NEW SLIP-ON FROCKS THE ESSENCE OF SIMPLICITY

They Are Made Without Fastenings of Any Kind—Interesting Summer Lingerie

There is something new under the sun in feminine attire! The agitation for simplicity in dress which has been interesting certain designers and many women of fashion is responsible for a new type of frock which is adjusted without buttons, hooks and eyes, snaps or any kind of fastenings. This sounds almost fabulous, but it is easily explained. These dresses slip on over the head, and the opening at the neck and the adjusting of the waistline by an elastic permit the slipping off and on to be an easy matter. The elastic gives and the neck opening is sufficiently large, so that it requires no special feat of agility to get in and out of these dresses, as was the case with some of the very first types of slip-on frocks.

If you have the least doubt as to the smartness of such a frock look at the dresses pictured here. Certainly, you would never suspect them of being differently constructed from any other of the smart, simple dresses that are now in vogue! The model above is developed in black satin with a white satin collar, and facings of white satin for the long pocket extensions at the sides of the skirt. The belt of black satin is adjusted separately over the casing on which the dress is drawn up at the waistline. Although the lines of dresses have been absolutely straight, for the most part, the bouffant effect at the hips seems to be growing in importance more and more. Sometimes it is acquired by soft drapery cleverly handled, and sometimes by pocket extensions as in the model shown here.

A Slip-on Frock Requiring No Fastening

In the second sketch is a morning dress of chambray with collar and cuffs of white pique edged with hand-embroidered scallops. This is another of the simple slip-on dresses. The skirt is pleated at the waistline in soft, unstitched pleats. In some models the straight gathered skirt is featured.

Very interesting in development are some of the tub frocks for general country use. There is quite a rage for combining two materials such as voile and gingham, or organdy and gingham. The most popular development is a waist of white voile with skirt of plaid or striped gingham, and collar and cuffs also of gingham. The appearance of a separate waist and skirt is given but it is in reality a one-piece dress developed in two materials.

To go with the gingham dresses that every one is wearing this season the very newest thing is to have your hat trimmed with gingham to match the costume, or you may have the hat made entirely of gingham. Such a combination of matching hat and gown is most refreshing for informal wear in the country.

Summer Lingerie

There is a great deal of interest in lingerie, even though it is long past January, the month that is usually devoted to thinking about it. Nowadays, there is so much that is attractive in new lingerie that in early summer the shops display as many tempting things in the line of lingerie as it is their rule to do in the first month of the year. French underwear is the thing this season, and everyone knows how utterly charming this fine lingerie always is. The sheerest materials are used with quantities of fine Valenciennes lace insertion and edging, as well as the most exquisite hand embroidery. Lace is sometimes applied with hemstitching at the edge and this gives a much daintier effect than the plain stitching while it is just as practical. Other telling details such as rows of tiny tucks above the hems and night-

gowns, and lace insertion applied in several rows at even distances apart and finished with edging, contribute to the unusual charm of the French lingerie. Of course, there are delicately colored pink and blue ribbons to give the finishing touches to these fascinating garments.

Beige and Sand-colored Dresses

At every turn these days one is confronted by numbers of beige and sand-colored dresses. These are in the light-weight wool fabrics, chiefly gabardine, wool jersey and the very closely knitted fabrics. It is very seldom that they are not trimmed with soutache, beads or the machine chain-stitch embroidery, and in most cases these trimmings are in self color. Sometimes a contrasting color appears, however, and dark red is one of the most effective against sand color. When dresses of this type are not trimmed with embroidery in any of the popular forms, their only finish is a collar of white satin or organdy and sometimes a patent leather or suede belt.

Speaking of the popularity of soutache and chain-stitching, both of these now appear on hats. There are some new tam-o-shanters of satin with the crowns covered with either soutache or the stitching.

STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Representatives of women's state organizations met in Seattle Tuesday, July 10, for the purpose of perfecting and outlining the work of the Women's Committee of Council of National Defense for this state.

The meeting was called by Mrs. Winfield R. Smith, chairman of the council. About 20 state organizations were represented, all pledging the loyal and hearty support of their respective organizations in the food conservation campaign which is being carried on throughout the nation.

Every woman in Washington is urged to sign the food conservation pledge card issued by the State Council of Defense. The federated clubs are requested to co-operate with the food sanitation, food conservation, and home economics departments of the Washington State Federation of Women's Clubs and any other organization undertaking the work in their community.

That the national defense work may be carried to a successful issue it will be necessary to have money, and an appeal will be made to women's organizations for contributions. Your president has appointed an emergency committee to raise the state federation's apportionment. The personnel of the committee is Miss Bessie L. Winsor, 5203 Brooklyn avenue, Seattle, chairman; Mrs. David Murray, Ellensburg, and Mrs. George N. McLaughlin, 1239 20th Ave., Seattle. Do not wait for this committee to solicit your club; give them your loyal support; write at once and ask the committee what you can do to help. Three things you are asked to do: Sign the food conservation pledge card; assist in getting others to sign it; assist in co-ordinating women's work, and help the emergency committee to raise the apportionment.
