

REGISTRATION CLERKS FOR WHITMAN COUNTY

Commissioners Name Clerks for All Country Precincts—Other Business Transacted

Registration clerks for all the country precincts of Whitman county were named by the county commissioners in session at Colfax last week.

From a number of precincts no application had been made, and the old voting books were searched to secure the names of those who lived at a convenient place for the voters to register. A large number of the clerks appointed by the board are women. It was pointed out by one of the members that women would be much better for this work in the country as they would be at home to attend to the registering of the voters in the absence of the men who would be at work in the fields. After a careful selection the following appointments were made:

The matter of the vacation of certain streets and alleys in the town-site of Ewan which have never been in use was ordered by the board to be vacated and closed.

The bond of Geo. P. Howard was presented and approved. Mr. Howard was recently appointed game warden of Whitman county at a salary of $50 per month. The report of the county physician was accepted and ordered placed on file. The county engineer's report on the old and new survey of the Tekoa-Oakesdale road was presented for consideration.

The Morgan change in the county road was allowed and an order issued to vacate the old road. This change was made at the request of the Milwaukee railroad and graded at their own expense to eliminate a dangerous crossing. The railroad company has deeded the new road to Whitman county.

A new voting precinct was created by the board. A number of the residents living along the Snake river have been isolated from the voting precincts of Nos. 26 and 1. In order to aid these people and make it easy for them to register without climbing the Snake river hill, that portion of the country south of the northeast corner of lot 1, section 9, straight west of the Snake river in township 11 north, range 45 and 46 east. The new precinct will include portions of both the country precincts of Uniontown, No. 1, and Colton, known as No. 26. The new precinct will be known as Evan precinct 79, and the voting place was located at Daisy station. The new precinct will contain about 13 or 14 sections of land lying south of the line at the top of the hill.

The bond of C. L. Shaw was approved and on an opinion of the county attorney, the back salary due, amounting to more than $700 was ordered paid.

The most important business transacted was the order confirming the transfer of a portion of school district No. 49 to the Oakesdale district. The question came before the board on an appeal from a decision of the county superintendent and the question of the transfer was urged before the board at their December meeting. The commissioners, after taking the matter under advisement for two weeks, decided that they would disallow the appeal and permit the transfer as made by the county superintendent to stand.

Chairman Whitlow stated that the taxpayers of school district 49 were justified in making an effort to retain this rich piece of property, but as the transfer had been made in accordance with the law, it was that, and not the board that was at fault. A number of those who have fought against the transfer through the county superintendent and the commissioners, have announced that the next test will be fought out in the superior court.—Colfax Commoner.

COSTUMES FOR SOUTHERN WEAR

White and Blue Serge for Suits—Taffeta and Moire-Poplin Also Favored—Medium and Small Hats

For those of us who are fortunate enough to be able to step, as it were, from beneath the cloudy, wintry skies of the North into the sunshine and flowers of the South, the shops are fairly overflowing with linens, soft silks, cool looking suitings, the most feminine of hats, parasols, and all the other accessories that go to make up the summer costume.

The Popular Bolero Suit

When the various European countries unconsciously exerted their influence on styles by their entry into the war, or their equally difficult stand of neutrality, the bolero was again introduced into the woman's wardrobe, it being the Spanish note. It is a model that has always been a great favorite. It is generally becoming and may be made at home with results as good as if fashioned by a tailor. Fine blue serge, sou-tached, or trimmed with a design in gold braid or galoon, is most often seen in the bolero models; often the upper portion of the pleated or gathered skirt is of taffeta in black or the gathered skirt is of taffeta in black or the same tone as the serge. Collars and cuffs of taffeta and taffeta covered buttons are also used with good effect.

Stripes and Checks

In both the suitings and the soft silks being fashioned into frocks and suits for southern wear and early spring, the popularity of stripes and checks is quite as marked as it was last season; the combination of black and white and soft gray is also noticeable. The soft wool suitings in checks ranging from the very tiny pattern to the aggressive checker-board designs are all good, relieved with a touch of vivid green, rose, or orange; black taffeta and moire are also effective for trimming these suits and tailored frocks. The striped silks are usually combined with a plain satin or silk, in a tone that harmonizes with or is an effective contrast to the predominating color in the striped material. Sheer fabrics, crepe Georgettes, chiffon-cloths, silk voiles, and the various other transparent fabrics promise to be as good for sleeves, collars and other trimming purposes as they have been for the past few seasons.

Net Blouses Practical

Blouses of chiffon-cloth, chiffon, and similar materials, dainty and becoming to a degree, were never very durable. It was really heartbreaking when one had a particularly becoming and rather expensive blouse, to have it begin to pull out and wear under the arms and at the elbows after only one or two wearings. This was partially done away with when cotton net was introduced for lining these waists; this season we have the net blouse itself, often lined with net or chiffon-cloth. These waists are delightfully sheer and they have a wonderful wearing quality.

Often the net blouse is trimmed with a linen cluny, or another equally pretty lace in a rather heavy pattern. Then again, collar and cuffs are of a picot-edged Georgette in a delicate tone of rose, yellow, or pale pink. Novelty buttons in quaint effective colorings are sometimes used at the closing of collar, or down the front, forming unusually attractive trimming details.

Serge Bolero Suit

The softly colored blouse of crepe Georgette has by no means taken a back seat because of the popularity of the new net favorite; these are being brought out, if anything, in prettier and more charmingly colored designs than ever before. Rose pink is a favorite shade; it combines so well with the dark blues, browns and other tailored suit colors.

Hats and Parasols

Small and medium sized hats as always are the first outputs of our New York milliners, for the South and early spring. Many of the prettiest of them show a combination of straw and taffeta. One especially attractive medium-sized hat displayed on the avenue some time ago, was of tete de Negre satin; the brim turned up a trifle on the left side and the frame was covered smoothly save for a cord effect around the outer edge of the brim and at the top of the crown. The only trimming was a severely straight up-standing wing made of the satin, edged with a cut ruching of meline in the same shade of brown as the hat. The effect of the hat was smart and tailored. Another pretty small hat was made half of straw braid and half of changeable taffeta, the taffeta being draped over one side of the crown, finishing in a high up-standing loop on the side. Imitation Gaura in a soft shade of gray was effective trimming on another small hat. In parasols there are many novelties as always at the opening of a season. Some Japanese effects are seen, and some hand embroidered designs; a particularly pretty fancy parasol was of dark taffeta gathered and tasselled at the points.

APPLE RELISH

Three pounds of apples, pared and cored.
Three pounds sugar.
One pound raisins.
Two oranges.
One cup of English walnut meats.
Put apples, raisins and oranges through the coarse part of meat chopper (orange rind may be omitted if desired). Add sugar and cook for about one hour or until thick enough to spread. Add nuts five minutes before removing from the fire. Put in glasses or jars and seal with paraffine.—Home Economics Dept., State College of Washington.
