The American citizen is proud of his political liberty, and jealous of his rights as an elector. Such an act as that perpetrated by the "authorities" last Thursday night strikes at the very foundation of that liberty, and makes of voters but pawns to be played at the pleasure of some manipulator of the game of political checkers. It becomes a government by the bosses instead of a government by the people. But the mayor has time and again voiced the sentiment of representative government, and decried political jobbery and chicanery, and the rank and file look to him to rise to the occasion and place the stamp of his disapproval upon a measure so full of iniquity as the ordinance passed by the council last Thursday night. The city of Pullman and the state of Washington are watching Mayor Gray, ready to applaud his championing of the cause of the people, and we believe he is broad enough and strong enough to meet the issue and veto the ordinance.

Caught in his own trap, the News editor takes a most characteristic attitude, and tries to shift blame upon a woman, and this in face of the fact that only a short time before he told the president of the local W. C. T. U. that he had no fault to find with the management of the reading room. And then he tries by telling half a truth to fool the public. He says: "We have paid every pledge we ever made to its maintenance just as promptly as the collector came after it." But the reader will note that he fails to say that he told the collector to stop coming "after it" while two payments on the pledge were still due. Association with the booze bunch, and the taste of the guarantee have had a distorting effect upon the News man's conception of things.

That Pullman should be torn from center to circumference because of the saloon question does not speak well, and should impress upon every voter the necessity of doing away with the cause of this constant irritation. Pullman's factional differences will largely disappear with the saloon. This being true, we can not afford to let the saloon house room.

The college will open next Wednesday, with the biggest enrollment and the brightest outlook in its history. Already many students are on hand getting located, and rooms and houses are in big demand. Houses can not be built fast enough to meet the requirements.

Whitman county's fair, to open Oct. 7th, will undoubtedly be the biggest and most successful ever held, one of the big features being the exhibits to be made by the various ranges.

A NEIGHBOR'S OPINION.

Says the Colton News-Letter: "The soft answer that turneth away wrath should be applied by the newspapers of Pullman, though we are of the opinion that this method would prevail were it not for little Johnny trying to hide behind the bung-hole of a whiskey barrel."

After a number of years of severed athletic relations, the State College and U. of W. football teams will play again this year, the game being scheduled for November 21st, at Seattle.

OF INTEREST TO WHEAT MEN.

Gatherings of interest to eastern Washington wheat growers are to be held in Tacoma and Seattle this week. The state grain commission will hold two meetings, one in Tacoma on Tuesday and the other in Seattle on Wednesday. The prevailing grades of wheat will be considered and suggestions for changes on the part of farmers, dealers, exporters and flouring mills discussed, says a coast report. The gathering in Tacoma will be the regular annual meeting, while that in Seattle will be of a special nature, called for the purpose of hearing complaints by Seattle flouring mills and wheat dealers in reference to the prevailing custom of the state grain officials in grading several varieties of new wheat that in recent years east side farmers have been raising in increasing quantities.

These varieties consist of Gold Coin, Forty Fold, Fox Tail and several kinds of hybrids. The state grain department has been grading them for the most part as Bluestem, as an easy method for steering clear of a multiplicity of wheat grades. Seattle dealers are objecting to this and want the new varieties placed in a class by themselves or else have them placed in the club grades. At any rate they do not want them classed as Bluestem, which is the prime wheat of the northwest.

State Grain Inspector Arrasmith, who is now traveling over the wheat districts of eastern Washington, notified the state grain headquarters at Seattle that there is much wet weather in the wheat belt of the state and that quantities of grain have been damaged and much of it ruined. Up to Thursday of last week there was a spell of nearly ten days of real dry weather all over eastern Washington.

H. Whittaker, of Oakland, California, who is visiting at the Batty ranch at Wawawai, was in the city Thursday. While on the street Mr. Whittaker and F. D. Gelwick "discovered" each other, they having been comrades in the wild and woolly days thirty years ago when the west was new. One of the amusing reminiscences of the early days told by the two men was of a bear hunt in which they indulged 29 years ago, the bear, to judge from their narrative, being the least frightened of the bunch, the fight being accountable for that scared look that has stayed with Fred all these 29 years.

W. F. M. Ricketts has returned from British Columbia, where he has been developing a mining proposition for several months past. He reports that a heavy snow fell in the Alberta country last week, a foot to fifteen inches covering the Northern country, mashing the uncut grain flat to the earth. Not much over 25 per cent of the grain had yet been cut, and the loss will be immense. Some of the grain that was uncut can be mowed and a part of it saved for fodder.

Sino Shearer died at his home in this city today, and the funeral services will be held tomorrow, Sunday, at two o'clock, from the Methodist church. The deceased was 77 years and 7 months of age, and was a pioneer of this vicinity. Obituary next week.

There is joy in the State College football camp, Joe Halm having just announced that he would return to college, and that he will be here to take up the work with the squad next week. When Halm left last June, it was expected that he would not return.

The house numbers are being put up on many Pullman residences. You can get the proper numbers by calling on the city clerk and making payment of the 25c fee. If the city puts the numbers up, it will cost you just double that amount.

A fire alarm was turned in yesterday from L. M. Ringer's house on the south limits of the town. A fire had become started in some manner under the house, but it was extinguished before the arrival of the fire department, no damage resulting.

Prof. Kimbrough will be here next Tuesday to take up his old duties at the college, having decided to return to Pullman rather than stay in Tacoma, his mother's health being much better here.

The lowest bid received by the state board of control for the new library building was $142,000, or $22,000 more than the appropriation made for the legislature for the building. No bid has yet been accepted.

Oscar Hill is advertising his residence property on State street for sale, having decided to go to Spokane to locate. He will sell the place either furnished or unfurnished.

The W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. Emerson Sept. 10th. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Damman Tuesday, Sept. 24, at three o'clock.

The Herald has the best equipped establishment in the city for turning out sale bills, and the prices charged are not in the nature of a hold-up.

Robert E. Gay will serve as steward at the college dining hall during the next year.

FOR SALE—Residence property on State street, one block from Main street, consisting of two lots, modern 7 room house, barn, fruit trees, chicken house, etc. Will sell house furnished or unfurnished. Enquire at house, or of Oscar Hill, 52.

TWIN FALLS LAND.

Any one desirous of locating on the North Side Twin Falls project, in the big drawing October 1st, 1907, send a power of attorney, together with a payment of $3.25 per acre to Woods, Evans and Thomas, of Twin Falls, Idaho, and we will locate you as we have a first class graded list of land that is to be thrown open on that date.

T. J. Woods is a graduate of the Washington State College, at Pullman, and C. D. Thomas was formerly the representative of the state land board on the south side.

Prices for locating—$25 for forty acres and 50c per acre for any amount over forty acres.

Very truly yours,
Woods, Evans & Thomas.

MONEY TO LOAN.

The Pullman Savings & Loan Association has money to loan on improved city property. The principal can be repaid in small monthly payments, making the "building and loan" plan a desirable one for the person having a modest income. The entire loan can be repaid at any time without a bonus. The same money you are now paying for rent will, in a few years, if applied to Building and Loan stock, purchase for you a home. This association has been in operation nearly five years and has assisted in building forty dwelling houses in Pullman. Apply to any officer for details of our plan.
