PULLMAN, WASHINGTON, FRIDAY, APRIL 14, 1916

NUMBER 26

EARLY DAY SETTLER IS CALLED TO REST

Mrs. Leonard Crawford Had Resided Near Pullman since 1876—Died at Her Home Monday, Aged 76 Years

Another of Whitman county's earliest pioneers was called to the great beyond last Monday when Mrs. Leonard Crawford died at her home in North Pullman, aged 76 years, 10 months and 19 days. Mrs. Crawford had been in ill health for two years and for two weeks prior to her death her condition was considered serious. Deceased is survived by her husband, now 88 years of age, and two children by a former marriage, these being Mark W. Whitlow of Pullman and Mrs. M. D. Lee of Tacoma.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from Kimball's chapel, in charge of the Rev. Harley Jackson. Interment was in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. Hundreds of friends paid their final respects over the remains of the beloved lady, who, in the early days of Pullman's history, was a potent factor in shaping the social and religious destinies of the town.

Mary Ann Watson was born at Louisville, Ky., May 21, 1839. On October 29, 1857, she was united in marriage to Pleasant Whitlow, who, in 1862, was killed at Livingston, Tenn., while supporting his colors in the Civil war. In 1868, with her two children, Mark and May, she removed to Kansas, and on August 14, 1874, was united in marriage to Leonard Crawford, who survives her.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford and the two children came across the plains by team and were in Cheyenne at the time of the noted Custer massacre. The westward journey was continued until the family arrived in Whitman county, where a quarter section of government land was taken up just east of the present town of Pullman, a part of the land now comprising the city ball park. Later this quarter section was sold and a farm three miles northeast of Pullman was purchased, where the family resided until 10 years ago, when Mr. and Mrs. Crawford removed to Pullman.

Mrs. Crawford was the last of a family of 10 children, her parents having been pioneers of Kentucky, and her entire early life was spent on the frontier. She lived a useful Christian life, and hundreds of friends mourn her death.

"BOLOGNA" HAS MANSION

Gong Lee, better known as "Bologna," Pullman's only representative from the Flowery Kingdom, has a new mansion, at least it's a mansion in the eyes of the aged Celestial, and the much abused Chink will be permitted to pass his few remaining days in peace and contentment. The new house was constructed in the rock cut on State street, just west of the O.-W. R. & N. depot, by the city, and will be given to "Bologna" free of rent for the remainder of his time. The Chinaman moved into his new quarters last Saturday, and is well pleased with his surroundings. The county commissioners will grant an allowance of $10 per month to the Chinaman, and this will be expended by city officials for food and clothing. The old "Bologna" shack near the creek was sold for $25 and this amount was applied on the cost of the new house, the balance being provided by the city.

"AS THE LEAVES"

The noted Italian drama, "As the Leaves," will be presented by the Mask and Dagger club at the college auditorium this evening, April 14. Special scenery has been painted for this play and it will be produced by an exceptionally strong cast. Dr. Ernst A. Evans will render music on the organ. Admission 50 cents, reserved seats on sale at Watt's pharmacy.

NO WHEAT MARKETS

Local grain buyers have been completely out of the market for several days and no sales have been made. Nominal quotations are around the 82c mark for wheat.

THIRD EDUCATIONAL MUSIC RECITAL

College Auditorium, Wednesday, April 19 at 8:15 P. M.—Program Attractive

The third and last of the series of educational recitals by Ina Wright-Herbst, soprano; Gottfried Herbst, violinist, and Herbert Kimbrough, pianist, will be given in the college auditorium next Wednesday evening, April 19, at 8:15 p. m. Admission 25 cents. The following program will be given:

(a) Immer leiser, (b) Liebestreu, (c) Meine Liebe ist grün (Brahms), (d) Albumblatt (Wagner), (e) Hungarian Dance, No. 2 (Brahms), (f) Morgan, (g) Allerseelen, (c) Wir Schreiten (Strauss). Grand Concerto in D minor, Op. 31 (Vieuxtemps), Introduction, Adagio Religioso, Allegro. Aria, "More Real in His Low Estate" from "The Queen of Sheba" (Gounod). Agnus Dei (Bizet), for voice, violin and piano.

COLLEGE BASE BALL

The W. S. C. baseball team will be pitted against some of the strongest teams in the Northwest before the conference championship race is settled, according to the present schedule. The season begins Friday with a game against O. A. C., which does not count in the championship race.

That the Spokane Indians, in the Northwest league, will appear in five games next week is the present expectation. The Indians are slated to play on the local diamond on next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday and the games should provide some classy ball.

The price of admission to each of these games will be 25 cents.

PULLMAN BREAD FOR C. OF C. LUNCHEONS

Business Men Show That They Are in Favor of Patronizing Home Industry

At the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Tuesday the committee on the Fourth of July celebration reported in favor of arranging an old soldiers' picnic with a barbecue, provided the encampment of veterans is held July 3, 4, and 5. The committee was authorized to make the necessary arrangements in case the plan suggested proves satisfactory to the managers of the encampment.

President Holt stated that parties were figuring on putting in a $150,000 flour mill in Pullman, and asking for nothing but the moral support of the residents of the city. The matter was referred to the committee on new industries.

J. N. Emerson called attention to the fact that bread made out of town was being served at the Chamber of Commerce luncheons and offered a resolution that in future nothing but Pullman bread be served. The resolution was adopted.

W. L. Greenawalt called attention to the fact that the road between Pullman and Colfax is now in fair condition except for a bad mud hole about half way between the towns. O. L. Waller, W. L. Greenawalt and J. N. Emerson were appointed to urge the county commissioners to fix the mud hole and drag the road.

BOYS ENTERTAINED

Master George Libby entertained a number of boy friends at a party Friday afternoon, April 7. The occasion was the thirteenth anniversary of his birth. Those present were Dan Campbell, Jimmie Edgecomb, Roy Edgecomb, Linden Eaton, Kenneth Ferguson, Raymond Evans, Harlan Gannon, Jay Peck, and George Libby. Games were played, after which refreshments were served.

The report of the educational experts who have been investigating the status of the State College, State University and State Normal Schools, will be made tomorrow at Seattle, to the educational survey commission appointed at the last session of the legislature.

Suggest East Main Street Viaduct

Four Grade Crossings Could Be Eliminated at About Same Cost as Hard-Surfacing Road

A plan for improving East Main street has been suggested, which would cost little more than the proposed hard surfacing of the stretch of road between the concrete bridge and the city limits, but would result in far greater benefits to the city. The idea is to build a wooden viaduct from the ridge from which the rock was taken by the Warren Construction company, to College Park addition. The viaduct would be about 1000 feet long and extend over the railroad tracks, thereby eliminating four grade crossings. With a little change the Busby road could strike the viaduct at the College Park end.

Most of the expense of the proposed hard surfacing of the road will fall upon the railroad companies and there is little doubt that they would prefer to put the same amount of money into the viaduct, which would eliminate four dangerous grade crossings. Members of the city council who have looked into the viaduct plan believe that it is feasible and would be a great benefit as it would give a short route to the college and to College Park addition, which is within the city limits, and is building up quite rapidly.

The same plan was suggested many years ago and the money raised for the construction of the viaduct but the city turned down the proposition on account of the expense of grading Main street through the ridge by Marion Spawr's property. A large portion of this ridge has now been cut away to furnish crushed rock for street improvements and the street could be opened up at comparatively small expense.

The matter will be brought to the attention of the railroad officials and if they show a disposition to co-operate, the viaduct is likely to be built. It is estimated that it could be constructed for about $6000, nearly the same sum as would be required for the proposed road improvement.

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET TO BE BIG EVENT

Forty High Schools Invited to Send Teams and 175 Athletes Are Expected

Plans being completed for the annual interscholastic by Arthur Durham, chairman of the committee in charge, point to the largest affair of its kind that has yet been held at the State College. All the medals necessary for the various events have been donated by Pullman business men and two silver trophy cups have been offered by outside people.

Forty high schools of the Inland Empire have been invited to send teams and it is expected that some 175 high school athletes will participate. The men will be taken care of by the different clubs and fraternity houses.

Tickets for the meet will be placed on sale next week and in all probability the names of ticket purchasers will be published, as was done last year. Expenses for the entertainment of the visitors will be paid by the money received from the sale of tickets.

While the students will have charge of the meet they will not guarantee the expenses of the visiting teams, the invitations containing only the provision that a proportion of their expenses will be paid according to the gate receipts. The tickets will be held for $1.00, which will also admit the bearer to the "hard-times" dance in the evening.

CITY CENSUS

All arrangements have been completed for taking the long deferred census of Pullman. The work will be done the first part of next week by a corps of volunteer enumerators.

Pullman Musicians in Spokane

Mrs. Ina Wright-Herbst, Prof. Herbst and Prof. Kimbrough Appear for Musical Art Society

Mrs. Ina Wright-Herbst, soprano; Prof. Gottfried Herbst, violinist, and Prof. Herbert Kimbrough, pianist, all connected with the music department of W. S. C., appeared in a Mozart recital at Spokane last Friday evening. Anent the event, which was given under the auspices of the Musical Art society, the Spokesman-Review of Saturday morning said:

The fifth monthly program of the Musical Art society was given last night at the Vincent Methodist church, before an appreciative audience. Mrs. Ina Wright-Herbst, soprano; Gottfried Herbst, violinist, and Herbert Kimbrough, pianist, of the music faculty of the State College of Washington, gave the Mozart program.

Mrs. Wright-Herbst has a coloratura soprano of great clarity, good carrying qualities, though not powerful, and unusually flexibility. Her piano effects are particularly good, excellent breath control, and smooth production throughout the registers.

The lower notes were fuller than is usual with a voice of such high timbre. The runs and the trills were done with great neatness of execution.

Her most effective number was the great maternal aria from "Die Entführung," in which she displayed all her vocal resources. In lighter group of Mozart songs "Aben dem findung" and "Das Veilchen" met with special favor.

Gottfried Herbst is a violinist of sound attainments. His tone is good, he plays with freedom, and has decision and force. In the Mozart Sonata in F he showed appreciation of the historical quality of the composer. There was grace, clearness of phrasing and much technical ability. All three movements were played with ease. Mr. Kimbrough particularly distinguished himself by a very clear exposition of the piano part. In fact, the ensemble was striking. Mr. Herbst did his most effective work in the "Andante" and "Rondo" of the violin concerto, No. 7, working up to a warm climax.

Mr. Kimbrough skillfully and sympathetically played the accompaniments of the evening.

MAY ENTER EXCLUSIVE ELECTRIC INSTITUTE

Leon K. Wiese, '15, Has Opportunity to Secure Practical Work With Big Firms

Letters received during the week from Leon K. Wiese, who is now at Cicero, Ill., employed in the Commonwealth Edison Co., show that he is about to enter the Chicago Central Station institute, an association of numerous electric concerns. It is really the educational department of the commercial end of the Samuel Mull interests—several corporations holding an operating public service utilities throughout the east, and representing capital of about $125,000,000.

Regarding trade conditions in the east Mr. Wiese says: "There once was said 'Go west, young man, go west,' but after spending some little time neck deep in the Pacific ocean I 'harkened unto' the good-times cry of the east. It sure is on the boom here, especially in the skilled trades; all kinds of work."

YOUNG MAN SERIOUSLY INJURED AT ALBION

John Sorrels, 18-year-old son of C. W. Sorrels, a farmer residing near Albion, was brought to the Rose Park hospital Wednesday suffering from a fractured skull and is still in a precarious condition. The young man was harnessing a team of horses when one of the animals kicked him, fracturing the skull above the right eye. He was found unconscious on the floor of the barn and brought to Pullman, where an operation was performed to raise the skull. The operation was successful and yesterday the patient's condition was much improved.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN NEW YORK

Mrs. Pauline D. Barrows, Once Pastor of the Christian Church, Succumbed to Cancer of the Liver

Many Pullman people will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Pauline D. Barrows, which occurred at Avon, New York, February 23, 1916.

In 1898-99 Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Barrows were joint pastors of the Christian church here and Mrs. Barrows will be remembered as a forceful speaker and a woman of unusual ability as well as of strong and winning personality. After leaving Pullman, Mr. and Mrs. Barrows assumed the pastorate of the churches at Medical Lake, Waterville and Mansfield.

Following Mr. Barrows' death at Mansfield in 1910, Mrs. Barrows took over that charge for two years. Later she took up the work of teaching, which had been her vocation prior to her marriage, and at the time of her death was principal of one of the Wenatchee schools.

In October of the past year her health began to fail and an operation at the Mayo Bros. hospital in Rochester, Minn., revealed the fact that she was suffering from cancer of the liver, for which there was no help. She went then to her girlhood home in Avon, N. Y., where her last days were spent at the home of her sister, Mrs. Samuel Leighton.

She leaves one son, Ralph Allen Barrows, who was born in Pullman 17 years ago. To him, now bereaved of both parents, goes the sympathy of Mrs. Barrows' many friends here. Ralph will make his home with his aunt in Avon.

The hundreds of friends Mrs. Barrows leaves in the different parts of Washington, where her influence has been felt, will feel a personal loss but will be—

All richer for the life she gave
All poorer for its broken spell.

MOTHERS CLUB

The Pullman Mothers club will meet at the M. E. church Tuesday, April 18, at 3:15 p. m. Mr. T. J. Newbill will give a talk on "Boys and Girls Club Work."

BOHLER WILL NOT ACCEPT NEW OFFER

Turns Down O. A. C. Position to Remain as Head of Athletics at W. S. C.

After a series of conferences with President E. O. Holland, Athletic Director J. Fred Bohler announced Wednesday that he would not accept the position offered him as director of athletics at Oregon Agricultural College. Mr. Bohler was elected to the position at the Corvallis institution by the O. A. C. board of regents at a meeting on Saturday and was notified immediately of his selection. Following the receipt of the news a number of conferences were held between President Holland and Mr. Bohler, at which the athletic director decided to remain in his position.

In announcing that he would remain as athletic director here Mr. Bohler made the following statement:

"Since the notice of my election to the O. A. C. position appeared in the papers a great deal of pressure has been brought to bear upon me by students, alumni and faculty who urged that I remain here, and I found it difficult to ignore the wishes of these friends. Then, too, in my conferences with President Holland I learned something of his policy in regard to the department of physical education, and in view of what the future promises I did not feel justified in leaving a field with which I am acquainted for one untried, as a new position always is."

Had he accepted the O. A. C. offer Mr. Bohler would have had charge of all athletics at the Oregon school, and his duties would have included coaching the basketball and track teams and training all the athletic teams. The offer was an attractive one, inasmuch as training and athletic facilities at O. A. C. are much better than here, and the salary offered was several hundred dollars in advance of the salary Mr. Bohler receives here. It is probable that the salary here will be raised by the regents of the college previous to the beginning of the next school year.

Mr. Bohler has been at Washington State College for the past eight years, and as a trainer of athletes there is no better in the west. Much of the credit for the wonderful showing of the W. S. C. football team last fall goes to Mr. Bohler. In every game on the hard schedule the W. S. C. men proved to be in much better physical condition than their opponents, and the exceptional staying powers of the W. S. C. men in the big Brown game at Pasadena attracted the attention of athletics mentors in all parts of the United States.

OPEN MEETING OF HISTORICAL CLUB

The Historical club held its annual open meeting last evening at Van Doren hall. The program was as follows:

Club Trio—Mrs. H. M. Styles, Mrs. Wm. Porter and Mrs. George Ewing. Piano solo—"Rustle of Spring," Mrs. Goodyear.

Illustrated lecture on "Egyptian Architecture"—Prof. Rudolph Weaver.

Vocal soli—"Persian Love Song," "Lullaby," Mrs. H. M. Styles.

The words and music of the Lullaby were composed by L. DesVoignes, a former W. S. C. student, and presented by him to Mrs. Styles when she was studying in Berlin, Germany.

After the program refreshments were served and the guests to the number of over 100 enjoyed an hour of social chat.

FINE ART EXHIBIT

The exhibit of reproductions of great paintings is still open to the public in room 306 College hall. In order that all may have an opportunity of seeing it, the exhibit will be open next Sunday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock. This exhibition consists of 159 hand colored photogravures and carbons and represents the work of almost 100 artists.
