Superintendent J. W. Graham and the majority of the high school and grade school instructors have been retained by the school board for another year. The board devoted the entire time of its session last Monday evening to the selection of teachers, but several vacancies remain to be filled. Superintendent J. W. Graham was given a two-year contract last August and will remain another year under that contract. Principal Luther Case of the high school, has accepted a position as superintendent elsewhere and was not an applicant for re-election. This position is yet to be filled, and the board will consider carefully the list of applicants before a final decision is made.

FIRST WEEK IN MAY FOR CLEAN-UP WEEK

The first week in May has been officially designated as "clean-up" week and all the citizens are urged to get busy with the rake and wheelbarrow during that week. In former years the city has provided wagons and men free of charge to haul all the rubbish to the dumping grounds, and in all probability this plan will be followed this year. Every citizen should enter heartily into the spirit of the occasion and lend his mite toward making Pullman a cleaner, more healthful and more beautiful town.

OBJECT TO DUMPING

A vigorous protest was registered with the city council Tuesday evening against the practice of using the extension of Kamiaken street as a dumping ground. Eight property owners joined in the protest, which was referred to the streets and highways committee with power to act.

CITY WILL PAVE SOUTH GRAND STREET

Preliminary Resolution Declaring of Needed Improvement Passed by Council—Havana Street Owners Ask Paving

Pullman's extensive paving program was considerably strengthened Tuesday evening when the city fathers passed a preliminary resolution declaring their intention to improve by paving South Grand street, beginning at the south line of McKenzie street, thence southwesterly along Grand street to a point on the extension of the property line between lots 3 and 4, of block 11, Garden City addition.

This piece of road for a number of years has been as bad as any in the vicinity of Pullman, and in much worse condition than the majority of the country roads, and the action of the council will be hailed with delight. The agitation for paving South Grand was instituted by F. O. Brownson and other property owners.

Another healthy impetus was given the paving program when eight property owners on Havana street petitioned the council to pave that part of their street west of the intersection of Havana and Opal streets. The petition was signed by Harriet Haynes, J. C. Ruth, Sina Sain, J. P. Duthie, the Trustee Co., R. J. Barnett, Dan McRae and John Melvin, the three latter signatures, however, being contingent upon the extension of Havana street to connect with Colorado street.

WHEAT SELLING SLOW

The inactivity of the local grain markets continued during the past week, the farmers refusing to sell at quoted prices. Yesterday's quotations were as follows:

Red Russian wheat.....	78c
Club wheat.....	80c
Fortyfold wheat.....	82c
Oats, per cwt.....	$1.00
Barley, per cwt.....	$1.10

TRIANGULAR MEET

The first track meet of the season will be held this afternoon on Rogers field, when the teams representing Colfax high school, Pullman high school and the W. S. C. prep will compete in the track and field events. It is the first meet for all of the teams, and but little advance dope on "possibilities" is available. The meet will start at 2:00 o'clock.

SQUIRES GETS PERMIT

John Squires was granted a building permit by the council Tuesday evening for the construction of his one-story brick building south of the William Chambers building on Grand street. The building will have a frontage of approximately 52 feet on both Grand street and High street. The structure will be used as a garage.

Whitman County School Statistics

But One of 1187 Graduates From the Rural and Grammar Schools in the Past Three Years Is Loafing

Of 1187 graduates of the rural and small city grammar school in Whitman county during the last three years, but one is "loafing," according to the educational and vocational survey of eighth grade graduates now being completed by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Josephine Corliss Preston. All others are reported to be engaged in some trade, attending school or helping with house or farm work at home.

Sixty-seven per cent of the rural grammar school graduates have continued their educations in high school, this proportion being three per cent higher than the average for the 37 counties in which the survey is now complete.

"I am very much interested in helping the 68 boys and 85 girls of Whitman county who are at home assisting their parents," says Superintendent Preston, in commenting on the survey. "I have received letters from girls in Whitman and other counties saying their mothers are ill, in some cases dead, and that they are keeping house and caring for their families. Often the boys write that they are helping their fathers so the younger children may attend school.

"Our state educational system should take care of these boys and girls whose duty compels them to remain at home rather than continue in school. I am writing a personal letter to each of them in an effort to interest them in further study, and within a few weeks, I shall publish a bulletin, giving a list of the means by which they may obtain more advanced education, even though it is impossible for them to attend high school or college.

This survey will not only enable the department of education to reach the boys and girls who drop out of school after completing the eighth grade, but the statistics as to the occupations entered will make possible organization of vocational training along lines of most benefit to the largest number of pupils.

Forty-two of the graduates are employed as farm hands; 19 as laborers; 10 as domestic servants; six in stores; four as telephone operators; two as garage employes; one in a butcher shop, and one in a baker's. One graduate is reported to have entered the ministry, the only one in the state. Two are barbers and one a paper boy. Three are in state normal schools; two taking special professional training and five are in business colleges.

The healthful environments in Whitman county are attested by the fact that but one of the graduates is reported to have died. Twenty-six have moved from the state, and 51 from the district in which they attended school. No reports have been received from 18, and the whereabouts of 26 are unknown. In order that the records may be complete, anyone having knowledge of the present address and occupation of any of the following persons is asked to send that information to the state superintendent of public instruction, Olympia, Washington:

- Dora Lamb, Dist. 9; Frederick Lucas, Dist. 12; Mae Lee, Dist. 24; Josephine Buckingham, Margaret Moses, Louvena Hampton, Enola Smith, Maude Morgan and Anna Petrusky, Dist. 61; Ellery Sille, Dist. 55; Eva Danielson and Sata Luen, Dist. 69; Francis Swan and Irene Mullins, Dist. 74; Floyd McKamey, Dist. 96; Willie Taylor, Dist. 122; Floyd Perin, Dist. 117; Elsie Mohrman, Dist. 104; Maceo Canull, Dist. 135, and Lester O'Dell, Dist. 170.

Easter Services at the Churches

Fine Musical Programs Will Be Features at Nearly All the Houses of Worship Next Sunday

United Presbyterian Church

The Easter service at the Presbyterian church will be a veritable feast of song. Two beautiful cantatas have been prepared and in addition to this, solos will be rendered by members of the choir and the Presbyterian male quartet will sing. In the morning the Easter cantata, "Death and Life," by Shelley, will be given. Probably no more beautiful cantata for Easter has been written and the splendid choruses, solos and duets commencing with the mockery of Christ, portraying the grief of the rejection by His chosen people, the pain and sorrow of death, and finally the joy of resurrection and triumphal glory, present a song picture of remarkable beauty and power.

The entire evening service will be devoted to the rendition of A. Gaul's "Holy City," and this splendid masterpiece of the famous composer needs no description. There is no sacred cantata that has been so often sung by first class choirs as "The Holy City." There is not a solo, duet, quartet, quintet or chorus in the entire work that is not a gem of sacred song and that does not appeal to all classes through the beauty of its sentiment and its melody. The giving of this work marks an epoch in the history of church music in Pullman and great credit is due the Presbyterian choir for its selection and preparation of such beautiful music. Both morning and evening services are under the direction of Prof. Frank C. Chalfant of the College. Mrs. J. R. Stephenson will play the accompaniments for both cantatas.

The soloists for the morning service are Mrs. F. C. Chalfant, Miss Iva Davidson, and Miss Zella Melcher, sopranos; Miss Maida Witt, alto; Mr. Geo. Spinning and Mr. Foote, tenors, and Mr. Harry Lynde, bass.

In the evening the solos, duets, and quartets will be given by Mrs. Chalfant, Miss Davidson and Miss Melcher, sopranos; Miss Fertig and Miss Witt, altos; Mr. Foote and Mr. Stephenson, tenors; and Mr. Lynde, bass. All are cordially invited to attend both services.

NEW CITY QUARTERS ARE WELL APPOINTED

Commodious Assembly Room, Dining Room and Kitchen Available for Municipal Gatherings—City Offices on Lower Floor

The completion this week of the remodeling of the city hall provides a commodious assembly room, dining room and kitchen for municipal gatherings and for meetings and banquets of the chamber of commerce, as well as an elegant home for the city fathers during their fortnightly deliberations. The entire second story of the city hall has been remodeled. All the partitions were removed and the entire floor space, with the exception of a small but well appointed kitchen in the northeast corner, is available for public gatherings. The new quarters will provide ample room for all public assemblies and when used as a dining room will easily seat 200 persons. The entrance to the hall has been changed to the Kamiaken street side.

The lower floor has been fitted up for office rooms for the various city officials, doing away with the flight of stairs which it was formerly necessary to climb to gain access to the official sanctuaries. The southeast corner of the lower floor will be fitted up as a municipal rest room, the other rooms on the south side to be fitted up for the city treasurer and city clerk, the clerk's office to abut the city bastille, with the vault to the north. An office has also been provided for Water Commissioner C. M. Hooper.

The city officials will move into their new quarters as soon as the concrete sidewalk leading to the entrance of the building is completed, probably some time next week.

OLD SOLDIERS HONORED

Three veterans of the Civil war were honored last Saturday by the ladies of the W. R. C., the affair being in honor of the birthdays of the three guests of honor, R. Lanning, Thos. Mathews and M. L. Baxter. A sumptuous dinner was prepared by the ladies and the old soldiers were seated at a central table, with silk American flags at each end and mammoth birthday cakes for each of the honored veterans. The big dinner was served cafeteria style, each of the 100 guests filling his plate to overflowing at the tables which contained the good things, each presided over by ladies of the W. R. C. Following the dinner a short patriotic program was given.

ENGINEER ORDINANCE PASSED

Under the provisions of an ordinance passed by the council at its weekly meeting the city engineer will hereafter be paid at the rate of $1.00 per hour for time actually given to the city work, instead of a flat salary of $125 per month as at present. The ordinance makes the office of city engineer an appointive one and the officer will serve at the discretion of the mayor.

W. S. C. SCARES SPOKANE LEAGUERS

First Two Games of Series Go to Indians After Ten Innings of Close Play—Visitors Look Weak

Manager Nick Williams of the Spokane league baseball team must bolster up his team considerably to prove a pennant contender in the Northwest league race, is the opinion of Pullman fans who braved the cold weather to watch the first three ball games of the Spokane-W. S. C. series, played on Rogers field Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. In the first contests W. S. C. showed greater batting strength than the visitors, while Pitcher Moss proved just as good as Salveson, and Hartman had a considerable edge over Leonard in the same capacity. Spokane has an excellent fielding team, but was out-fielded in the first game, having an edge in this department in the second and third.

The first game was won by the visitors in the tenth inning when a 2-2 tie was broken, Spokane annexing a third run and holding W. S. C. scoreless in the extra frame.

The second game ended 5 to 2. Spokane in this case annexing three runs in the extra inning when the locals blew up and let three grievous errors out of their systems. Pitcher Hartman was the worst offender in this inning and has nobody to blame for his defeat but himself, although he pitched big league ball throughout.

The work of Pitcher Mickey Shadler was the feature of the first two games, the spit ball artist acting as a relief pitcher. In the first game he whiffed Pitcher Moss with the bases full and two down in the extra inning, and repeated Wednesday with three straight strikeouts in the tenth after W. S. C. had started a batting rally.

First Game 3 to 2

First inning: Mensor went out, pitcher to first; Neighbors' fly was caught by third, and Wolfer went out, third to first. For Washington State Stenberg was out, third to first; Bohler out, short to first, and Passmore out, pitcher to first.

Second frame: Gislason was out, pitcher to first; Murray grounded a single to left; Clothier was hit by a pitched ball and McGinnis walked, filling the bases. Murray was caught at home on third's throw and Coltrin went to first on fielder's choice. Salveson flied out to left field, however, and the side was retired. In the second half Anderson hit to right field and went to second on Salveson's wild throw, while Smalley got a life on fielder's choice. He was caught at second, however, and Jerard went to first on fielder's choice. Smith flied out to left field and Anderson was caught at home on the play.

In the third Mensor struck out; Neighbors' fly was caught in left; Wolfer walked and Gislason doubled. Murray, however, was out, third to first. Moss was out, second to first; Low singled to center; Stenberg's foul was caught by catcher; Bohler hit to center and Passmore walked, filling the bases. He was caught at second, however, on Anderson's grounder to short.

The fourth didn't last long. Clothier walked but McGinnis and Coltrin flied out to short and Salveson struck out. Smalley and Moss struck out, Smith got on on short's error, but Jerard was out, third to first.

The first Spokane score came in the fifth. Mensor was out, third to first, but Neighbors walked; Wolfer's fly was caught by second, and Gislason hit through short, scoring Neighbors. Murray went out, third to first. Lowe's fly was caught by short and Stenberg flied out to left, while Bohler was caught at first on third's throw.

Clothier flied out to third, McGinnis got on on Smith's error but was caught, second to short, when Coltrin went on on fielder's choice. Salveson struck out. Passmore was out, second to first, and Anderson struck out. With no one on, Smalley drove the ball clear off the field and circled the bases, tying the score. Jerard's fly was caught in right.
