HUGH C. WALLACE has returned from Washington and denies that he was offered the portfolio of the agricultural department, and further states that he has no expectation of serving in the cabinet in any capacity. Friends of Mr. Wallace assert that he will not refuse to become commissioner of the general land office if the position is tendered him.

It is a religious fact that probably less money is being spent this session at Olympia by the senatorial candidates than ever before, in fact those who are the candidates are "stingy," but those guileless people, the populists, throw up their hands in holy horror at the extravagance displayed. They did the same thing here during the campaign, and after borrowing the street lamps from the democrats and republicans their speakers would go about the country and preach against such criminal campaign expenditures. They promised much to the older organizations for favors extended but the outcome showed that they gave nothing.

The following is a list of property consisting of a number of very fine, choice business lots and desirable acreage, less than a mile from the center of the city. Persons desiring to purchase similar property in North Yakima can't afford to overlook these great bargains, as the prices are away below those of like property in or around the city.

offer No. 1.—Lots 25, 26, 27 and 28, Block 51. For business purposes these lots are second to none as the location and surroundings will convince the most critical investor on investigation. Adjoining them on the south is a business brick and the Lewis-Engle building is in the immediate vicinity on the north. I will sell one or all. Price, for each, 31,250. Terms, one-half cash, balance in 1 year at 7 per cent interest.

OFFEIR NO. 2.—Lots 20, 22, 23 and 24, Block 32. Very choice busi-ness lots. I will sell one or all. Price of each, 5550. Terms, one-half cash, balance, 1 year at 7 per cent interest.

OFFER NO. 3.—Fifteen acres of Yakima's finest fruit or hop land, beautifully located. Must be seen to be appreciated. For a nice home there is no finer location in Yakima. Description: £14 of NE4 of sec. 30, township 13 N. K. 19 east; except 5 acres in a square form off of the SE corner. The price of this tract is far below the price of adjoining lands. Look it up and you will find my statement correct. Price, $1,800, one-half cash, balance, 1 year, 7 per cent.

OFFER NO. 4.—The next big bargain I am offering is a 160 acre tract lying 3/ of a mile southeast of the Hotel Yakima, and adjoining the City Park on the north, 40 acres of which is Al laud and is worth more than I ask for the entire 160 acres. A large portion of this tract is covered by a fine growth of timber suitable for fire wood and hop poles. There is also a poud on the land fed by springs from which thousands of tons of pure ice can be obtained every winter. This land would make a valuable dairy farm. Or on account of its proximity to town it would be suitable for subarban homes. There are ten acres of bench land in this tract which are worth as much as I ask for the entire 160 acres. Description: $1/2 of NW14 the NE1/2 of NW4, and SW4/2 of NE1/4, sec. 20. twp 13 N. R 19 E. Price, only $2,500. Terms, one-half cash, balance, at 7 per cent interest.
