

MILITARY INSPECTION TO BE HELD MAY 1

Encampment to Be Held Before Inspection—Afternoon Drills Likely

Because of the enforced idleness of the military department during the flu epidemic, and the failure to carry on drill during the second quarter, it is likely that drill will be held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons in order to prepare for the annual military inspection made by a representative of the War Department on May 3. And because this inspection is to be some two or three weeks earlier than usual, the annual encampment will probably be held before that day. The place and dates for the encampment have not been decided upon. This information was given out by Lieutenant Colonel Wall Monday.

Due to the pep that Colonel Wall and his assistant, Sergeant Chas. Blake of Camp Lewis, has instilled into the men drilling, a bugle corps has been organized, a fife and drum corps is in the process of organization, while students are clamoring for the establishment of a cavalry unit, which was suggested by Col. Wall on his arrival. Nothing definite can be announced as to the cavalry until the board of regents acts upon the matter. Unofficial rumor has it, however, that that body of men is favorable to the proposition, so it is not at all unlikely that some celebrated "bay horse troop" will be cavorting around the Palouse hills in the near future.

INTERSCHOLASTIC WILL BE EXPENSIVE

Backing of Entire Student Body Will Be Necessary to Make Big Spring Event a Success

One of the biggest, if not the biggest, factor in edvertising Washington State College is the interscholastic. High school athletes from all over the state come to Pullman and see the college as it is and not as represented through papers and pamphlets.

It takes money to support the interscholastic—a lot of it. This year it will take approximately $1200 to bring the different teams here. This money has to be raised from the student body, faculty and the business men of the city.

The biggest item is railroad fare. Last year a fare and a third was allowed to all the teams, but this ruling no longer holds good.

Last year's expenses were approximately $900 and it is easy to see where railroad fare would eat up $200 more.

As everyone knows, there are only about 800 students enrolled in school, so tickets sold at 50 cents apiece, as they have been in former years, will mean that the student body would only raise $400 from this source, or about one-third of the expenses.

Tickets sold at $1 will raise approximately $800. This leaves $300 to be raised elsewhere—from faculty and business men.

Another item is the cost of medals to be given this year, which has not been done in former years. This cost will be about $15.

In order to make this interscholastic a success, it is up to everyone to get behind it and support it, not only financially but boost it with a whole lot of pep, and show the high schools that we are on the map.

The first track meet of the season will be held May 3 with the Spokane Amateur Athletic club at Spokane.

This meet will cause a large amount of interest as it is the first meet and will show where we are strong and where we are weak.

In this meet freshmen will be allowed to compete. The frosh have been showing up well in the track squad this season and they will be given a chance to show what they can do toward winning points.

If W. S. C. wins it will prove that we have a good chance for a champion team, as the S. A. A. C. is usually composed of all the stars of Spokane. Doc Bohler expects to take up all the men who are doing anything at all, and as this is the only meet that has been scheduled so far that freshmen can participate in, they ought to get out and show a little fight and make the trip.
