"BEAUTY'S WORTH"
Elderly members of audiences will be taken back to the Civil War period when they see Marion Davies in "Beauty's Worth," which is coming to the Grand theatre September 3 and 4. Not that this newest Cosmopolitan-Paramount picture concerns the '60s of the last century, for it is a modern story in every way. In it Miss Davies, a Quaker girl, appears at a fashionable water resort in a bathing suit that none of the younger generations would recognize except as an exhibit in a museum.

Miss Davies plays the part of Prudence Cole, reared in a strictly conservative atmosphere by two maiden aunts. Prudence is invited to Haven, a seaside mecca for the wealthy.

Being fond of swimming she dons her bathing suit and joins her "friends" at the outdoor pool. When she removes the cape which modestly hides her costume there is astonishment.

"THE GREAT IMPERSONATOR"
A portion of the jungles of German East Africa were duplicated in an exterior setting built on the Lasky ranch near Hollywood, Calif., for scenes in George Melford's production, "The Great Impersonation," featuring James Kirkwood, which will be shown at the Grand theatre September 5 and 6.

The story, written by E. Phillips Oppenheim, deals with two men, a German and an Englishman, who resemble each other greatly and in its development, one is carried from England to Africa, thence to Germany and again to England. The situations are thrilling and there is not a dull moment in the picture. Ann Forrest has the leading woman's role and in the cast are Winter Hall, Truly Shattuck, Fontaine La Rue, Alan Hale and many other noted screen players.

THE DANGEROUS LITTLE DEMON
"The Dangerous Little Demon" will be shown at the Grand theatre September 7.

To be fair, "the demon" did not have much of a chance to be like the other girls. She had no mother to bring her up and her father she could not trust. He had a habit of not coming home to dinner and still wanting to appear perfect in his children's eyes. Fathers who have something on their consciences better not go to see the picture. They will feel foolish.

She had too much money; too much liberty to do as she pleased and too many mental lightweights to do it with. Her suitors assayed about one-half per cent brains. Her father's cellar assayed about 38 per cent A-1 and 110 proof.

Marie Prevost contributes a charming characterization as "The Dangerous Little Demon." To be sure, she is disturbing at times, but that is what one must expect from a beautiful girl in dangerous situations.

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR"
Two Paramount stars, Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt, who were featured respectively in "The Sheik," "The Call of the North," and "The Lane That Had No Turning," play the two principal roles—those of Robert Stafford and Virginia Blaine—in "Bought and Paid For," the William de Mille production which will be featured at the Grand theatre September 8 and 9.

The role of Virginia Blaine was created on the stage in George Broadhurst's notable play, from which the picture was adapted, by Julia Dean.

The cast is notable for the ability of the players embraced therein. Walter Hiers, a rotund, polite comedian inimitably plays "Jimmy," which was enacted by Frank Craven in the original stage production. Others are Lean Wyant, George Kuwa and Bernice Frank.
