Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Klemgard spent last Friday evening at the C. H. Kincaid home.

Mrs. James Penary visited several days this week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Paullus.

Mrs. C. D. Martin continues to improve and is expected to return home the latter part of this week.

The neighbors enjoyed a dance given by John Fulfs at his home last Friday night.

Mrs. Maye Kincaid and son, Joe, arrived Monday from Big Eddy, Ore.

Mrs. A. F. Carrothers and Mrs. M. L. Davis left Wednesday for Juliaetta to receive osteopathic treatment.

Miss Lelia Haines finished a successful four months school in the Moys district last Friday.

V. L. Higgins shipped a thoroughbred Poland China boar to Milton P. McCroskey at Colfax last Friday.

Saints meetings were held nightly at the Irene schoolhouse this week.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Higgins and daughter, Belle, spent last Thursday evening at the J. M. Klemgard home.

Miss Ella Houck spent a few days this week in Pullman with her friend, Miss Ethel Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Olson have moved to Pullman and are residing on Montgomery street.

K. P. Farley, who was married in Pullman Wednesday to Miss Alta Allen, gave a wedding supper and dance at the Grange hall the same night.

Neighbors and Grangers were invited and had a most enjoyable time. Mr. and Mrs. Farley received a lovely set of dishes, a gift from the neighbors.

After face was seen and determined as she said calmly: "It must be done now."

"Yes," murmured Alicia in a low tone that sounded like a sob, "it must be done now! Oh, if I'd only done it before—if I'd only told Mr. Jeffries the whole truth! You speak of Howard's sufferings. If he didn't do it, he has at least the consciousness of his own innocence, but I—the constant fear of being found out is worse than any hell the imagination can conjure up. I dreaded it—I dread it now—it means disgrace—social ostracism—my husband must know—the whole world will know."

Annie was not listening. Still bewildered, she gazed with the utmost astonishment at her companion. To think that this mysterious woman they had been seeking was Howard's stepmother.

"So you're the missing witness we have all been hunting for!" she said; "I can't believe it even now. How?"

At the regular meeting of Grange Monday night the following candidates were instructed in the Third and Fourth degrees: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Skinner, Cecil Eaton, James Clark, Robert J. L. Shaw and Lennie Pate. During lecture hour a short musical program was given.

Base Ball Plans Under Discussion

Inland League May Be Expanded This Year by Taking in Several Clubs

The baseball bug is already getting in its work and new leagues and rumors of leagues are springing up from all sections. The latest gossip is in regard to a proposed extension of the Inland league, which was organized last year by Pullman, Colfax, Palouse and Rosalia. The proposed enlargement of this league and the reasons therefor were outlined in the following article which appeared yesterday on the sporting page of the Spokesman-Review and was doubtless suggested by J. Newton Colver, president of the league:

"The Inland league, last year a four-club affair, playing strictly amateur ball, may be expanded into a six-club circuit, taking in at least one Spokane team, one from Coeur d'Alene and one from Liberty Lake, if plans now under way are carried out.

"The four-club circuit that last year engaged in such a close and spirited pennant chase, finally won by Colfax, will this year attempt an organization considerably more pretentious.

"By working with Coeur d'Alene, Liberty Lake and Spokane, the teams from the Palouse country can thus extend their schedule into August and even September, whereas before it has never been deemed good judgment to run beyond the opening of the harvest season or the middle of July.

"Give the Palouse towns all the ball they can stand between the first of April and the middle of July and when switch to the lake towns, where the rush to the famous summer resorts will have just begun to be good and consistent.

"Coeur d'Alene is anxious to get into a league with Spokane, as it seems to be cut off from any other town of its size and class in baseball and has never been able to break into the Spokane City league. Liberty Lake has been educated to classy baseball within the last year or two, has a fine park and a floating population of 10,000 or more during the hotter summer Sundays from which to draw.

The Spokane team would play at Recreation park on the Sundays in which Joe Cohn's Indians were on the road under the Northwestern league schedule.

"Charles R. Larue, who managed the Colfax Inland league team last year, and Paul Pattison, a prominent attorney of that place, as well as leading baseball fan and umpire, have permitted themselves to be quoted as enthusiastically in favor of enlarging the Inland circuit to include Coeur d'Alene, Spokane and a northern end of a new circuit. Mr. Denno, who has been in charge of several Coeur d'Alene teams is also outspoken in his advocacy of a union of Coeur d'Alene, Spokane and the Palouse towns in an amateur league.

"Waldo G. Paine, traffic manager of the Inland Empire Railway company, has been enlisted in the movement for the forming of the larger circuit, and says that the baseball enthusiasts in the employ of his company will be responsible for a fast team to represent Liberty Lake. There will probably be little trouble in getting a competent manager for a strong team from Spokane."

The local baseball magnates do not take kindly to the above plan, for the reason, as they say, that it would be impossible to secure enough players in Pullman who would be able to take the time required for the trips to Spokane and the lake cities. Except for that, they consider the idea a good one.

Beautiful Game Sets

With customary enterprise the Pullman Mill company is inaugurating a new plan for introducing and advertising their flour. They know that when a family once gets the habit of using any one of their popular brands they have a permanent patron on account of the excellence of the flour, but in order to get more people to using it they are now placing in each sack a coupon. When anyone has purchased 10 sacks, he or she can take the 10 coupons to the mill and on turning them in with 95 cents in cash, will receive a beautiful set of dishes, comprising a platter and six plates, decorated with pictures of different game birds, or a set decorated with pictures of different varieties of deer. Each plate has a different design beautifully colored, and the sets will add much to the appearance of any table, and make it well worth while to save your coupons.

Revival Meetings

Union revival meetings will begin on Sunday, January 28. These are to be conducted by the Stevens Brothers and are under the auspices of several of the local churches. A large auditorium, 60x128 feet, is to be erected on the lot south of the Christian church. The sides are to be of board and the roof of some of the canvas used in the Apple Show in Spokane, is such can be secured; if not, boards covered with tar paper will be used. The work of construction will begin Tuesday, January 23, and will be done by volunteer labor. Every man who can give a little time will be greatly appreciated. Come with hammer and other necessary tools that you may have.

Narrow Escape

Harold Brown had a narrow escape from being very seriously injured Thursday evening of last week. After asking for a ride he jumped into a farmer's sleigh. The farmer started to drive north, while Harold wanted to go the other way, so while the sleigh was crossing the bridge by the Alton hotel the little fellow jumped out, alighting just in front of the team of I. H. Waller, the drayman, who was driving in the opposite direction. The wagon pole struck the boy, knocking him down, and the shoe of one of the horses struck his cheek a glancing blow, cutting a gash which it required eight stitches to close. The little fellow showed remarkable pluck. No blame attaches to Mr. Waller as it was absolutely impossible to prevent the accident.

Praises High School

Edwin Twitmeyer of Seattle, inspector of high schools, was in Pullman this week attending the meeting of the state board of education, and on Tuesday made a careful inspection of the local high school. He was highly pleased with the work which is being done and complimented the superintendent and faculty. He was emphatic, however, in his criticism of the high school building and the library, and urged the necessity of a new high school building and a larger and more complete library.

A Great Cartoonist

The next number of the College lecture course will be given at the Auditorium Monday evening, January 29, when Alton Packard, acknowledged to be America's greatest platform cartoonist, will appear. His performance is nothing short of a revelation in the art of entertainment. It is a kaleidoscope medley of humor and humanness, fun and fancy, mirth and music, art and acting. Mr. Packard draws his cartoons and beautiful art pictures in black and white as well as in colors upon two large white sheets, each six by eight, placed on opposite sides of the stage. The drawing is accompanied by a running fire of wit and humor in which several of Mr. Packard's original poems are introduced. The cartoon work is interspersed with a number of topical and humorous songs of Mr. Packard's own composition.

Sack Day

Pullman local of the Farmers Union will hold its annual "sack day" next Wednesday, January 24, when bids for sacks will be opened. All members are requested to come early and bring their wives and a basket lunch. All who desire to purchase sacks through the local must file their orders at once with Ira Nye, John Melvin or Ed Zimmerman, who constitute the sack committee.

Fire broke out in the picture framing department of V. E. Kuhn's establishment on the corner of Alder and Paradise streets about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening and, while the flames were quickly extinguished, most of Mr. Kuhn's framing tools were ruined and his stock of wall paper and paints was considerably damaged. Mr. Kuhn had left the building a few moments before the flames were discovered and the fire is supposed to have started from the stove. The loss is placed at $500, covered by insurance.

The state board of education, composed of President Kane of the U. of W., H. B. Dewey, state superintendent of schools, E. T. Mathas, principal of the Bellingham Normal School, F. B. Cooper, superintendent of schools of Seattle, Mrs. Josephine Corliss Preston, county superintendent of schools of Walla Walla county, and H. M. Hart, principal of the South Side high school of Spokane, met this week in Pullman.

Talented Reader

Monday evening, January 22, at 8 p. m., in the Methodist church, Miss Ora Ellen Shrader will read Tennyson's "Enoch Arden." Miss Shrader is a favorite wherever she appears and we are sure Pullman will be no exception. Miss Shrader is assisted by Miss Alice Knerr, who renders the Strauss' musical accompaniment, making the reading both unique and most entertaining.

The advance agent for Miss Shrader agreed to a general admission of 25 cents, consenting to this low admission only because it is her initial tour of the Northwest.

Miss Shrader is a graduate of the University of Denver and has studied in the Columbia College of Expression in Chicago. Miss Knerr had her musical training in the Oberlin Conservatory of Music.
