DANA MURDOCK DIES IN BALTIMORE, MD.

State College Graduate Passes Away After Short Illness—Was Married in Pullman, September 13

Dana Murdock, a graduate of the Washington State College with the class of 1910, passed away at Baltimore, Maryland, Thursday morning at 4 o'clock, death being caused by internal complications, aggravated by a rupture. Mr. Murdock was one of the best known and most popular students of the college and graduated from the department of economic science and history. Soon after graduation in 1910 he took advantage of a Rhodes scholarship and spent two years doing post graduate work at Harvard University. At the completion of his Harvard course he accepted a position as a social settlement worker for the city of Baltimore, in which he was still engaged at the time of his death.

Dana Murdock

Mr. Murdock came to Pullman in September of this year and on the 13th of that month was united in marriage to Miss Isabelle McRae, also a graduate of the State College. The young couple left immediately after the wedding for Baltimore to make their home and Mr. Murdock was meeting with phenomenal success in his work when he was taken sick.

STUDENTS PLAN TO CHARTER SPECIAL TRAIN TO LEWISTON

W. S. C. Band and Probably 100 Students Will Attend Big Stock Show Next Week

The fifth annual stock show of the Northwest Livestock Association, which will be held in Lewiston next week promises to be the greatest of Northwestern shows. It ranks as the third stock show in the United States. About 4000 head of stock have been entered. The United States government is sending a shipment of high-grade cavalry and artillery horses from the East to the show. Over $12,000 in premiums will be distributed.

It is probable that the State College band of 35 members, and about 100 students of the Agricultural and Veterinary Science Departments will leave Tuesday, December 2, on a special train for Lewiston to attend the show and advertise the college. They will return the following Thursday evening.

ALFALFA SEED

Recent investigations by the Department of Agriculture have revealed the fact that large quantities of ordinary alfalfa seed are being offered for sale under the name of Grimm. It has also been found that large quantities of alfalfa seed raised under irrigation are being sold as northern-grown dry-land seed.

In the cases of some of this seed it was found that it was not even domestic seed, but was wholly or in part imported Turkestan seed. This practice of selling other seed for Grimm results in the farmer paying from 40 cents to $1 or more per pound for seed which would otherwise sell for from 12 to 20 cents a pound, and inasmuch as the ordinary seed is not as hardy as Grimm, the first severe winter may kill the entire crop.

The original Grimm alfalfa sown in 1858 in Carver county, Minn., has undergone a natural cross with the common variety which, together with its exposure to numerous severe winters which have eliminated the weaker plants, has made it one of the hardest of our commercial strains. The seed was produced originally entirely in Minnesota, but tests of the true variety since grown in Dakota, Montana, and Idaho indicate that these lots are all of equal value and are quite as hardy as those grown in Minnesota.

As it is difficult to detect substitutes for Grimm in the seed, the farmers are urged to buy Grimm only from reliable dealers and, as far as possible, to trace the seed back to its source. In many cases the retailers are not deliberately perpetrating a fraud, as they have purchased this seed for Grimm and sell it in the belief that it is Grimm.

This seed has become very popular in regions of cold winters and is now used not only in the Northwest but in the East, particularly in northern New York and New England.

Similarly it is found that in the dry-land regions where the winters are severe and there is little snow-fall and comparatively little moisture the northern alfalfa seed grown in cold regions on dry land is especially useful. Much of this seed comes from Montana, and it is found that unscrupulous dealers have been taking seed raised under irrigation in that state and selling it as Montana dry-land alfalfa seed.

STORING APPLES

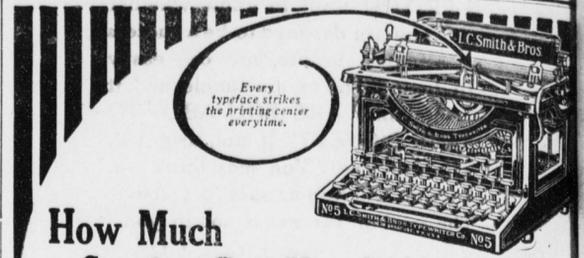

Bulletin No. 144 of the Iowa station at Ames, tells about a number of experiments with apples in cold storage. The results of the experiments are briefly summarized as follows:

To keep well in cold storage, the apples must be well colored and carefully handled.

In comparing cold storage early and cellar storage later with continued cold storage, it was found that Grimes Golden and Sheriff could be kept in this way until February at Jonathan, Winesap and Northwestern Greening could be kept in the cellar storage until May 1 with but little more loss than where kept in the cold storage continuously.

Delaying the storage of fruit or packing for a short time may be beneficial if the fruit has not properly ripened and the weather remains cold. For well matured specimens immediate storage is preferable.

But little difference in the qualities of fruit from cultivated sod orchard could be seen.

How Much Service Can You Get From Your Typewriter?

It's what a machine does, not what it costs, that is most important.

All typewriters do not have the same efficiency and the same operator does not get the same result on every writing machine.

The L. C. SMITH & BROS. Typewriter will produce ten to twenty per cent. more work than any other typewriter ever made.

How is this possible?

Here are a few reasons:

1. It is ball-bearing throughout—others are not.
2. All operations are controlled from the keyboard.
3. It is the lightest touch machine made.
4. It does not "smut" the carbon.
5. The ribbon reverses automatically.
6. The type is so protected that it is not battered by collision.
7. One motion of the hand returns the carriage and operates the line space.
8. It has an inbuilt biller and tabulator.
9. No trouble to write on paper as small as a postage stamp.
10. It is built for service.

Send for Illustrated catalog.

MARTIN IS ON THE HOG

this week—everybody else is, and those that are not ought to be.

Get together; turn out to this affair; give it your utmost and conscientious support and bye-and-bye it will be an affair that you can point to with unlimited pride as one of the real big things of the Palouse Country.

Now when you come to town this week take in the show, and whatever you do, don't forget to come in and see Martin about that HOG FENCING for next season.

Carload of Electric-Weld Fencing

I am shipping in a carload of wire and giving a special discount to those who will place their order now and take the wire off the car on arrival, thereby affording you an opportunity to save quite a little on your fencing. About half of the car has been spoken for, so if you want to get in on this special deal you had better take of it at once.
