TO CAN SWEET CORN

Can as soon after the corn is gathered as possible. Remove husks and silk. Blanch by placing in boiling water for five minutes. Remove and dip quickly into and out of cold water. Cut the corn from the cob and pack directly into hot jars or cans to within one-quarter inch of the top. Pour in enough boiling water to fill the container. Add one level teaspoonful of salt to each quart. Put rubber rings and caps of jars into position, but do not tighten the wire clamps. Seal tin cans completely.

Place containers on a false bottom of wooden slats or wire mesh in a vessel of water deep enough to completely cover the containers. Keep the water boiling for three hours.

Remove the jars; tighten covers; invert jars to test seal, and cool (not in draft, as jars might crack).

Tin cans may be placed in cold water for rapid cooling.

After the containers are cool store in a dark, cool place.

Rapid preparation for canning is especially desirable for corn if a good quality of product is to be obtained. The best results can be secured when one person cuts the corn from the cob and another fills the containers.

If it is necessary for one person to work alone she should cut off sufficient corn to fill one jar, pour on boiling water, add salt, place the rubbers and caps in position and put the jar or container into hot water at once. The extra cooking which will be given to the cans first filled will not be injurious and a better product will be secured than if the cut corn were allowed to stand until all jars were filled.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Martin and Miss Babe Shaw called at the J. S. Klemgard and V. L. Higgins homes Tuesday afternoon.

Several combines are laying off on account of the horses having contracted distemper and influenza.

Members of the combine crew of J. S. Klemgard discovered a large porcupine in a small clump of brush in the field in which they were working Wednesday. Their attention was first attracted by a coyote which appeared to be watching something near the brush. They next saw the porcupine run a few steps and thought it was a badger. They stopped and killed the animal which proved to be a porcupine, and a very large specimen of that animal.

Mrs. Fred Paulus and baby spent Wednesday at the W. F. Paulus home.

PULLMAN SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

To provide a systematic and absolutely safe plan for the investment of savings, and to aid its members to acquire homes of their own is the object of the Pullman Savings and Loan Association. The Association is in every sense a HOME institution.

Who It's For

It is for the Practical Man, who realizing the uncertainty of business and health, and of the folly of spending all his money as fast as he gets it, provides for an emergency.

It is for the Prudent Woman, who out of her earnings or allowance, desires to put away a little money, monthly, where it will be securely and profitably invested, and give her the least trouble and where she can get it when needed.

It is for the Young Man possessing the manhood and determination to save something every month from his earnings as a reserve fund, to draw on when sick or out of a position, for providing a home or for a start in business.

It is for Boys and Girls, to help them to be economical and industrious and to encourage them to acquire the habit of saving, provide a fund to educate them and to make them independent.

It is for Societies, Fraternal and Other Organizations wishing to invest their income for the purpose of creating a reserve fund, or for building.

It is for all Seeking a Home or who want to improve their property, or pay off a mortgage or to provide a fund for any other worthy purpose.
