

Proser Frauds.

Proser, March 19.
Eaton Herald:—Proser is to have a saloon, and the thirsty wayfarer will soon be able to quench his thirst, independent of the water supply.

Mr. Taylor has had a windmill erected at his place in the east end of town.

When Mr. Kinney has his "brown stone front" finished to replace his residence lately burned, it will make quite an improvement in the west end. Mr. Kinney is one of our most enterprising citizens, and holds very advanced and pronounced views on some subjects—such, for instance, as the propriety of ladies whistling, and the degeneration of the human race since the days of Adam and Eve.

Miss Lavina Tustin, a young lady well known in society here, was married one day last week, Mr. Chadwick, of Bickleton, being the happy man.

The average Horse Heaven settler will find interesting reading in a glowing description of his country lately given in the Herald and taken from a Wallula paper. Of course the editor never exaggerates; that is quite out of the editorial line. The fact remains that the original Horse Heaven settlers may be found scattered from "Dan to Beersheba," a saddle if not a wiser lot of men for their Horse Heaven experience. Among those who remain there is still strong faith in the future of the country; but even the eye of faith has to wink sometimes.

Proser has had the services of a member of the learned profession of medicine in the person of Dr. Ford. Until that time Mr. Jensen's drug store kept us in pretty good health. A drug store with a good laboratory attachment for mixing the drugs to suit the various diseases of the patients, is pretty good in itself.

The trouble among the sheep-men was amicably settled, one party withdrawing his forces across the river to Sunnyside. Mr. Charles Case returned last week from Olympia, where he has passed the winter, bringing with him a lot of fruit trees, which he has set out on his ranch in Horse Heaven.

Proser needs a newspaper, one that will speak out with no uncertain sound and tell what a fine townsite we have here, and what a grand railroad center this will make it—we only get the railroads. To make it a success, said newspaper needs on its staff a good mapper, an expert that can show the mountain passes for future railways all tributary to Proser.

There are a few other things that Proser needs; in fact, we might spend a little on this subject, but we won't this time.

Nelson Rich received a new safe last week weighing one and one-half tons. Mercantile business is evidently on the increase.

It has been raining nearly every day for a week, and the farmers are jubilant over the crop prospects.

There was a largely attended meeting of the Columbia river stockmen held at Jade Switzer's March 18 for the purpose of organizing a stockman's association. Mr. Switzer was elected president. The spring round-up starts to-day.

The initial number of a new paper may be looked for in a few days. The little stranger hails from Crimera, and is called the Columbia Kicker, Sam Carmichael editor and manager. Dave Beaver will attend to the interests of the stock association in its columns, and, on occasion offers, contribute some valuable articles on outdoor playing, a game at which he excels.

The Territorial Secretary.

Oliver Cromwell White, the newly appointed territorial secretary, who succeeds N. H. Oving, was born at Dubuque, Iowa, December 1, 1846. He is a son of Chas. White, an Oregon pioneer, who at one time was sheriff of Wasco county, Or. He removed to Yamhill county, Or., in 1850, where he taught school, at one time serving as guard at the Oregon penitentiary. He moved to Dayton, W. T., in 1876, and served two years as auditor of Columbia county. Afterwards he was elected clerk of the district court, serving four years. In 1878 he purchased the Columbia Chronicle, running it a short time. He was elected to the territorial council in 1886, exercising a marked influence on that body, and was a delegate to the national republican convention that nominated Harrison. He is now editor of the Columbia Chronicle, and is noted for his strong advocacy of republicanism. In 1886 White was appointed one of the penitentiary commissioners to supervise the erection of the penitentiary, and held the office two years.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Reinbridge Munday, Esq., county attorney Clay county, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life." Mr. D. L. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimonial, saying: "He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters."

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure, all malarial diseases, and for all kidney, liver and stomach disorders stands unequalled. Price 50 cents and $1 at C. B. Bushnell's drug store.

Statistics show that seventy per cent. of the people of the United States are suffering from disease of the kidney and urinary organs. A simple pain in the back, if neglected, often runs into that terrible scourge, Bright's disease, which carries off so many of our prominent men. If you are afflicted with any urinary or kidney trouble, no matter how slight, do not put it off until too late, but procure a package of Oregon Kidney Tea and take according to directions. It will cure you. Sold by Allen & Chapman.
