

CITIZENS, STUDENTS IMPROVE H. S. FIELD

First Annual High School Campus Day Results in Great Improvements on Athletic Field

With the students of the high school and many citizens of Pullman and farmers doing the manual labor and the girls of the school doing their full part in providing refreshments for the laborers, the first annual campus day at Pullman high school last Saturday was a great success. The work outlined was the improvement of the high school athletic field northwest of the school grounds and as a result of the efforts of the workers the field was made four times as large as previously and much more adequate for practice purposes.

Twelve head of horses were used in the work on the field, as well as a tractor donated by the Pullman Engineering company, and much other machinery, donated by the Standard Asphalt Paving company and others. The hillsides were graded down and the dirt used to make a fill on the other side of the field. The entire field was plowed and leveled.

At noon luncheon was served in the high school building by the girls of the department of home economics. The menu included beans, potatoes, rolls, butter, coffee, peaches and cake.

Monday evening the boys of the high school completed the work by removing the loose stones from the field.

While the field is not yet large enough for a regulation gridiron, it is adequate for practice purposes and a little work next year will make it a full sized gridiron.

MRS. HARRY W. PRICE DIED IN PORTLAND

Word was received in Pullman yesterday of the death at Portland, Ore., Tuesday afternoon of Mrs. Harry W. Price, a pioneer of the Pullman community. Mrs. Price had been in ill health for two years, and while her death was not unexpected, it came as a great shock to the hundreds of friends of the family in this vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Price left Pullman about 10 years ago to make their home in Portland, but Mr. Price retained his farm holdings near this city and they visited Pullman frequently until Mrs. Price's illness made it impossible for her to make the trip.

Mrs. Price was one of Pullman's most esteemed ladies and her cordial disposition and generous characteristics made her beloved by all who knew her.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS PLAN AGRICULTURAL FAIR

Plans for an agricultural fair, to be held this fall, are being made by the Blue and Gray Agricultural club of Pullman high school. Several high school boys are raising steers and hogs for exhibition at the Western Royal Livestock show in Spokane and it is primarily to give the people of the community an opportunity to see these animals that the fair and exhibit is proposed. Exhibits of grains, fruits, vegetables, grasses and other farm crops will likely be made a part of the fair. The agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce, including Dean E. C. Johnson, Prof. E. G. Schafer, H. H. Curtis and F. C. Forrest, will co-operate with the boys in making a success of the venture.

NEW BANQUET ROOM AT ROBINSON'S CAFE

Local Caterer Makes Provision for Taking Care of Private Meetings and Banquets

A banquet room to accommodate 75 people is the latest improvement at Robinson's cafe and the finishing touches are being put on the room this week in an effort to have it in readiness for the meeting of the Whitman County Medical society Monday. A remodeling of the back part of the building makes provision for the banquet room in the rear of the present dining room, to the left. Entrances are provided both from the main dining room and from the kitchen. A fall ceiling has been installed and modern decorations will be provided. Two ventilators keep the air fresh and pure.

For the purpose of large banquets long tables will be used, but smaller parties will be accommodated by the use of smaller tables and screens.

Maynard-Price post of the American Legion will make use of the new banquet room every Thursday evening, the banquet to be served at 6:15 and the business meeting to follow. Every second Wednesday noon the merchants' association will make use of the room and on alternating Wednesdays the officers of the college R. O. T. C. will meet there.

The improvement fills a long felt want and will greatly facilitate the serving of banquets to large groups by Robinson's cafe.

EVERGREEN, VOLUME 28 MAKES ITS APPEARANCE

The first number of Volume 28 of "The Evergreen," the State College student twice-a-week publication, made its appearance on the campus Friday afternoon. No. 1 was a highly creditable journal of eight pages of six columns each and teemed with well written news concerning the campus and its various departments and organizations. Laurence R. Leveen of Spokane is editor of the paper for the first semester and has selected Clayton V. Bernhard of Newport and Albert R. McCall of Pullman as his chief assistants. Daryl B. Leonard of Chelalis is business manager and Howard V. Morris of Pullman is assistant business manager.

All students of the college are eligible to positions on the departmental staff of the publication, which will be chosen following a full tryout.

The Evergreen will this year be printed on Tuesdays and Fridays, the publication days last year having been Monday and Thursday.

Over 40 students turned out for a meeting of staff candidates Monday evening, indicating a wealth of available newswriters. The Evergreen is printed at The Herald print shop.

PEDDLERS FOOL THE PUBLIC

Several Pullman people have been "stung" by itinerant peddlers during the past few weeks and a word of warning would not be out of order. One peddler went to a local store and purchased a quantity of machine made lace for 10 cents a yard, then sold several yards of it to a local housewife for 65 cents per yard, claiming the article to be hand-made and a big bargain at the price. Another peddler offered an article which he claimed was all-wool. The prospective buyer stated his willingness to purchase the article, provided he would be permitted to have a local merchant pass on the quality. This was refused and the peddler departed with his wares.

When you are in doubt as to the quality of goods offered by peddlers it would be to your advantage to ask some local person who is qualified to judge to pass on the article. Any of the local merchants would be glad to do it and it might save you some good money.
