

PROSPECT LOOKS GOOD

TO W. E. McCROSKEY
Democratic Candidate for Congress
Making Thorough Canvass and Receiving Many Pledges of Support

W. E. McCroskey stopped off at Pullman yesterday on his way to the southeastern part of the district, and when interviewed expressed satisfaction with the progress of his campaign for congress.

He has just returned from an extensive tour over the western and central portions of the district, visiting nearly all of the cities and towns in the Kittitas and Yakima valleys and including portions of Franklin and Adams counties.

He reports that outside of a few politicians and a very small number of partisan newspapers, there is very little partisanship in evidence. The people are very much interested in the prosecution of the war and the problems that shall follow peace.

He reports that a large number of republicans in all points visited by him, have assured him of their loyal support. They state that there has never been a war administration that has not been given a vote of confidence, by the election of a congress of the same party faith as the President, and that in this greatest of all wars and in view of the fact that for the next two years at least or until the war ends, the President and the senate will be democratic, it is but fair and right that President Wilson should have a congress of his own party to assist in the prosecution and settlement of the conflict.

The opinion also prevails generally that while the members of both and all parties are supporting the war, yet our allies and our enemies look upon President Wilson as the leader and spokesman of the allied cause, and that if, in this election, he fails to secure a congress of his party faith, such action may be misunderstood by our allies and they may feel that the war is not popular at home, while our enemies may take heart to prolong the struggle.

Mr. McCroskey will not make any political addresses until after the end of the Liberty Loan campaign, but will continue to travel over the district and inform himself as to the needs and interests of the people of each community, while assisting in the speaking campaign of the Liberty Loan drive.

RED CROSS MOVES SURGICAL DRESSING DEPT.

The room occupied by the surgical dressings department of the Red Cross has been rented for other purposes, forcing the ladies to move this department into the second story of the Scott and Watt building, over Watt's Pharmacy. The rooms will be open every afternoon except Saturday and all Pullman women are urged to help, as there are still 200 trench packets to make to fill our quota. The following supervisors will be in charge:

- Monday—Mrs. Folger and Mrs. Egge.
Tuesday—Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Pfeiffer.
Wednesday—Mrs. Heald and Mrs. Harris.
Thursday—Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Waller.
Friday—Mrs. Emerson and Mrs. Thornber.
Wednesday evening—Mrs. Bostic and Mrs. Bahrenburg.

EXTRA! EXTRA!

"Fletch" Staley's desk is in order! No, the wind didn't blow while the door was open, and "Fletch" himself was too much occupied with his numerous war duties, including the management of the Liberty Loan drive, the chairmanship of the local food price commission, official sugar dispenser and numerous and divers other patriotic vocations, to do the work himself, but his esteemed helpmate slipped in while the head of the household was out of town and put that mooted desk in shipshape. "Fletch's" only complaint is that he "can't find a darned thing now."

J. B. HOLT'S AUTO STOLEN

The Overland automobile owned by J. B. Holt was stolen from his garage some time Sunday night, the theft being discovered Monday noon. All efforts to locate the machine have so far proved futile and there is absolutely no clue to the identity of the thieves or the direction in which they went. The machine bore license number 20,267, and the gasoline tank was dented in the outer left corner.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to hereby express our heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors who so generously extended their sympathy and aid in the hour of our heavy bereavement.

NEW SUGAR REGULATIONS

To All Retail Sugar Dealers:

Effective on October 1, you are allowed to sell at one time a month's supply of sugar to the consumer. This supply, of course, is based on two pounds per person per month. For example, if there are five in the family they may buy 10 pounds at one time, but are not entitled to buy another supply until a month has elapsed.

This supercedes the rule allowing sale of two pounds to town trade and five pounds to the country.

The change is not made because there is any less need of conservation in sugar. The domestic canning demand, however, will soon decrease and the available spot stocks of sugar will make possible this change as a convenience to both the consumers and the retailers.

In order to supply our army and allies with the sugar that is absolutely essential in winning the war we must not exceed the two pounds per person per month allowance.

You are to continue your weekly reports on sugar sales as heretofore.

Very truly,

CHARLES HEBBERD,

Federal Food Administrator for Washington.

MRS. LA FOLLETTE DIED IN SPOKANE

Mother of Congressman W. L. La Follette Succumbs After Several Months of Failing Health

The following account of the death of Mrs. Susan LaFollette, mother of Congressman William LaFollette of this city, is taken from Wednesday's Spokesman-Review:

Mrs. Susan C. LaFollette, the mother of Congressman William L. LaFollette of Pullman, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clara L. Nash, N3309 Post street, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. LaFollette came here a year ago from Indiana, where she was born 82 years ago and where nearly all of her life had been spent. In the last few months of her residence in Spokane her health had been failing and in the last seven weeks she had been able to take only liquid nourishment. In spite of these handicaps Mrs. LaFollette showed great vitality and retained her faculties throughout the greater period of the ordeal. By her request a post mortem examination will be performed this morning by Dr. T. M. Ahlquist to determine the cause of her death.

The devotion of her children was demonstrated by their arrival here more than a week ago, when threatening conditions developed.

Mrs. LaFollette was Miss Fullenweider before her marriage to Harvey M. LaFollette. Her husband died several years ago. She is survived by four sons, C. E. LaFollette of Chicago, Harvey M and Grant A. LaFollette of Tennessee, and Congressman LaFollette, and a daughter, Mrs. Nash. The body is at the Hazen-Jaeger rooms.

GLENN PATTON DIES SUDDENLY

Glenn Patton, 19-year-old high school student, died suddenly Saturday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Crow, with whom he was rooming. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Patton, farmers of the Rose Creek district, just north of Pullman, and was a senior in the high school. Last Thursday the young man underwent a minor operation on his tonsils, but was apparently recovering nicely and his sudden death was unexpected, probably being due to heart failure. Funeral services were held at 2:30 Sunday afternoon from the Christian church, the Rev. R. C. Sargent officiating. Students of the high school attended the services in a body. The young man carried an insurance policy for $1000 with the Western Union company, which he had taken out only a short time previous to his death.

POPCORN FAMINE

Due to his inability to secure popcorn at any price, F. D. Gelwick has closed down his popcorn and peanut stand awaiting the harvest of the new crop in the east. Mr. Gelwick addressed letters to 21 firms handling popcorn, but in every case the answer was the same: "None to be had." The famine is attributed to the frosts in the corn belt last fall, which reduced the yield to a great extent. Considerable popcorn was raised in the west but this supply was soon exhausted and all the markets are now displaying the "sold out" sign.

EARLIER CHURCH SERVICES

For the convenience of the men at the college, all the local churches will hold their morning services half an hour earlier than formerly. Beginning next Sunday, October 6, the churches will open at 9:20 and church services will be held at 10:30 a. m.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS

Private Peat was greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience at the college auditorium Tuesday evening and told his experiences on the firing line in a way that gripped his hearers and strengthened their determination to help win the war at all costs.

H. S. McCurley came down from Spokane Tuesday evening to accept a position in The Herald office. Soon after his arrival he was taken sick and it is feared that he has typhoid fever. He left yesterday for Vancou to receive treatment in a hospital which his sister conducts.

The regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening was obliged to adjourn without transacting any business, because of a lack of a quorum.

C. F. Anderson, assistant cashier of the First National bank, is suffering from an attack of typhoid fever, which developed last Friday. He is supposed to have contracted the disease while working in the harvest fields during his vacation.

Bishop Page of Spokane and Mrs. Page were in Pullman Monday and Tuesday attending a meeting of the Southeast Deanery of the Missionary District of Spokane.

Rally Day will be observed next Sunday morning at the U. P. Bible school at 9:20 (note the change of time). Every scholar and teacher is expected to be present and new scholars and college students will be especially welcome. A special program has been prepared.

Max Hinrichs will sell at the Mel Farley auction, October 11, a full-blood Shropshire ram, for the benefit of the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hungate returned Saturday from Spokane, where they had been visiting relatives. Their daughter, Mrs. C. V. Piper of Washington, D. C., who spent the summer with them, has returned to her home.

F. N. Bryant returned Saturday from Spokane, where he had been spending a few days.

Mrs. Healy arrived last Friday from Iowa, to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Foote. She spent the summer visiting her son at Garner, Iowa, and a brother-in-law at Britt, Iowa. Mrs. Healy says that the farmers of Iowa produced a wonderful crop this year and are in a very prosperous condition.

Miss Frances Randall was married last Friday to Arthur Mills, a former student at the State College. The ceremony was performed at the Knox Presbyterian church at Spokane, where Mr. Mills resides. He expects to enter the army in the near future and during his absence Mrs. Mills will occupy a clerical position in Spokane. She finished a business course at the State College in September.

Mrs. Mary Durham has returned to Pullman from Seattle, where she spent a few days ago with the expectation of making her home. The scarcity of houses and the high cost of living in the Puget sound metropolis caused her to decide to remain in Pullman during the war, despite the fact that she had her furniture all packed and ready to ship. She will occupy the house on Campus avenue just opposite the president's mansion.

I. B. Doolittle, republican candidate for county assessor, was up from his home in Colfax last Friday, mingling with Pullman voters.

Mrs. Wm. Goodyear and her mother, Mrs. F. R. Shurtleff, went to Spokane yesterday to spend a few days with friends.

A. A. Elmore of Spokane, state president of the Farmers Union, was in Pullman last Saturday night with his family. They made the trip in his Ford machine.

A. D. O'Kelly was up from Colfax Wednesday on business.

Wm. Goodyear made an address to a mammoth crowd at the close of the big Liberty Loan procession at Spokane last Sunday.

Lee Lukins returned Monday to Camp Lewis, after spending a two months furlough working in the harvest.

The room at the corner of Main and Grand streets, which has been occupied as Red Cross headquarters, has been leased for a new meat market, which will open for business in the next few days.

The Red Cross headquarters are being moved to the store formerly occupied by the Hub store, just east of Beck's bakery.

The next county convention of the Farmers Union will be held in Pullman Tuesday, October 15.

S. E. Ratliff, deputy collector of internal revenue, was in Pullman on business Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sanborn made an automobile trip to Spokane this week.

George W. Ford, former Pullmanite, was down from Spokane the first of the week looking after business interests.

Mrs. A. F. Brownell of Cheney is visiting Pullman friends this week.

We wish to announce to our friends and neighbors, oldtimers and newcomers, that we have installed a gas service station in front of the Pullman State Bank building on Main street, and respectfully solicit a share of your trade in gasoline and oils.

PROMINENT BAPTIST VISITORS

The Rev. Dr. Devine, head of the Church Edifice department of the Northern Baptist Convention, and Dr. A. H. Bailey, superintendent of the Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho Baptist Convention, were the guests on Monday last of the Rev. John A. Shaw, pastor of the Pullman Baptist church. Their business was the consideration of a new house of worship for the Pullman Baptist church. The decision was that a new location should be purchased, but the building should not be constructed until after the war. In the meantime the Pullman Baptist church will worship in the old home on Paradise street, near Main.

LULU HAYNES MARRIED

Miss Lulu Haynes was married last Saturday at Colfax to Chester A. Spencer of Adams, Ore. The ceremony was performed at the M. E. parsonage by the Rev. J. G. Law. Mr. Spencer is a young farmer, but expects to go with the next draft. The young couple left at once to visit Mr. Spencer's people, after which Mrs. Spencer will make her home with her mother, Mrs. D. M. Haynes.

MOTHERS' CLUB

The first meeting of the year of the Mothers' club will be held Monday, October 7, in Science Hall at the college, at 3:15 p. m. The hostess of the afternoon will direct you to the room in which the club will meet. If the weather permits, the lecture of the afternoon will be given in Tanglewood at 4:00 o'clock. In case of inclement weather, it will be given in the museum. Prof. W. T. Shaw of the college faculty will lecture on "Birds." No one in this community is better able to speak on this subject, so it is hoped that many will avail themselves of the privilege.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The annual Ingathering of the Women's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church will be held at the hour of morning worship on October 13. All members and families in the congregation are asked to bring the contents of their thank offering boxes that morning. The address will be given by Miss Kate Hill, a returned missionary from India. Miss Hill has had many years of experience in that country and is an inspiring platform speaker. The public is invited to attend. On Sabbath afternoon the women of Pullman will be addressed by Miss Hill in the Presbyterian church. Next week is to be observed as self-denial week by the members of the congregation.

WOMEN AND THE WAR

By MRS. HENRY P. DAVISON

Treasurer War Work Council National Board Y. W. C. A.

Within six months after the United States entered the war, the Y. W. C. A. War Work Council had established girls' clubs near more than forty of the cantonments, barracks, and navy yards.

Mrs. Davison

To a sense of their responsibility in this time of great excitement and confusion.

No scolding of girls for unwise actions and no solemn finger-shaking occurs in the clubs. Instead of dwelling on what not to do, these wise leaders urge real patriotism. All sorts of projects are suggested that are more interesting than the dubious and dangerous pleasures which appeal to the ignorant and the thoughtless. At parties, for instance, these wily chaperones, whom no one ever thinks of as supervisors, arrange that there shall always be twice as many soldiers as girls. "Twosing" is utterly impossible where there are not enough girls to go around!

Club leaders do not attempt to banish the gallant soldier entirely from the girls' world; they wish only to bring him down from glorified heights of glamour to take his place as an every-day hero, subject to the same scrutiny as other men.

Instruction and relief work are not neglected. Among the activities offered are dressmaking, cooking, knitting, French, athletics, dancing, singing, Red Cross work, Belgian relief, and work for the fatherless children of France. The world contains a number of things besides soldiers for a girl's imagination to dwell upon. Hundreds of clubs for school and business girls all over the country are offering pleasanter recreation than the gaily lighted streets and the shadowy parks.

"I have a place now to spend my evenings," said a telephone girl in Waukegan, Illinois, to the club leader. "I was so lonely before you came."

Emergency housing for employed girls is closely connected with the more general welfare work. Centers, selected on the basis of immediate need, have been chosen as demonstration grounds to show employers how girl employees should be housed.

These centers are near the cantonments.

The Bureau of Social Morality is an important feature of the War Work Council's program under the present abnormal conditions. That ignorance is no shield to a girl is well known to its members. Instead, it is her gravest peril. Any situation shrouded in mystery is dangerous. Women can deal only with what they understand. A true social morality must be built on a foundation of knowledge, and be inspired by high aims.

Fourteen women physicians are talking to groups of parents, school-girls, and industrial women. These lecturers bend their best efforts to spreading information on social ideals.

Colored women at this time must meet all the problems confronting white women. Their situation is further complicated by industrial and social conditions. Special clubs are being formed among colored girls in the neighborhood of cantonments. Workers are being placed in industrial centers like Louisville, Kentucky, and Hopewell, Virginia.

Immigrant men who formerly labored in mines, on farms, and in factories, and now serve in our army, are themselves, in need of assistance. Foreign men marry young and many, even of the young ones, have large families dependent upon them. Because of these helpless families, the War Work Council has translators who go into the camps.

The activities of the War Work Council could not be confined to our own country. Our American nurses in France need the Y. W. C. A. social workers. Even the most self-reliant women must have help at the front where women's welfare is a matter of minor importance. A central club in Paris gives hard-worked, courageous nurses a home in a strange land. Branch clubs at all of the base hospitals provide relaxation and recreation for hours off.

When the French women cabled to the War Work Council, pleading for experts to advise them in establishing canteens and other war industries, experts were sent over to have over sight of the building and equipping of some of the canteens and act as adviser to French committees.

A professionally solemn-faced butler in one of the beautiful homes where a drawing-room meeting was being held stood where he heard the stories of the War Work Council's plans and accomplishments. After the guests had gone he approached the speaker with two one-dollar bills. "I give them for my daughter," he said. "I am subject to the next draft. When I am gone someone must look after my little girl. I feel the War Work Council will do it."

BANKER WILL FARM

J. E. Miller, cashier and stockholder in the Albion State bank, has disposed of his interests in the financial institution and has rented the Arch McAvoy and B. F. Taylor farms, four miles west of Pullman. He will occupy the residence on the Taylor place, and will take possession of both places this fall.

KNIGHTS HAVE BIG FEED

The members of the K. of P. lodge enjoyed a banquet at the regular session of the lodge Monday evening. Ice cream, cake and cocoa were on tap, and D. M. Patterson added to these goodies about 50 cantaloupes, grown on his "farm" in the north part of the city.

NEW S. A. T. C. OFFICERS

With the daily arrival of hundreds of new recruits for Section A of the S. A. T. C. and the impending arrival of 600 new men to form the Third Detachment of Section B, it is not only natural but welcome that a number of new officers should be joined to the corps. One new first lieutenant, Lieutenant Arthur R. Baird, and nine second lieutenants have arrived at Pullman and are rapidly becoming acquainted with their duties. The second lieutenants are Merville W. McInnis, Oram C. Woolpert, George O. Williams, Lloyd S. Perkins, John W. Quigg, William G. Elliot III, John E. Brooke, Jr., Hugh J. Dobbs, Jr., and Leo S. Fox. Lieutenant Dobbs made the trip north from San Francisco by water and was the last to arrive, as his boat put back to port on account of fire aboard.

The new officers are all from the San Francisco Students' Army Training Corps camp located at the Presidio. Several of the new officers are graduates of the local college, however, and are quite at home about the institution. It is expected that they will appear on the drill grounds before long.
