

KEGLEY, GRANGE HEAD DIES IN SPOKANE

Former Pullman Man Succumbs to Attack of Pneumonia—Lived
Active Life and Accomplished Much for Farmers

C. B. Kegley, master of the State Grange and appraiser for the federal land bank at Spokane, died at the Deaconess hospital in Spokane Monday night from pneumonia. Mr. Kegley farmed extensively near Pullman for several years prior to removing to Palouse and was well known in this locality. Concerning Mr. Kegley's demise the Spokane Chronicle had the following to say:

Mr. Kegley's death was unexpected, and his illness short, becoming serious only last Saturday, when he was admitted to the hospital.

For six months he had been an appraiser for the federal land bank, and in spite of his official position was re-elected at the convention in Wenatchee to head the Grange for 1917.

Though a constant visitor to Spokane, and an active participant in local political enterprises, Mr. Kegley made his residence in the city only after taking up the connection with the land bank. Assistance in the creation of the federal rural credits system was probably the most effective of Mr. Kegley's recent activities.

Called to Washington several times during the consideration of the measure, he was one of the men suggested for appointment to the national farm loan board. It was stated on good authority that the board tendered him the presidency of the Spokane bank, but that he refused to accept it, declaring that a man of more banking experience, finally found in D. G. O'Shea, was needed to organize its work.

Previously Mr. Kegley, as the official spokesman of the Grange, led in the fight for the adoption of the initiative and referendum in the state, and helped organize the joint legislative committee of the farmers and labor unions. He was always one of the two or three men whose decisions controlled successful and unsuccessful attempts to use direct legislation in the state.

An active advocate of the organization of the bull moose party, upon its failure and death he had thrown his influence to back up the farmers' non-partisan league movement, and had been its chief counselor in the invasion in the Washington field.

With the land bank, his work had chiefly been that of conciliator and mediator, and it was noticeable that his assignments had all been to work in fields where the rural credits system has had its hardest tests. His personal ascendancy in the affairs of the State Grange was never successfully challenged, though he led the organization into some of the most bitter controversies, personal and political, that the public life of the state has experienced.

Personally, Mr. Kegley made warm friends and unrelenting enemies during his career. An able orator, he was tirelessly energetic in study, and the presentation of the various political causes which he upheld.

He was 62 years of age, born in Ames, Iowa, and made his residence in the Palouse country since 1891. He owned and operated a farm near Palouse city, upon which he lived until taking up his residence in Spokane.

His widow, one son, L. E. Kegley, of Palouse; two daughters, Mrs. H. E. Richter of Spokane and Mrs. L. G. Gilder of Harvard, Idaho; a brother living in Olympia, and sisters and brothers in Colorado and Iowa, survive him.

"We have no doubt that the exposure to changing weather conditions while at work in the field was the primal cause of Mr. Kegley's death," declared President D. G. O'Shea of the land bank, official superior of the deceased man.

"He was a most enthusiastic worker, whose zeal induced him to labor at all hours, and in his strenuous occupation he contracted the illness which developed into bronchial pneumonia.

"We found him here a man with the widest experience and first-hand knowledge of agricultural matters in his field. Devoted to the service, personally most anxious to extend the facilities of the bank to the largest number of people in the quickest possible time, his loss to our service is nearly irreparable."

EWARTSVILLE

Cecil Eaton has purchased the lease on the land recently bought by W. R. Morrison from W. H. Eaton and will move onto it in a few days.

W. H. Eaton this week finished combining his barley crop on the land he recently sold to W. R. Morrison.

J. M. Klemgard, W. H. Kincaid and J. S. Klemgard went to Spokane Sunday to attend the funeral of Mr. White, an old time friend of the Klemgard and Kincaid families. They returned home Monday.

Miss Edna Boundy has entered the Northwestern Business College in Spokane.

A. F. Carrothers motored to Colfax Monday to meet his daughter, Mrs. Alta Dickey, of Buhl, Idaho, who arrived on that day to spend some time visiting at the Carrothers home.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Bryant had as their guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bush and children, Frances and Dale, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Whitten, and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paullus and little daughter, Louise, spent from Saturday until Sunday visiting with Mr. Paullus' sister, Mrs. James Pendry, of Cambridge, Idaho, at the W. F. Paullus home.

Mrs. C. O. Slusser and little son, Paul, spent a few days last week at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Klemgard, in Pullman.

G. L. Stickler, while en route to Ritzville last Wednesday from his road camp between Lewiston and Uniontown, upset his Case car near the P. C. L. ranch on Union flat. The car was considerably damaged, but neither Mr. Stickler, nor Mr. Mitchell, who was with him, were seriously injured.

Mrs. Walter Moys of near Almota, was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. W. H. Pritchard, last Thursday.

Mrs. J. C. Kamerrer spent Monday with her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Hollenbeck.

Mrs. Minnie Bryant and son, Wayne, who have been at Phillipsburg, Mont., for several months, returned last Saturday to visit the former's mother, Mrs. A. F. Carrothers. Mrs. Bryant says that when she left Phillipsburg the temperature was zero, and there were between four and five inches of snow on the ground.

Claude and Lee Roy Rucker assisted W. F. Eaton harvest his barley this week.

The neighborhood was saddened Tuesday by the news of the death of C. B. Kegley of Palouse, master of the State Grange. Mr. Kegley was for many years a resident of Union flat and had many friends here. He was master of the local Grange while he resided here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kincaid and children, Helen and Jack, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kincaid Sunday.

A pie social will be given at the Ontario school house Friday evening, November 9. A play entitled "America First" will be given by the pupils, under the direction of Miss Harris, teacher. Pie will be sold for 10 cents and coffee for five cents.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kincaid and children, Helen and Jack, called at the J. S. Klemgard farm Sunday afternoon.

ANNOUNCEMENT

On behalf of the Federated churches—First Baptist and Congregational—we desire to call attention to our co-operative church work.

Our federation has been in operation for four years, and it has demonstrated to us that two distinct religious denominations can worship and work together, and also maintain the individuality of each organization. Each of the churches in the federation has its own officers, conducts its own business, votes on and receives its own members, and contributes to the benevolences of its own denomination. The union is wholly for worship and work. The relation which the two churches bear to each other and to the federation is similar to the relation which the states of the Union bear to each other and to the federal government.

We are now holding services in our new church building, corner of Montgomery and Ruby streets, and we invite all members and friends of either of the churches of the federation to unite with us in our co-operative work.

Fraternally yours,

Geo. M. Stratton,
Clerk of First Baptist Church.

E. F. Gaines,
Clerk of Congregational Church.

C. H. Harrison,
Minister.

FIRST LIBERTY BONDS MAY BE CONVERTED Defeat Holders Privileged to Convert 3½ Per Cent Bonds into Four Per Cent Papers—Full Informa- tion Given

The Pullman banks have this week received official notification concerning the methods of converting first issue Liberty Bonds, bearing 3½ per cent interest, into bonds bearing four per cent interest. The information concerning the conversion is as follows:

Title of Bonds—Four Per Cent Convertible Gold Bonds of 1922-1947.

Date of Issue—November 15, 1917.

Maturity—June 15, 1947, redeemable on or after June 15, 1932.

Date of Conversion—Bonds may be presented for conversion on and after November 8, 1917. Conversion privilege ceases May 15, 1918. If bonds of a new series are issued by the United States during the present war at a higher rate of interest than 3½ per cent per annum, holders of first issue 3½ per cent Liberty Loan bonds may exchange same for bonds with interest rate and general terms of such new issue, but with same interest dates, maturity and privilege or redemption as the original bonds. This will apply to First Liberty Loan 3½ per cent bonds not converted into present new four per cent bonds.

Interest Rate—Four per cent per annum from date of conversion not earlier than November 15, 1917.

Interest Payable—June 15 and December 15.

Tax Conditions—Same as for four per cent Convertible Gold Bonds Second Liberty Loan.

Interest Adjustment—First coupon, payable December 15, 1917, will carry interest for five months at 3½ per cent per annum and for one month at four per cent per annum.

Bonds presented for conversion after November 15, 1917, but before December 15, 1917, may be converted as of December 15, 1917; or exact interest difference may be adjusted by payment of difference to Federal Reserve Bank. All conversions after December 15, 1917, will require payment of interest adjustment to Federal Reserve Bank.

Transportation Charges—Transportation charges CAN NOT be paid by the government on 3½ coupon bonds sent in for conversion or on conversion bonds issued therefor.

Transportation charges WILL be paid on interim certificates sent in for conversion and on conversion bonds issued therefor.

FOR RENT—Five-room suite, close in; partly furnished; $17.50. Call 2124. nov2tf

DO YOU HAVE DIZZY SPELLS?

It's Important to Learn the Cause, as Many Pullman People Have

Dizziness is never a disease of itself—it's only a symptom of some deeper-seated trouble. Much dizziness is caused by disorderly kidneys failing to filter all the poisons from the blood. These poisons attack the nerves and dizziness results. If you are subject to dizziness, there is good reason to suspect your kidneys, and if you suffer headache, headache, and irregularity of the kidney secretions, you have further proof. Many Pullman people have learned the value of Doan's Kidney Pills in just such cases. Read this Pullman resident's statement:

Mrs. M. E. Foot, 519 Paradise St., says: "I can hardly describe the misery I endured from backache last winter. My back was so painful I couldn't sleep well and when I stooped I just felt miserable. I had that tired feeling, along with headaches and dizzy spells. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I took fully a dozen boxes. They surely gave me fine results."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Foot had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
