What Your Sisters and Your Cousins and Your Aunts Are Doing This Week—Little Side Issues of Interest to All.

Kieth W. Dunlop returned from his Prosser ranch on Monday.

Charles Adams and Archie McLean were in the city from Fort Simcoe on Saturday last.

Mr. Hugh Dunlop, a brother of Mr. Keith W. Dunlop, of Prosser, is in Yakima from Santa Clara valley, Cal., for a long visit.

Senator Eshelman left on Friday morning last for his home in Tacoma. To a reporter he stated that he would not return again this winter.

The Big Bend Empire says that a wagon load of watermelons brought all the way from Yakima found a ready sale on the streets of Waterville.

Mrs. Brooke, of Seattle, arrived here Wednesday to remain until after the marriage of her sister, Miss Allen, which is to occur on the 12th of December.

Leonard Georges, representing Sherman, Clay & Co., musical instruments, of San Francisco, was a visitor in Yakima on Tuesday. He has several patrons in this city.

Last week Superintendent Lawrence formed school district No. 46 at the mouth of the Yakima river. The directors appointed are Alex McNeil and H. Van Horn; clerk, W. D. Ingalls.

Mrs. M. B. Smith has established dressmaking parlors in the Eshelman block, where she guarantees work at reasonable prices. Corsets made to order and complexion lotions sold.

Those wishing thorough instruction in music Mrs. Boyle will be pleased to see at her residence, corner Third and Maple. The methods followed are the exact duplicate of The New England Conservatory of Music, Boston.

Captain W. D. Inverarity and wife left on Wednesday for Spokane where they will spend the winter. The captain would much prefer to winter in Yakima, but has been unable to find a house that would answer his requirements.

J. M. Frazer has erected and has now in operation a creamery with ground dimensions of 20x30 feet, and is turning out gilt-edged butter to supply local customers. The creamery is located opposite the stock yards, in the lower end of the city.

The sixth and seventh grades of the Columbia school are now located comfortably in the Strobach building, west Yakima, under the tutelage of F. Dudley Eshelman. A sidewalk is being constructed leading to the building for the use of the little people.

The fight for the city marshalship promises to be of an interesting nature. There are numerous candidates in the field, the most prominent and pushing being E. A. Lyon, J. C. Liggett, M. G. Willis, Nat Yeates, Tom Norton and Charles Lillie.

William Hubbard and wife, of Chicago, were the guests of H. B. Scudder and family for one day this week. Mr. Hubbard is a nephew of Gardner G. Hubbard and representative of a refrigerator car company whose rolling stock is in general use by the fruit shippers of California, to which state they are en route.

An undeveloped elopement and postponed marriage is the result of a failure to procure the auditor's official sanction last Thursday evening. The interested parties reside up the Ahtanum. It is understood that the young lady has not attained legal age, and her mother objected to the nuptials; consequently no license could be secured.

A number of Chinamen of this city claim to be making preparations to return to China to fight the Japs. They would better get a swift move on themselves for from the way the Mikado's troops are hammering it to the Celestials it would appear to the casual observer as though the flowery kingdom couldn't hang together much longer.

The venire of petit jurors for the December term of the superior court, beginning on Wednesday, December 5, has been drawn, as follows: J. W. Brown, E. Boyle, William Allison, John Weddle, R. H. Kershaw, P. J. Eeachbach, F. M. Leach, W. H. Eivengood, D. F. Bunnell, W. F. Jones, A. B. Flint, A. L. Burnett, E. P. Wilson, G. J. Gardiner, Frank Carr, Hugh Gray, C. Hesse, Spencer Jacobs, S. Lauber, John Bingham, J. H. Conrad, W. C. Potter, John S. Black, A. G. Biglow—twenty-four in all.

Walker & Hall, the First street grocers, have been handling intoxicating liquors in original packages for a few days, having taken out a government license therefor. The matter was brought to the attention of the city council, and it is probable that a city license may be demanded of the firm. To a HERALD reporter they stated that they had no desire to engage in the retail liquor business; but had simply put in a small stock in response to the demand of many of their lady patrons who frequently desired the spirits for culinary purposes and did not wish to go to a saloon for the quantity needed. The gentlemen state that if the council should impose the $1000 license upon them, or any other exorbitant amount, they will stop selling immediately; but that if a small sum is asked they will pay it. Mr. Hall remarked that the practice was common among Oregon grocers, and he did not see why it should not obtain here.

THE HERALD'S Nurnberg hop report brings the cheering news that Germany finds it evident that her "main producing places are already almost bare of stocks worthy to be classified as prime and choice quality. Transactions during the past week have been important on this market, and would have been much more so if owners of good hops had not asked higher prices than the trade has been able and willing to pay. From 1200 to 1800 bales changed hands every day, and the market supply has been short. In consequence, prices for any hops of good quality and color have risen 95c@1.19 per cwt., good middling sorts are slowly advancing to prime, and common yellows and even lower grades are finding buyers at more steady prices. The weather continues unfavorable and rainy, which has a very bad effect on the color of our best hops. There is hardly any doubt that our crop has been over-estimated in quantity, and that the consumptive demand for home and abroad is much larger than at one time expected. Market hops—middling, $8.14@10.47; prime, to choice, $10.70@14.28 per cwt."

J. J. Tyler is exhibiting a little bottle which contains gold to the amount of $1 or more, a result of eight pans of gravel from the Yakima river on the Snipee-Allen ranch. Mr. Tyler has a lease upon the bar, which is perhaps ten acres in extent, and may work it next fall. He thinks $1 a day with a pan should easily mean $10 per day with a sluice. As to the deposit, he thinks it from an old river channel, and not the present one. The trouble with placer mining on a small scale arises from the fact that the black sand will not separate, but clings together in a compact mass in the bottom of each pan. For this reason hardly money enough can be made by "panning" to justify the loss in time.

Director Steinweg of school district No. 7 informs THE HERALD that even though the money for the bonds may be immediately forthcoming, it is not probable that any steps toward the erection of the new school building will be taken before early spring. The board regrets the present crowded condition of the city school structures, and is doing all that is possible to remedy the evil; but the new building cannot be immediately begun, and even though it were, it could not be occupied until the winter is over.

During the month of October 1,110,000 pounds of potatoes were shipped east and 740,000 pounds west from the North Yakima depot. The railroad company received as transportation charges for these shipments the sum of $5,456. During the month the company has received $20,677 for carriage of hops—a total of $26,133 from this city in thirty days; and yet they will not give us that new depot, but continue to fritter away money in constant repairs on the old one.

The meeting of the local board of horticulture, called for the Commercial club rooms on Saturday afternoon last, was not attended as it should have been, considering the nearness of the meeting (Dec. 12) in this city of the state board. Only five or six fruit raisers were at the Saturday meeting, and it was consequently adjourned until Saturday, Nov. 24, at the same place. It is to be hoped that members will turn out, as this is to be an important meeting.

Members of the Salvation Army are endeavoring to arrange for an excursion to Seattle from this city about December 24. At that time Gen. Booth will be in the big Sound city, and the local army corps wishes to see him. A $5 round trip rate, good for four days, has been promised by the railroad company if 300 people will engage tickets in advance.

The highest bid for building the proposed county poor house, opened on Monday by the board of county commissioners, was $3000, submitted by Wright & Glazier; the lowest was $1500, submitted by A. F. Switzer. There were two plans from which to select, one drawn by Robt. Scott and one by Mr. Switzer, and there were nine bidders in all.

Harris Bros. Co. are closing out their branch house in Seattle, and will hereafter centralize their sundry business at Tacoma. The company is one of the strongest in the state, having an extensive general merchandise store in this city and large landed interests in the county, besides its big Tacoma commission house.

R. A. Hume, who, by the way, has gained the title of "judge" over in the Palouse country, was in the city on business for a few hours on Tuesday, returning to Spokane on an evening freight the same day.

There will be a young men's meeting, for men only, at the Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon next at 3 o'clock, presided over by Prof. McIntosh. Special singing will be a feature of the services.

Sheriff Simmons states that after he retires from office it is very probable that he will enter the local field as a hop buyer, his knowledge of the product fitting him for that business.

C. S. Crowell, ex-division superintendent of the Northern Pacific, came up from his Kiona ranch on Wednesday for a day in Yakima.

Marriage licenses were this week issued to Edward Smith and Mamie K. Rockett, J. W. Brechtel and Minna Burnham.

A brakeman at the Northern Pacific depot stepped on a stone on Tuesday and seriously sprained his ankle.

Manager Mackinnon has booked "Jolly Old Chums," a laughable farce comedy, for Dec. 14, at Mason's.

The supreme court has affirmed the decision of Judge Graves in the case of the state vs. C. A. Keen.

Mrs. M. B. Smith has opened dress-making parlors in the Eshelman block, Yakima avenue.

I. W. Dudley, of Kennewick, was in the city for a few hours on Wednesday.

Men's Wool Mittens 25 cts per pair at Coffin Bros.

SUB-HEAD STORYETTES.

Home-seekers' Excursion Coming to Yakima County.

THE CONGDON IRRIGATING DITCH.

Commissioners' Proceedings—Power House Improvements—About the Coming Winter—Salvation Army Change in Officers.

Capt. Norwood and Lieut. Mansfield, of the Salvation Army barracks of this city, left on Wednesday for new posts of duty; the former going to Spokane and the latter to Everett. They are succeeded by Capt. Tilden and Lieut. Johnson, both of Portland. Capt. Tilden is a daughter of — Helm, an old resident of Yakima county. The Salvation Army is, of course, prompt in its Le roi est mort, vive le roi; but THE HERALD fancies its fealty to the new regime is in this instance rather weaker than is its love for the old. Capt. Norwood, a modest, quiet, dutiful, womanly little woman, has built up a following and an interest in the army labors here remarkable in the extent to other than its members. The far-reaching influence of her work was noted in the steadily-increasing numbers of her soldiers, the nightly-crowded barracks and the love of her followers and absolute respect of even dissolute rascals for the sincere chief officer. Should her influence be proportionate in her new field at Spokane, THE HERALD prophesies at least a diminution of that city's police force and cleaner morals among the slums.

As to the Coming Winter. The mantle of the late lamented Judge Nelson is claimed by Hon. Edward Whitson, who asserts that he is seer, prophet, Old Probabilities or Young Indications—whatever it may be called—when it comes down to weather, and that the coming winter will be one of mildness. He has no very conclusive way of defining how he came by his power, but he says he feels it in the air and in his being. But Mr. Whitson is not the only one who has set up as a prophet, for N. T. Goodwin, of the Cowychee, who has lived here twenty years, says that the coming winter will be noted for its snows, and he advises everybody to polish up their last year's slushers and get ready for substituting runners for the wheels of their buggies. Robert Crory has not been heard from regarding the overcoats on the ears of corn, and perhaps the late election has prevented him from taking a sniff of bucolic air; but there are those who talk of an unusual crop of acorns as indicative of a virulent winter. The old woman's story as to the blue veins in the vicinity of the breastbones of a goose is another point in which THE HERALD is not quite up-to-date, but it is ever ready to give all the news afloat, and it invites the views of those who have foresight or hindsight on the weather question.

Home Seekers Coming to Yakima. An excursion of home seekers to the Yakima valley will leave Chicago on Tuesday, Nov. 27, and St. Paul on Nov. 28, coming direct to North Yakima. From this city all of the irrigated regions of the valley will be visited, including the Sunnyside country, the Moree basin, the valleys of the Natchez, the Cowychee and the Ahtanum. Hotel rates of $1.50 per day have been provided here, and carriages will be freely placed at the disposal of the visitors. The privileges of this excursion are limited strictly to genuine home seekers, who have the intention of settling in the Yakima valley in case they find its advantages and attractions are equal to their expectations. And this is but the beginning. With the new areas opening up for development, new homes are becoming more easy of obtaining—and the vast acreage of farm lands to be more rapidly settled. A year ago North Yakima thought her tributary country to be in advance of the city itself; yet the country continues to grow in population and progress. What that means for this city, far behind the orchards, vineyards, farms and gardens as it has for a year or more been, every level-headed business man may readily see. Home owners in North Yakima are fortunate people—and Mirandy Means' sage advice to her husband, as told by her to the "Hoosier schoolmaster," is distinctly applicable here: "Git a plenty while you're gittin, says I."

Death of Florence Seward. There died, on the 12th of October, Florence J. Seward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Seward, aged 14 years and 27 days. THE HERALD makes especial notice of this sad occurrence because deceased was born in Yakima and had many friends, won by her lovable disposition, and because her deeply bereaved parents are pioneers and prominent citizens of the Ahtanum valley and Yakima county. By request the following verse is published:

Thy gentle voice now is hushed,
Thy warm, true heart is still.
And on thy young and innocent brow
Is resting death's cold chill.
Thy hands are clasped upon thy breast,
We have kissed thy lovely brow,
And in our aching hearts we know
We have no darling now.

"Let Your Light so Shine." The friction clutches and pulleys recently made a part of the machinery at the power house of the Water, Light & Power company are fast becoming invaluable. Indeed, the approaching winter will clearly demonstrate that fact in the minds of the company's patrons in the matter of incandescent lamps. The clutches are regulated from the floor by handles, although attached to the great shaft which is immediately connected with the water wheels; and their utility is apparent in the fact that a single movement of a lever will start the big fly wheel on the engine revolving without stopping the pumps. If, for instance, a quantity of "slush ice" gets into the turbines this winter, all the lights in the city would not go out, as usual, until that ice were removed; because the engineer would simply twist the lever controlling the friction clutches—and even though every pump in the plant stopped instantly, the second that "clutch" operated the engine would begin to act; and not even a twinkle would disturb the steady gleam of the lights. The clutches are simple mechanically, although large and bulky and strong; and the good they will do in merely reducing to a minimum the loss of light and money on account of slush ice will cause them to rapidly pay for themselves.

3000 More Acres Reclaimed. The Congdon-Gilbert ditch may be said to be practically finished to the point of dumping, around the foothills at the gap known as the painted rocks (Septis Patanum, as the Indians called them), on the Natchez. The ditch is about of the same size as that known as the Hubbard, and is a splendid piece of engineering work throughout. It is cut from the solid earth over the bench lands of the Wide Hollow, and is consequently very strong and durable. It has a heavy fall; but its side walls are not embankments, and it could carry even more water than it is now designed to do. When the flumes at the Natchez gap are completed they will be somewhat on the picturesque order: because they are to be carried upon iron trestles reaching 100 feet into the air, and follow the windings of the bluffs into the river channel. The ditch will irrigate 3000 acres of land as fine as any in Yakima county, and every acre is immediately tributary to this city. What land is not covered by it will be irrigated by the Burlington high line ditch. All things considered, the Wide Hollow seems about to become the fairest of Yakima's many fair tributary valleys.

Will Not Contest. A rumor to the effect that Mr. H. H. Allen contemplated contesting the election of Mr. Dilley to the office of sheriff was traced by a HERALD reporter to Mr. Allen; who puts the matter on a different footing by saying he had informed his friends he would not contest for the office. He stated, however, that different parties had implied their willingness to make affidavit that fraudulent votes were cast at the precincts of Zillah and Wide Hollow, and that some of his friends had advised him to take advantage of the evidence thus tendered and make a post-election fight for the sherrifalty. But Mr. Allen fails to see why such a step should be taken. He thinks he has little cause to complain in the matter of votes cast for him, and does not wish to unearth any skeleton from the graveyard of a dead ambition. Mr. Allen thus shows some of his most commendable characteristics. Feeling that he has been elected, he will yet not create a "disturbance" and establish bad precedent by contesting his opponent's official seat.

The gun repair shop of E. S. Yeates, corner of A and First streets, was robbed last night of a valuable Ballard rifle, a shotgun and three revolvers, and the proprietor is still missing goods. Two drawers full of newly-repaired and handsome revolvers were untouched, the thieves taking only weapons lying on the work bench and in the racks. Entrance was effected by prying open the front door. There is no clue to the perpetrators.

Rev. W. B. Morse—who, with his wife, was thrown from a wagon and had his right leg broken, on Saturday, October 27, and who has been lying at the hospital in this city ever since—was compelled to suffer the misfortune of having his limb amputated on Wednesday morning. Dr. Frank performed the amputation, being assisted by Dr. Heg. Mr. Morse bore the operation better than had been expected, being an aged man, and is now resting easily.

R. O. Fox, seven years ago a resident of this city, and for the last one and one-half years a partner of Mr. J. H. Needham in the architect business, was the victim of a stroke of paralysis on Monday, and now lies at the hospital in a precarious condition. He cannot speak. He is receiving every attention, and it is hoped by Mr. Needham that he will recover his lost powers.

Stanley Coffin is erecting a neat one and one-half story cottage in the old "court house block," east of the residence of Mr. H. C. Humphrey, at a cost of $1000. As will be remembered by HERALD readers, this block was recently deeded back to Mr. Paul Schulze, because of the failure of the county to erect the court house thereon.

The First Baptist church and Methodist Episcopal church of this city will unite their congregations on next Sunday evening and hold services in the Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Salyer, of the Baptist church, will preach the sermon. All are cordially invited to be present.

J. M. Frazer, of the North Yakima Creamery, started the machinery in his new front street plant on Tuesday, and is now manufacturing butter for the trade and selling milk, cream and butter-milk. Mr. Frazer's large experience will undoubtedly enable him to make a success of his city venture.

It is rumored that either F. E. Craig or Leroy Stark will withdraw from the office of constable for the city precincts. Both were elected, but there is only a living in it for one. Mr. Stark will probably not remain in the Sheriff's office after January 1, 1895.

Messrs. Robert Wallace, Jacob Becker and John A. Shoudy are in the city from Ellensburg.

W. Caryl Ely, treasurer of the Y. I. & L. Co., is in the city from Niagara Falls, N. Y.

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

Enjoyable Gatherings on Two or Three Evenings.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ENTERTAINMENT.

M. M. Club Opens With a Much Enjoyed Ball, and Promises Another in the Near Future—Miss Holton Entertains the Cinderella Club.

The past week has been one of considerable amusement socially, although the fun-loving people of the city haven't yet fully arranged their plans for the winter. They are beginning well, however, and the future looks promising. Coming events number in their train the Chrysanthemum carnival on the eve before Thanksgiving, about which little has yet been told us; and on the 29th the firemen promise a ball with unique features. One of them will be a glee club, the members of which will sing at intervals between the dances. The dance will be given at Mason's. So, also, will the next meeting of the M. M. club, which is booked for Nov. 24. As to that Chrysanthemum carnival, the ladies of St. Michael's are alleged to have offered the following as information:

A burst of crimson glory,
A fluff of yellow strings,
A bunch of blood-red, gory,
Budding, blooming things,
A tawzled lot of rainbows,
A frizzled ball of snow,
That's part and parcel of a
Chrysanthemum show.

Friends of Mrs. C. E. Mabry quietly surprised her at her home last Thursday evening, the occasion being her birthday. The evening was spent at games and cards. A lunch was served at midnight, after which the guests departed wishing her "many returns of the day." Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames D. W. Simmons, E. A. Lyon, John Gladden, A. N. Short, Frank Cook, John Leach, J. B. Ingram, E. K. Arnold, George Faltermeyer, James Mabry, John Churchill, Frank Nagler, J. D. McDaniel, N. W. Field.

The opening party of the M. M. club was given on Saturday evening last at Mason's opera house, nearly forty gay dancers enjoying themselves as only dancers can. Among those present were: Mesdames Daly, Bartholet, Snyder, Maguire, Schott, Frank, Graves, Vance, Owens, Getts and Willis; Misses Baxter, Hamacher and Vandusen; Messrs. Brown, Curry, Hamacher, Getts, Louis Snyder, Owens, Vandusen, Guiland, Willis, Vance, Graves, Frank, Schott, Voorhees, Maguire, Nutting, Snyder, Bartholet, Wintermute, Hiseock, Daly, Curry and Teal; S. B. Fogarty and wife and T. C. O'Connor, from Ellensburg.

The entertainment given by the lady members of the families of the governing board of the Commercial club, on Wednesday evening, was a very enjoyable affair, and was participated in by one of the largest number of society people called together for a year or more. Cards were chosen as the form of amusement, and the evening was further enlivened by a vocal solo rendered by Mrs. Frank Horsley, and a recitation and vocal solo by Prof. White, who is soon to leave on a tour through the east. Refreshments were served, of course; and they were not the least enjoyable feature of the entertainment. Among those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Whitson, Prosser, Leeb, Simmons, Donald, Weed, Snipes, Cornett, Benson, Bartholet, Morrison, Horsley, Vance, James, Steinweg, Congdon and Strobach; Mesdames Thompson, Brooke and Snavely; Misses Scudder, Allen, Edith Allen and Rodman; Messrs. Allen, Sorrow, Gilbert, M. Scudder, Hiseock, Lombard, Wintermute, Larson, Rodman, Lince, Mitchell, Nutting, Teal, Palmer, Hare, White, Dudley and Barrett.

The members of the Cinderella club were charmingly entertained on Thursday night at the home of Miss Holton, progressive whist being chosen as the pastime, and Mr. H. Owens and Miss Baxter distinguishing themselves as winners. There were four tables, and the markers were hand-painted cards cut in the form of the aces of the different deck suits. One chose one's partner by finding the lady and the gentleman, historically prominent, one of whose names, written upon a marker, had the companion name decorating another—as, a gentleman holding "Napoleon" found his partner in the lady with a "Josephine" marker. Dainty refreshments were served at midnight; and an hour or more was afterward enjoyed in pleasant chat and the relating of humorous stories, singing, etc. The invited guests were: Mesdames Vance, Owens and Brooke, of Seattle; Misses Allen, Edith Allen, Thompson, Griffiths, Ward, Guiland, Kniz, Vaughn and Versey; Messrs. Brown, Shaw, Teal, Wintermute, Miller, Cline, D. Guiland, G. Guiland, Hiseock, Wheeler, Owens, Vance, Spindlerhurst, Lombard, Slemmons and Swery.

W. Caryl Ely, treasurer of the Y. I. & L. Co., is in the city from Niagara Falls, N. Y.

The local land office has received a letter from the secretary of the interior, reversing the decision of the general land office and the local officers in the contest case of Kinzie & Smith vs. the St. Joseph mission Catholics. The contest involves title to about 640 acres of land up the Ahtanum, and the secretary holds that the Catholics are entitled only to so much of it as was in actual use for mission purposes in 1853; he also instructs the local officers to have a survey made and to determine the amount in such actual use for such mission in 1853—and title will then be confirmed for that amount.

There will be no evening service at the Congregational church next Sunday. Rev. W. D. Wise will preach at the morning service and Rev. S. H. Chendle will preach for Rev. S. D. Belt, of Ellensburg, whose wife has just died of typhoid fever.

As will be seen by their dissolution notice in another column, the firm of Oplistol & Garrecht has ceased to exist. Mr. Oplistol will continue the laundry business at the same place, while Mr. Garrecht retires.

Miss Jeffers, quite well known and once a resident in this city, but now living in Snohomish, is soon to marry Mr. Frank Baker, member of a City Directory Publishing company, of Seattle.

E. F. Benson left this morning for a short trip to the sound.
