EWARTSVILLE

Miss Irma Naffziger was the guest of Miss Belle Higgins from Friday until Sunday.

Miss Nita Kincaid spent several days at the C. H. Kincaid home last week.

Miss Belle Kincaid is spending a part of her vacation at the home of her brother, C. H. Kincaid.

Mrs. Carrie Young visited the first of the week with her mother, Grandma Klemgard.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Davis and W. H. Pritchard spent Sunday at the V. L. Higgins home.

Miss Minnie Story was the guest of the Misses Madge Nell and Lena Henson last week.

Frank Murray is at the home of his uncle, W. H. Kincaid, having sufficiently recovered from his recent operation to leave the hospital last Wednesday.

Miss Grace Day, of Pullman, visited this week at the J. W. Haines home.

Mrs. Cochran was quite ill this week.

Miss Thompson, a nurse in Dr. Else's hospital, is spending her vacation at the C. H. Kincaid home.

Fred Meyer, who has been with Chris Naffziger for several months, left Monday for his home in Greenville, Wisconsin, having received word of the serious illness of his father.

Miss Irma Naffziger entertained a few friends at her home Tuesday evening in honor of the birthday of W. H. Pritchard. Refreshments were served. Those present were: W. H. Pritchard, Kingsley Peasley, of Pullman, Miss Belle Higgins, Miss Irma Naffziger and Mr. and Mrs. C. Naffziger.

An apology is due W. F. Paullus for the error in typesetting of last week concerning his record run with the combine. As all will agree, "45 minutes for breakfast" is slightly different from "45 minutes for a breakdown," the former leaving the impression of his having run the combine for a time before breakfast, which was not the case. The number of sacks threshed was 640 instead of 604.

Scott Getchel and W. F. Paullus each lost a valuable horse this week. Mr. Getchel also came near losing the mate to the first, the two making a team for which he paid $400. He has had very bad luck in the horse business, this making the twelfth horse that he has lost within the last seven years.

See my line of new Superior Fanning Mills. The prices are right. T. C. Martin.

Market Day next Saturday. Pullman should be crowded with visitors on that day for the merchants are offering those rare bargains.

Harvesting Near St. John

W. D. Henry made a business trip to St. John this week, going to Colfax by train and riving from there by team. He reports harvest work in western Whitman county as active and much work yet to be done. The grain is nearly all being cut with headers and threshed as soon as cut, but some of it is being stacked and will be threshed later. "I never saw so many headers at work in my life as on this trip," said Mr. Henry. He says western Whitman county has a fine crop, the wheat averaging about 30 bushels for fall sown and about 20 bushels for spring wheat.

Meat to be Delivered

It will no longer be necessary for Pullman people to come down town to get a steak, roast or boil. C. R. Sanders, the grocer, has solved the meat delivery problem which has confronted Pullman housewives for years, by buying the City Meat Market, which will be moved to the grocery store. A choice line of all kinds of meats, fish, oysters and shell fish in season will be kept and it will be only necessary to telephone your orders for meat as well as groceries to have it delivered at your door. Pullman housewives should welcome this change in conditions, for it means a great saving in time and labor. Only first class meats will be carried and there will be no advance in prices because of delivery.

The Spokane Chronicle of Tuesday contained an account of the wedding of Miss Lillian A. Madison of San Francisco, and D. A. Donason, at 1414 Tenth Ave., Spokane. The bride is a grand-daughter of Mrs. H. M. Benton of this city. About 100 guests were present, among them being Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Benton and Mrs. William Ulrich, the bride's aunt, of Pullman. The young couple will make their home on Mr. Donason's ranch near Plummer, Idaho.

Christian Science Services.

Christian Science Services are held every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Sunday school at 10 o'clock, in Masonic hall, over postoffice. All are welcome.

L. W. Bartlett and F. V. Roth were in Spokane on business Wednesday.

B. F. Manchester of Colfax was a business visitor to Pullman on Thursday.

I have a complete line of Superior and Monitor drills on hand. All sizes and styles. See them when in the market for a drill. T. C. Martin.

Community Interest.

To every thinking man—farmer, merchant or worker—we say, develop your home community.

We urge the farmer and dweller particularly to help develop his home market; increase his property values and market by supporting his home merchants.

Before purchasing the next money-order, give your home merchant an opportunity to make you a cash price on the goods you require. Mind you, we say cash price. When you buy by mail you pay cash. It costs money to carry accounts, and the mail order houses realize it. With cash your home merchant can buy cheaper and sell you cheaper.

If you are still determined to purchase by mail, at least go in and compare the goods received with those your home merchant carries and then figure how much money you have saved. Convince yourself that you can purchase as cheaply at home, quality and cash payment considered, as you can by mail.

On that next lumber bill first examine your home dealer's stock, grade and quality. Then, if you do order by mail, compare the grades you receive with those offered you at home, on that same terms that you purchase outside—cash.

Build up your home community—it spells prosperity, means increased values for city and farm property and products, higher wages for your workers.

Give you trade to your home dealer, the man that extends you credit when you are in need of it and does not take a mortgage on everything you possess.

Elimination of the retail merchant spells monopoly. Do you wish to be compelled to send away for everything you use?

Do you wish to destroy your home market, home institutions, including your newspapers, and be out of touch entirely with the value of your products?

Can you expect, if you are building a house, barn, etc., to receive the same extensions of credit from strangers as you would from your home building and loan association or dealers whose best interests are identical with your own?

Can you, for your own individual prosperity, afford to do other than co-operate with your home merchant in all lines? Downers Grove (Ill.) Reporter.
