Paulus had as guests on Christmas day Mr. and Mrs. Alev Hatley, Mr. and Mrs. Bert West and son, Mr. and Mrs. James Pendry, Mrs. Babcock and children of Lewiston, Mrs. Green of Lewiston, Sidney Green and Archie Hatley. The gathering was a complete family reunion, except for a son, James Paulus, who resides on the Coeur d'Alene reservation.

JOHNSON

Mr. Frank Willoughby and family have been spending the Christmas vacation with relatives on the reservation.

Mr. and Mrs. Solano Moffitt are spending their vacation at their home at Garfield.

Of the 90 pupils in the Johnson school the following have a perfect record: Primary—Charlie Burtch, Opal Lamm, Flora Lamm and Marshall McInturff; intermediate—Loney Heaslet, James Allor, Edna Maxwell, Pearl Steirewalt, Hazel

Thompson, Eva Steirewalt, Ada Heaslet, Gladys Meyers, Elmina Nation and Nellie Rubie; grammar—Kenneth Gray, Etta Amos, Iona Nation, Inez Wilson and Dewetta Nation; high school—Lida Haynes, Mildred Wiggins and Beatrice Fowler.

Last Friday evening a fast and clean game of basket ball was played at Colton between the Colton and Johnson high schools. At the end of the first half the score was tied, 11 to 11, but in the last half the Johnson boys lost out, because the ball was less than half the regulation length.

Fruit Inspectors Will Meet

State Horticultural Commissioner F. A. Huntley has called the annual meeting of the deputy fruit inspectors of the state for January 8 and 9. The meetings will be held at the college. The state of Washington is divided into 16 horticultural districts, each district having its deputy inspectors, and the entire territory will be included in the January meeting.

Short Course at Snohomish

R. C. Ashby, superintendent of farmers' institutes and demonstration trains, is planning a short course for Snohomish to be held in the near future. The course will be along the same lines as those offered recently at Lynden and Cashmere, and the local arrangements are in charge of A. M. Richardson, a graduate of the State College. Soil conditions, fruit growing, dairying and poultry raising will be included in the course.

Murray Chilton Married

Murray Chilton and Miss Laura Stewart, both of this city, were married at Colfax last Wednesday, December 27. Mr. Chilton, who is employed as a cook at the boys' dormitory at the college, was born and raised in Pullman and has many friends in this vicinity. Miss Stewart has for some time resided about a mile east of Pullman. The young couple will make their home in this city.

Council Pays Many Bills

The city council met in regular session Thursday, December 21, the only business transacted besides the discussion of the proposed telephone franchise being the payment of the usual grist of bills and an order for the building of a sidewalk along blocks one and two on the west side of Star Route street. The following bills were allowed and ordered paid: J. E. Hammond, supplies, $11.10; Jno. W. Graham & Co., ledger, 5.75; J. H. Frederick, witness fees in McKillip case, 5.60; J. E. Hammond, labor, 3.60; Pullman Herald, printing, 35.50; Geo. Ewing, drayage, 16.50; Oscar Amos, labor, 3.25; Chas. Pierce, labor, 18.00; Andrew Dressler, labor, 4.20; J. S. Clark, express, 1.50; R. L. Holland, labor, 1.50; Firemen, to labor washing streets, 9.60.

New Department to Aid Farmers

To assist farmers in every possible way is the avowed intention of the O.-W. R. & N. Co. in appointing an experienced agriculturist to its official staff, creating a new department. C. L. Smith, a practical farmer, who for some time was connected with the State College, has been appointed to the new position.

Mr. Smith will co-operate with the people living in the territory tributary to the lines of the railroad company. He expects to spend the most of his time in the country districts, learning what problems the farmers have to contend with and aiding them with the best methods of meeting them. Nothing that is not thoroughly practical will be recommended, for Mr. Smith is not a book farmer, but he has spent years tilling the soil in the Northwest states.

Washington is the banner wheat state of the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain districts, according to the statistics of the Census Bureau. Figures are given for 1899 and 1909, showing Washington nearly doubled its wheat acreage in the ten years. There was an increase in production of 93.1 per cent. The yield in 1909 was 40,920,390 bushels.
