

THE YAKIMA HERALD.

VOL. IV.

NORTH YAKIMA, WASHINGTON, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1892.

NO. 5.

YAKIMA COUNTY BOOMS!

Not as a Speculative Proposition, but as a Solid and Legitimate Agricultural growth. And why? Because Yakima County has

◆ The Soil & Climate, Abundance of Water for Irrigation, Geographical Position, Cash Markets for Produce in All Directions. ◆

The Public is Beginning to Find Out

That Yakima County has some other Resources than Coyotes and Real Estate Agents.

That it is the Home of the Peach, Plum, Pear, Grape and Apple.

That we grow Six Tons of Alfalfa to the Acre during the Season.

That the choicest Vegetables grown in Washington are raised here.

That it is the Hop-growing section of the State, producing 2000 Pounds to the Acre.

That every Citizen of Yakima County who Rustles and Saves, is Prosperous.

That a Crop is never lost here by Pests.

That Cyclones, Tornadoes and violent Storms are unknown.

That great Irrigation Companies are spending millions of dollars reclaiming our Arid Lands.

That 40 Acres of our Volcanic Ash Soil, well handled, will net more money each year than 160 Acres in the Middle West.

That YAKIMA COUNTY IS TO-DAY THE BANNER AGRICULTURAL COUNTY OF THE STATE!

A False Alarm.

"This is the first time I ever kissed a girl," he said, as he sealed the compact they had just made; "the first time I ever kissed a girl."

Her heart fell and her head swam at the thought that she had just plighted her troth to a liar.

"The first time I ever kissed a girl," he replied, drawing a long breath and smacking his lips, "who understood how to respond to the caress."

Then her heart bounded and her eyes danced at the thought that she was to wed a true man after all.

I. W. Dudley, secretary of the Yakima Irrigating & Improvement Co., was in the city the first of the week and reports that his company has arranged to spend $100,000 this year in perfecting its ditch system. Seventy-five thousand dollars have already been expended, and it is expected that this system will reclaim 25,000 acres of sage-brush land. The canals of this company already completed irrigate about 7000 acres.

A member of the Salvation Army in full regalia attracted considerable attention on the streets this week. When interviewed as to the prospects of starting a barracks in Yakima he said that was not his object, but that he had come here to go to work on a ranch, which is a much more commendable ambition.

The commissioners of Kittitas county claim that in settling division accounts, after Kittitas was cut off from Yakima and created a county, there was an error made, in consequence of which this county received $1,925 in excess of the amount due it. Yakima is now called upon to return this excess payment.

A. J. Splawn, P. A. Bonds and Court Meyer, of this city, have opened the Yakima Market in Seattle for the wholesale handling of Yakima meats. The name alone should stamp the enterprise a success without taking into consideration the thorough and thrifty business men who are at the head of it.

The Spokane Review says that Mrs. Alice Houghton "returns very much impressed with the bright outlook for the city of North Yakima, and states that the people there feel very confident that a new era of prosperity is dawning for their section."

If workmen are in need of good serviceable shoes, they are advised to call at Lee's Boot and Shoe Store, opposite the Gulland house.

At a meeting of the Yakima Land company last Saturday the old officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Judge Carroll B. Graves is recovering from a tussle with la grippe. Mrs. Graves has also been similarly afflicted.

Prosecuting Attorney Rochford returned on Saturday last from Olympia, where he secured a restraining order in the case involving the issuing of county warrants to pay the fees of Stenographer Stemmmons for taking and transcribing testimony in a civil suit. The hearing will be at Olympia on the 4th of March. Judge Smith expresses himself as confident of being sustained, and says the superior judges throughout the state are with him on this question. "I think the injunction will be dissolved," remarked the judge to a HERALD reporter, Tuesday, "but if I fail I will have lots of good company to go down with me."

W. H. Burrell, who is the Justice of the peace and has charge of the N. P. pump house at Prosser, had a German arrested and brought before Justice Henton, on Saturday last, charged with burglarizing the pump house of a suit of clothes and other articles. The German was employed on the big ditch and had the clothes in his possession; but as he claimed to have bought them from a man who had been suspected of the theft, and as there was no proof that he was in the vicinity of Prosser at the time, he was discharged from custody.

On Friday evening of last week Richard Strobach had occasion to visit the second story of the Lewis & Engle block and he noticed an unusual heat in the hall. Summoning Ned Whitby, who rooms in the building, an investigation was made, which resulted in locating the fire in the kitchen of the Harris brothers. The room was locked, but the cry of fire soon extinguished the flames, which were probably due to the spontaneous combustion of garlic and other rich viands.

THE HERALD neglected to mention the very pleasant entertainment given by the Daughters of Rebekah on Wednesday evening of last week. As ye reporter partook of the very bountiful and highly satisfactory supper of chicken, cold ham, tongue, salads, delicious coffee, and other good things, the oversight is so much more culpable. The literary and musical part of the program was very entertaining, and the enjoyable evening was brought to a close with dancing.

What has become of the drum corps, and what have become of the instruments? The latter were purchased with money contributed by citizens with the understanding that they were to be retained intact for the benefit of a permanent organization. The drums and files should be collected and the corps reorganized.

Born, on Feb. 22d, to the wife of Henry Sanders, a son. The father thinks he has occasion to observe Washington's birthday hereafter with more than the usual amount of patriotism.

L. S. Howlett's bond as register was received here and executed on Saturday last. It was then forwarded to Washington, and Col. Howlett expects to take possession of the office about March 1st.

The contract has been let for the extension of the sewer system, 832 feet to the river, to E. Schmidt for $1,600. Capt. J. H. Thomas has executed a quit claim deed to the right-of-way for this extension.

The "2:40 club" party will be held Friday evening at Mason's opera house. It is difficult to imagine why this name was adopted, unless it was to indicate that the dance would be over at twenty minutes of three.

The Yakima Land Co. and Fred R. Reed & Co. have moved into their handsome office on the ground floor of the Lewis-Engle block, which has been fitted up especially for their purposes with private offices and other conveniences.

A decision has recently been rendered by the general land office which affects those who have been residing on and improving unsurveyed government lands. It is held that such claimants do not lose the rights of the pre-emption law, which was repealed on March 3d, 1891, if sufficient improvements had been made before that date.

Deputy U. S. Marshal H. F. McKay, of Tacoma, was in the city Monday serving papers in the N. P. vs. Cowychee & Wide Hollow irrigation district injunction suit. The next day Collector A. W. Morrison sold the lands on which taxes were delinquent, other than those belonging to the Northern Pacific, at public sale in front of the court house. The suit of the Northern Pacific will be closely contested by Attorney Snively, who has been retained by the district, and an effort will be made to have it transferred from the federal court, as there is danger of its being tied up for a number of years on an appeal.

Commodore J. N. Roberts, of Boston, who is in Yakima looking over the field with a view to sinking artesian wells, gained his title from having been commodore of the Boston Yacht club for a number of years. He has been the owner of the yachts Daphne, Mercury and Mabel, and in his residence at Boston he has fourteen first-class prizes which his yachts have captured. A. C. Walker, of this city, is one of the commodore's old friends, and has been with him on a number of cruises lasting several weeks.

C. R. Martin, publisher of the Cle-Elum Tribune and the Roslyn Times, spent Sunday in the city. He says times are very dull in the Roslyn camp and that many miners are leaving. Of the six hundred negroes who were imported from Illinois not more than 150 now remain, most of the balance having gone to the mines of the Sound and British Columbia. Mr. Martin inspected THE HERALD office and pronounced it away up.

Next week Wednesday Lent begins and stops further festivities. As the season of denial then begins, THE HERALD has concluded to deny this weekly visitor to some of its subscribers, who show no disposition to pay their delinquency. Those who fail to receive THE HERALD hereafter will remember that the penitential period has arrived and that their accounts will be placed in the hands of an attorney.

Richard Strobach, of this city, has been commissioned a state land cruiser by the governor. The appointment is well made, and no one who knows Mr. Strobach doubts but what the duties devolving upon him will be faithfully and intelligently performed.

The uniform rank Knights of Pythias have elected the following officers: Sir Knight Captain, Samuel Vinson; Sir Knight Lieutenant, S. C. Henton; Sir Knight Herald, W. H. Crook; Recorder, W. D. Walker; Treasurer, F. D. Eshelman.
