Harvest Time

Very clearly demonstrates the advantages of a checking account with this bank. A check-book is one of the most useful agricultural implements to be found in the Palouse wheat fields. Do not deny yourself the convenience of a bank account during harvest. It is easy to make change with a check-book.

Pullman and Vicinity

—Milo Hubbard is in the city.

—A. B. Baker transacted business at the county seat Monday.

—Senator R. C. McCroskey was down from Garfield yesterday.

—W. D. Outman, of Portland, was in the city election day.

—Mrs. M. E. Kitchen visited friends at Moscow the early part of the week.

—Commissioner Rupy is at Colfax attending a meeting of the county commissioners.

—J. C. Lawrence, member of the state railway commission, was a visitor in the city last Saturday.

—Miss Edna Kennedy, of Colfax, spent a few days the early part of the week with relatives in Pullman.

—President Bryan went to Cheney Wednesday to deliver the address at the opening of the state normal school.

—Chas. Bul, a pioneer in the tinning and plumbing business in Pullman, but of late located at Coeur d'Alene, has been in the city the past few days.

—Miss E. Deane Smith has opened an art studio at Colfax, where she will instruct classes on Tuesdays and Fridays.

—B. Atherton, who has been living near Walla Walla the past year, will probably return to Pullman next month and again engage in farming on the farm south of town.

—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reaney, who have been visiting in Pullman for a couple of weeks past, will leave tomorrow for their home at Gordon, Wash.

—Clyde Gill is here from Sacramento, Cal., and will visit with his parents and friends for a couple of weeks. Mrs. Gill and the baby have been here for some time.

—A. K. Finley has just purchased an elegant forty horse power Rambler touring car through the agency of the Pullman Implement Co., and his Endicott farms are now only a short distance from Pullman.

—Marriage licenses have been issued by the county auditor this week to T. F. Haley and Geneva Warfield, and S. N. Hibbard and Elizabeth Hicks, all giving Pullman as their place of residence.

—H. F. Blanchard and his mother, Mrs. H. L. Blanchard of Hadlock, are in the city, but Mr. Blanchard will likely leave today for his home in California accompanied by his little daughter, Bernadine.

—A. A. Elmore and wife returned Wednesday from Fort Worth, Texas, where they attended the meeting of the national convention of the Farmers' Union. It is expected that the national convention will be held in Walla Walla next year.

—The hunting party that left some four weeks ago for the Bitterroots under the guidance of Grant Clark, returned last night, not remaining in the wilds as long as they had expected to. No big game was bagged, as the hunting season does not open till September 15th.

—J. L. Ashlock, who has been in charge of the campaign of M. E. Hay, with headquarters at Seattle, during the campaign that closed with the primary election Tuesday, in which Mr. Hay was probably successful, returned to this city Wednesday to again enter upon his work at the college.

—K. W. Stouder, of the veterinary department of the State College, left yesterday for Manhattan, Kansas, where he will be in charge of the department of veterinary science at the Kansas agricultural college. Mr. Stouder has been in Pullman for several years, occupying the position of assistant professor.

—Marion Spawr and wife, Claude Enos and Karl Allen autoed over to the Spawr ranch near Endicott the first of the week, and put in a day watching the prairie chickens fly. The Endicott roads are not in good shape for automobiling, the dust being hub deep, and hot boxes melted the rabbit metal out of the engine, so that the machine was stored in a barn and the party returned to Pullman by the slow but sure O. R. & N.

New Instructor in English Literature

Dr. Allison Gaw, of Philadelphia, who was recently elected to succeed Professor Calkins as Assistant Professor of English Literature in the State College, is expected to arrive in Pullman in a week. Dr. Gaw is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania (1907) and was for five years professor of English in Temple University, Philadelphia. His doctor's dissertation on Tuke's tragic comedy "The Adventures of Five Hours," will be published by the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Gaw comes with the highest recommendations for scholarship and successful teaching, and it is expected that he will be a very valuable addition to the State College faculty and to the department with which he is to be connected.

Football on Horseback.

Of the many novel and interesting features with Buffalo Bill's Wild West, football on horseback is probably the most unique form of entertainment yet introduced. One can hardly believe that the art of horse training has been perfected to such an extent that a game of football can be played by men on horseback, but that such is really the case will be proved by the Wild West show.

The big battle scenes will introduce a hundred full-blooded Indians, troops of cavalry and artillery, and appearing in every scene, Col. Wm. F. Cody, the original and only Buffalo Bill, will ride at the head of his cavalcade of horsemen, directing each performance and seeing personally to every detail of the entertainment.

There is no other form of amusement which affords so much diversity as does the Wild West performance. Of course, horsemanship is the leading characteristic of the exhibition, but there is enough of open air melodrama and pictures of historic scenes to lend a diversity which stamps the Buffalo Bill Wild West as a distinctive institution, alone in its class and in a class unto itself. Will exhibit at Colfax, Tuesday, Sept. 5th.

WANTED—To rent a ranch. W. M. Porter, Pullman, Wash.

—Isaac Buckley has returned to Pullman from Coeur d'Alene and is singing for the Crystal theater.

—Prof. H. T. French of the University of Idaho, and Theo. Reed were here from Moscow Monday attending the meeting of the executive committee of the Inland Registered Stock Breeders' Association.

—Prof. E. E. Elliott, who has been the head of the department of agriculture of the State College, has resigned his position here and will become the head of the department at the University of Idaho at Moscow.

—Lee Willard and his company, who made a decided hit in Pullman last season, will appear at the auditorium next Tuesday evening in Sol Smith Russell's great comedy, "A Poor Relation."

ORGAN FOR SALE—Splendid condition, beautiful walnut case with plate glass mirror. Better in every way than a new organ of recent make. Was $150 organ and has had careful usage. Can be seen at Waters' Furniture Store. Mrs. Bean. 5113

Anyone having room or board for girls or wanting a girl to work for her room and board will help the Y. W. C. A. by notifying Mariel Fulmer, chairman of the Employment Committee.

M. J. Costello, assistant traffic manager of the Great Northern railroad western lines, states that Otto Ringling will not sue for $22,000 for damages sustained to his circus train at Port Kells on August 16.

—The state appropriation of $50,000 to pay bounties on coyote scalps has been exhausted, and County Auditor Duncan announces that until a new appropriation is made, no more bounties will be paid.

Marlin

WHETHER you live in the city or country, you'll find no .22 calibre repeating rifle like the Marlin Model 1897. For the city man it is a perfect companion for the vacation or outing trip. It's light, takes down and packs in a small space. The ammunition is inexpensive. The gun can be used with .22 shorts for target and is equally capable of handling .22 long or long-rifle cartridges without change of mechanism.

On the farm the rifle is a necessity. The short cartridge is sufficient for sparrows, squirrels and small game; and the long-rifle cartridge makes the Marlin Model '97 a distinctive weapon for geese, foxes, hawks, etc. up to 200 yards.

The "Marlin Book" of 126 pages, with handsome art cover, is jam full of up-to-date information for all gun-lovers and gives full description of all Marlin repeaters. It's FREE for 3 stamps postage.
