THE NEWS OF A WEEK

RECORD OF LOCAL EVENTS

Rude Pfeil was adding enthusiasm to the citizens Fourth of July meeting last Thursday evening by firing fire crackers, when he met with a most painful accident. He had lighted a big ten-inch cracker, but thinking the fuse was not burning, held the cracker in his hand. The fuse was still at work, however, and the cracker exploded close to Rude's face, cutting and burning it quite seriously, one eye also being considerably damaged. Dr. Hall dressed the wounds, and while his patient has suffered a good deal of pain, thinks time will repair all damages done, and that the eyesight will not be impaired.

Graduating Exercises.

The fourth annual graduating exercises of the Pullman public schools were held in the opera house, last night, a class of twelve graduating, the twelve being Olive Akin, Karl Allen, A. J. Chambers, Ronald E. Chapman, Lillie Christian, Fred Clemens, Edmond Cromwell, Forrest Grimes, Amanda Gulberg, Ira C. Lobaugh, Lee Palmerston and Roy Smith.

The house was crowded with friends of the young people who were participating in the exercises that marked the completion of the prescribed course in the public school and they showered flowers and plaudits upon the young graduates.

After invocation of divine blessing by Dr. W. G. M. Hays, Miss Blanche Baum, of the class of '98, rendered a piano solo, "Titania," by Wely, followed by a Delsarte drill by a class of little people. Edmond Cromwell delivered the salutatory, and Miss Amanda Gulberg read the class history, following which Mrs. Mason sang De Koven's "Winter Lullaby." The class prophet, Karl Allen, then foretold the futures of his classmates, and the class poem was read by its author, Miss Olive Akin. Fred Clemens was valedictorian, speaking for his class the words of farewell from public school life. After a piano solo, "LeDernier Sourire," by Mrs. Harvey, an address to the class was delivered by Rev. H. C. Mason. Miss Audrey Kayler, '99, executed a piano solo, the "Fifth Nocturne," after which twelve diplomas were placed in the hands of as many anxious and waiting graduates.

Will Celebrate the Fourth.

Pullman will celebrate the Fourth! On July 4th, 1900, the great American eagle, the bird that has done such good service on past celebrations in this city, will be given the liberty of the town, and he will scream as he never screamed before.

At a meeting Thursday evening, attended by many of the business men of the city, it was unanimously decided that this was Pullman's year to celebrate, and the movement was at once started off in good shape. R. B. Bragg was chairman of the citizens' meeting, and L. B. Miller secretary, and after a general discussion regarding a celebration, committees were appointed to attend to preliminary arrangements. Of course, next to enthusiasm, money is the all necessary quantity, and J. F. Hill reported that the various business houses had already pledged liberally of funds, and he thought there would be no great difficulty in making the amount sufficient for a rousing celebration. J. F. Hill, J. M. Palmerton and D. F. Staley were appointed to look after the financial end of the celebration, and it is hoped that our people will make liberal response to their call, for without the proper funds the celebration can not be a success. The general arrangements for the celebration were placed in the hands of an executive committee composed of Wilford Allen, J. D. Klepper, Chas. Olmsted, A. B. Baker and Stewart Small, which committee is now at work on the various details.

The engaging of speakers will be looked after by T. T. Davis, J. W. Stearns and Prof. Waller, while the providing of music is in the hands of S. A. Small, D. House and Buckley. Messrs. Rose, Waters and Jesse Burgan will see that the speakers' stand, etc., are properly decorated, and K. P. Allen was appointed to see that the business houses do a good job of decorating. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday evening, when other committees will be appointed, and the work of arranging for the celebration will be put under full headway.

It seems to be the sentiment of the most of the business men that we make three days of it this year, making a rousing patriotic celebration on the Fourth, with all the speeches, fire works and other trimmings, following it up with two days of contests between speedy horses, giving the fast horses of Eastern Washington and Idaho a chance to run for liberal purses, and furnish good sport for lovers of horse races.

You are requested to come to the city hall next Tuesday evening and lend your voice and your experience in planning Pullman's Glorious Fourth.
