PULLMAN, WASHINGTON, SATURDAY, DEC. 31, 1898.

NUMBER 11

THE NEWS OF THE CITY.

Record of Happenings of a Week in Pullman.

What People are Doing and how They are Doing it.

—This morning while J. R. Moys, Lee Webb and Mr. Valk were at work on the Presbyterian church, the scaffolding on which they were standing gave way, precipitating them to the ground, a distance of about 18 feet. The two latter escaped with a few bruises, but Mr. Moys was quite seriously injured, and for a while it was reported that he would not recover, but just as we go to press we learn that he will be all right in a few days.

—A number of boys were shooting pigeons around the warehouses Tuesday, using small calibre rifles, when an accidental discharge of a "22" sent a bullet through the calf of the left leg of Casper Bach. The wound is quite painful, but not serious, the bullet having passed through the leg without injuring the bone.

—Ralph Bendix, representing Mark F. Jones & Sons, Spokane, the largest piano and music house in Washington, is stopping at the Palace hotel. He will remain in Pullman a week or more.

—New Years day will be celebrated by a number of our local sportsmen in breaking clay targets. Several of Moscow's shooters will be present, and some fine sport is expected.

—Sunday evening, in the Congregational church, Rev. H. C. Mason will speak on "The Graves of 1898—the Record of the Illustrious Dead."

—Miss Nettie Lobaugh was the fortunate young lady to hold the ticket that drew the handsome upright piano given away by Blackman Bros. & Co.

Stransky steel enamelled ware imported for and sold in Pullman, Wash., exclusively by L. J. Lindley. Every piece warranted for five years.

—A second edition of winter has struck the country again this week, and a general freeze-up and several inches of snow resulted.

Walnuts, almonds, Brazil nuts, filberts, pecans, chestnuts, peanuts, coconuts and pine nuts are in stock at the Post Office Store.

Remember that Carl King's is the place to go to get your silverware. Rogers Bros' 1847, best in the world at lowest prices.

—The population was increased Monday by the arrival of a daughter in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Henry.

—Miss Lelia Hill is spending a few days at Genesee, the guest of Miss Cora McIntyre.

Lisk's warranted tinware at Lindley's. Every piece warranted not to rust.

—H. W. Price and W. L. Lyon made a business trip to Spokane this week.

—W. A. Struppeler, postmaster at Uniontown, was in the city Wednesday.

—The public school will open Monday, after the holiday vacation. Leave orders at Jackson's for wood and coal. A. H. STONE.

—Don Ryrie, of Moscow, was a visitor in Pullman today.

—The college will reopen next Tuesday.

Hogan's Alley.

Gilmore & Leonard's "Hogan's Alley" company, a farce comedy in three acts and 150 laughs, will be the next attraction at the auditorium, Monday, January 9th. "Hogan's Alley" was constructed especially for the fun loving public, its plot being only to please, there being not a dry moment during its action, and fun reigns supreme from the rising to the falling of the curtain. Each character being represented truthfully and not overdrawn.

The New York World has spoken of it as being a comedy that has never yet been equalled, and the Yellow Kid plays have many important pranks which keeps the audience in the best of humor—all the music, songs and dances being the very latest, and very catchy and those desirous of spending a pleasant evening should not fail to secure seats at once.

Christmas Pigeon Shoot.

Prof. Balmer entertained a number of his friends at his annual pigeon shoot last Monday, and the afternoon was most pleasantly passed by the lovers of the gun who participated. The score was as follows, the figure "1" representing a bird killed with one barrel; "2" the use of both barrels, while a cipher stands for a pigeon that escaped the storm of lead unhurt:

Prof. Balmer.....	221211122-9
W. G. Emery.....	222111211-9
Ira Allen.....	221221102-8
Ed Eastman.....	211021111-8

H. Chambers.....	121204120-7
W. L. Lyon.....	200001111-5

—E. L. Phelps died Tuesday at Vineland of congestion of the brain after only a few days' sickness. The deceased moved to Vineland only recently from Pullman. He had been working on the company's ditch and had purchased a small tract of land for his wife and four children. The family were left in somewhat reduced circumstances, but kind friends came to their aid with sympathy and substantial assistance.—Lewiston Tribune.

Parties contemplating purchasing a piano should consult Ralph Bendix, at the Palace Hotel, who represents Mark F. Jones & Sons, of Spokane. This firm carries the largest and best stock of pianos in Spokane. They have Knabe, Fischer, Hardman, Ludwig and other well known pianos to select from.

—There will be another coyote drive on Monday, Jan. 2nd. Everyone is invited to come to V. L. Higgins, on Union Flat, early Monday morning. A basket dinner will be in readiness for all, and a hot time is guaranteed.

Buy your coal of J. O. Courtright, Roslyn, and Diamond coal constantly on hand; also have car of Rock Spring coal now ordered. Orders given to Fred Gelwick, or any drayman, will be promptly delivered.

Don't waste your money buying cheap, trashy goods, but go to Bragg & Reed and get the best in the market. Good goods at reasonable prices is their motto.

Did you try the Chase & Sanborn coffee at Bragg & Reed's? The best in the market. Once tried always used.

Buy your groceries of Bragg & Reed. You will get full value for your money every time.

If you are going to buy a watch, visit King. He keeps a nice line, at prices that are right.

Miss Brown, dressmaker, will be found at her home, on Paradise St., each Wednesday.

BEST SCHOOL IN THE STATE

So Says King County Representative of the W. A. C.

Seattle Man's Report of a Visit to the College.

Representative-elect Pratt, of Seattle, who is also an editor of the Post Intelligencer, recently visited the agricultural college in company with other members-elect of the state legislature, and his views on that institution were given the "P.-I." as follows:

"Another thing Whitman county and its sister counties are deeply interested in is the Washington Agricultural college. They are proud of it and they have reason to be. It is a magnificent institution, notwithstanding its shabby buildings and paltry maintenance appropriation. The appointment of President Graves as president of the state university holds out the hope that its lost honors will be recovered, but for the moment the eastern institution is superior to the western. Within its scope its achievements have been greater and its work is on an equally substantial foundation.

"The number of pupils enrolled for this year is 256, and in addition to this the winter school for farmers enrolled 186. The number of students enrolled in the fall of 1898 was only 23. Every department is not only overcrowded, but the classes have to be held in every room, and even then they have to take turns. The president's private office has thus to be surrendered during a part of each day. The departments, particularly that of veterinary work, the lectures have to be given in a little room which is already more than comfortably filled with pathological specimens, and there is no place where operations can be performed in the presence of the class.

"In November, 1897, Ferry hall, the boy's dormitory, was consumed by fire, with all its contents. The students lost all their books and other effects, aggregating about $5000, and their loss would have been very serious but for the general help rendered by the public. The ruins still stand, there being no provision for rebuilding. That building, with others, had been insured by the board of regents in 1893, as then required by law, but the state auditor, acting on the advice of the attorney general, refused to audit the bill for the payment of the premium, and the board was compelled to cancel the policy. The reason given was that it was the policy of the administration to carry all its own insurance, the cost of insuring all state buildings being very large. Whether that was a wise policy or not, the fact remains that the dormitory was destroyed, and the boys are scattered all over the town. This is not only inconvenient but incompatible with the discipline and supervision which parents have a right to expect for sons sent from home to complete their education. The building cost $34,000, and the contents were worth about $6000 more. The legislature will be asked for an appropriation sufficient to rebuild it.

"The institution is threatened with another danger. Most valuable scientific instruments and even more valuable entomological specimens, are housed in a building which would burn like a match box if it once caught fire. These valuables should be kept in a much more substantial structure. Such a building could also be adapted for the use of classes, and so relieve the main building from the tremendous pressure now bearing upon it. The entomological collection is not for abstrusely scientific purposes. Its main object is to secure specimens of insects detrimental to fruits, and also those which are the enemies of the pests. This is one of the most valuable objects of the institution, and the result is an evidence of marvelous industry and intelligent observation."

Money in Chickens.

There's money in chickens when eggs are 35 cts. per doz. W. E. Jaeger has pullets that commenced laying at five months of age, and continue during the cold weather. These chickens were raised from imported, prize winning, white leghorn stock, the best breed for winter layers in the world. 814

THE BATTLESHIP OREGON

Has made more kinds of a record for the United States navy in its 18,000 miles trip than was ever dreamed of. Judging from the demand for it, that little 80-page, vest pocket size, army and navy book just published by the Northern Pacific passenger department at St. Paul in large numbers from every part of the United States. This is a tribute to wide advertising as well as to the enterprise of the company and the value of the book. Mr. Chas. F. Fee, the general passenger agent at St. Paul, Minn., will send the book upon receipt of ten cents.

AN ARMY AND NAVY

Memorandum book is what you have been wanting. The Northern Pacific has it. It contains cut of the Maine, map of Cuba, list of U. S. and Spanish naval vessels, interior drawings of a battle ship, illustrations of U. S. and Spanish battle ships, glossary of army and navy words, table of distances, commanders of U. S. ships and army corps, list of regiments and their commanders and other information very useful and valuable at this time. The book fits the vest pocket and is up to date. Send Chas. F. Fee, G. P. A., N. P. Ry., St. Paul, Minn., ten cents and the book is yours.

Fraternal Union of America.

This order, represented by Dep. Pres. W. G. Emery, formerly of Pullman, is now being organized here. This is a fraternal insurance order, carrying a reserve fund, and a member of both the National Fraternal Congress and American Fraternal Congress, and has many features that are well worthy the consideration of everyone interested in life insurance. The contract it makes with the policy holders is simple and businesslike, and approaches more nearly the plans of the old line companies than any other order. Ladies as well as gentlemen are eligible as policy holders in this order.

SUMMONS.

P. O. Address—Colfax, Whitman County, Wash.

DECAPITATED BY CARS.

N. P. Conductor Killed by his Train Today.

Fell Under a Car, and was Decapitated.

Another sad accident, resulting in the death of an N. P. railway employee, has today happened in the N. P. yards in this city. H. L. Gilbert, conductor on the Pullman-Genesee train, being instantly killed by falling under a car of his own train.

At about eleven o'clock Gilbert's train was switching in the N. P. yards, a car loaded with wood being shot in on a track near the Farmer's warehouse. Gilbert was on the front end of the car to set the brakes, when his foot slipped, and he was thrown on the track in front of the moving car. The wheels of the car entirely severed the unfortunate man's head from the body, the right arm also being cut off.

The home of the deceased was at Spokane, but he had been employed on the branch from here for some time. He was from 55 to 60 years of age, a brother of Superintendent Gilbert, and one of his sons, Captain Gilbert, late of Spokane, was traveling on the train with him at the time of the accident.
