Have you tried that New Orleans baking molasses and sorghum? Fifty and 60 cents per gallon at Bragg & Reed's.

Don't fail to hear the Spokane Quartette concert company at the college auditorium next Saturday evening.

Dick Smith returned Thursday from his extended visit east. Contrary to expectations he came alone.

Doty-Lanning.

At the residence of the bride's parents, at high noon, Wednesday, March 23rd, Rev. C. A. Perkins performed the ceremony that united the lives and fortunes of Miss Elva Lanning, of this city, and W. W. Doty, of Roseland, B. C.

The bride, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lanning, pioneer residents of Pullman, was dressed in a costume of pearl gray, trimmed with white, and looked winsome and sweet, a pretty bride of whom the manly young groom was justly proud. The groom wore the usual black.

After the ceremony the guests sat down to a well arranged wedding dinner, the bride and groom leaving at 2:20 o'clock for Latah, where they made a short visit to Mr. Doty's parents, continuing their journey on to Roseland, where they will make their future home, Mr. Doty being in charge of the pumping station of the LeRoi mine.

Miss Lanning was a social favorite in Pullman, having lived here from childhood, and her loss to the community will cause genuine regret, and the best wishes of all will follow her to her new home. The groom was formerly a student of the agricultural college, being one of the most popular young men in the institution.

The wedding ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. W. O. Booth, Misses Minnie Hill, Bay Wallis, Nora Branham, Orpha Booth, and Messrs. Ira Allen, Boyd Hamilton, Ed. Mashburn, Will Hill and Earle Booth.

Moscow and Colfax have passed ordinances requiring bowling alleys to pay licenses, and regulating the hours of closing, the same as billiard halls.

The annual school of dairying, which has been in session at the college since January 12th, closed Wednesday, after a most successful term of ten weeks.

Yesterday was Arbor day, but it was not a very propitious one for the planting of trees and shrubbery. However, Arbor day is not the only day on which trees can be planted out, and they will grow just as well if put out on any other day.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather last Saturday evening, the piano recital by pupils of Miss Bolster, at the college, was well attended. The entertainment was a musical success, well worthy the braving of the elements to hear.

Rev. J. C. Bryan, who spent last summer with his brother, Pres. E. A. Bryan, in this city, died at San Diego, Cal., last Sunday. The deceased made many friends during his visit in Pullman, and his untimely death is sincerely mourned.

W. A. C. DEBATORS WON.

Agricultural College Boys Win from the U. of I.

Special Train Carries Many Pullman People to Moscow.

The representatives of the Columbian society, of the college, won a signal success in the debate with the U. of I. representatives, at Moscow, last Monday night. A large delegation of Pullman people attended the debate, a special train running for their benefit, this being the first inter-collegiate debate to take place in the northwest.

The exercises were held in the university assembly hall, at Moscow, and so great was the crowd that the hall could not hold all.

President Glenn P. McKinley, of the Salmagundi Club, opened the program with a short introductory speech, stating the history and objects of the debate, and extending a cordial welcome to the visitors. Dr. Watkins acted as presiding officer of the debate, which was on the question, "Resolved, that capital punishment ought not to be abolished." The Pullman representatives, A. T. Wells, Joe Winston and J. H. Jones, defended the affirmative, while the negative was represented by W. E. Stillinger, M. R. Hattabaugh and Edward Smith. Each speaker was allowed 16 minutes, Wells dividing his time and closing the debate. The general character of the debate was of a high order. The audience was enthusiastic and in the best of spirits. The judges, Professor S. M. McCroskey of Palouse, Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Mathews of Colfax, and Professor J. C. Muerman of Moscow awarded the debate to Pullman.

The interval between the close of the debate and the announcement of the award was spent in singing college songs. At the close an informal spread was tendered the visitors.

Red Men in Pullman.

War whoops, war clubs, scalping knives, and other Indian paraphernalia so conspicuously displayed on our streets last Saturday evening would have given a stranger the impression that the city was about to be captured by some of Chief Moses' followers. The occasion for all the display of war paint, however, was the organization of Blackhawk Tribe, No. 21, of the Improved Order of Red Men, about forty braves being present from Colfax to assist in getting the tribe well started.

At eight o'clock the visiting Red Men paraded the streets in all their splendor of red paint and feathers. Later, at Mott's hall, the Colfax team assisted Blackhawk tribe into being, 35 charter members being present. The officers installed were as follows:

- C. G. Raby, sachem.
  - A. A. Miller, prophet.
  - C. N. Gaddis, senior sagamore.
  - S. Stroop, junior sagamore.
  - J. Bach, chief of records.
  - Geo. Reed, keeper of wampum.
- After the work of the order, the tribe took possession of Ross' restaurant, and supper was next on the program.

The indications are that those neighborly visits of our friend from near Colfax will cause a deficiency in Pullman's population in the near future. The pen may be more mighty than the sword, but it has to succumb when Cupid attacks with his dart.

Grand Jury at Work.

The grand jury summoned by the superior court is now at its labors in Colfax, and is taking evidence in the lynching case. The 13 members of the jury are B. F. Totten, a Cumberland Presbyterian preacher and farmer, living near Steptoe butte; H. L. Taton, a merchant of Rosalia; B. F. Tantfest, a farmer living near Farmington; G. C. Tinning, conductor on the Northern Pacific branch from Belmont to Farmington; J. C. Stratton, a farmer from near Pullman; W. B. Pendell, a farmer and former county assessor; Thomas W. Savage, a farmer living near Pullman; Andy Anderson, a Pullman blacksmith; Ezra Monlux, a farmer living near Pullman; William Hughes, a farmer living near Thornton; R. E. Burns, a farmer living near Steptoe butte; R. B. Steel, a farmer living near Belmont; Charles Miller, of Rock lake, a farmer and stock grower.

Judge McDonald appointed G. C. Tinning foreman, and Charles Miller clerk.

The first witness called by the jury was Deputy Sheriff Treff, who was jailer at the time of the lynching. He was in the jury room nearly two hours. Deputy Sheriff Matlock was the second witness called.

Sheriff Sims was the next witness, and he was followed by Dr. J. H. Carper of Farmington, chairman of the county central committee of the populist party; Jacob Klein, also of Farmington; Archie McGilvery, now awaiting the result of an appeal to the supreme court on a conviction for attempted incest, and Dr. H. P. Harrington, another prisoner awaiting trial on a charge of bank robbery, were all examined.

Students to Orate.

The second annual contest of the W. A. C. oratorical association will be held at the college auditorium next Monday evening. There will be six contestants this year, and the winner will represent the college in the inter-collegiate contest, the place for the holding of which has not yet been decided upon. Besides the honor of representing the college in the inter-collegiate contest, there are money prizes, aggregating $25 for the winners of first and second places.

In the list of contestants there is only one lady, Miss Daisy Busbey, and five gentlemen, Messrs. Nalder, Outman, Hunting, Totten and Wells. The program of orations will be interspersed with numerous musical selections. A general admission, for the benefit of the association, of 25 cts., will be charged. Reserved seats, 35 cts.

THE PASSING OF LEONARD.

Paid the Penalty for the Killing of Malquist.

Hung by the Neck at Colfax Yesterday Afternoon.

John Leonard, who killed old Jacob Malquist in July, 1896, was hanged in the jail yard at Colfax, yesterday, at 1:25 o'clock, the execution passing off as quietly and successfully as such affairs can.

On the scaffold Leonard was cooler than many had thought he would be, although the morphine administered to him had no doubt the effect of deadening his sensibilities. He walked up the scaffold stairs unaided, but could not read a statement he had prepared, it being read by the priest who comforted him in his final hour. In his statement Leonard reiterated the claim that the killing was in self defence, and that he was not guilty of premeditated murder.

The trap was sprung at 1:25 o'clock, and life seemed to leave the body at the fall, there being not even a quiver of the muscles after the fall. The heart continued to beat for a few minutes, but in 14 minutes the physicians pronounced life extinct, and the body was cut down; and the first legal hanging in the history of Whitman county, with its long catalogue of murders, had taken place.
