NICOL AGAIN APPOINTED COUNTY GAME WARDEN

Former Official is Named by the County Commissioners—Gun Clubs Recommendation Turned Down.

The county commissioners have appointed A. A. Nicol game warden for Yakima county. The appointment was made against the protest of a large number of members of the Yakima Rod and Gun club and others in the city.

Last winter the gun club circulated a petition before the commissioners asking that Mr. Nicol be requested to resign from the position and in compliance with the wishes of the petitioners the game warden sent in his resignation. He has now been appointed again. It is said that Mr. Nicol is too stringent in his demands for the observance of the game laws and the consequential watchfulness of the county's game and on this account he is seriously objected to by some of the gun club members.

The county needs a man of this kind to fill the position of game warden and it is certain that no one could have been selected who would attend to the work with more zeal and without fear or favor.

The salary of $1 per month and all traveling expenses is the remuneration in full which falls to the incumbent of this office.

The game laws have already been declared unconstitutional in two counties of the state and as a result of this the commissioners felt that they could not appoint a warden with a salary to amount to anything. They merely placed his salary at $1 so as to give him authority. The gun club submitted the name of a man unknown to the commissioners, who wanted a salary of $25 per month and expenses. The commissioners thought in making the appointment of Mr. Nicol the work could be done without much expense to the county. Mr. Nicol already held the position of deputy state warden for Yakima county.

A New Employment Office.

H. C. Hill has opened a new employment bureau on north Front street in an office next door to the fire department. He will give earnest attention to the filling and securing of positions for help of all classes.

Overdoing the Business.

Cle Elum is certainly in the front in the saloon business. One saloon to every 140 population, counting men, women and children, ought to be sufficient to shake the thirst of the greatest abnormal thirst ever. Still it is rumored that another license has been applied for. It would seem that there ought to be a limit somewhere.—Cle Elum Echo.

Enjoined from Interfering.

On petition of J. J. Rudkin, a member of the Kennewick Investment company, Charles H. Putnam was enjoined from diverting the water in the Kennewick canal. A restraining order was issued by County Clerk Day, petitioner alleging that Putnam has diverted the water from ditches on the company's premises and taken it from an alfalfa field against the protest of the company. The order was made returnable at 10 a. m. August 15.

Back from Canada.

Bert Parton returned last week from Alberta, Northwest Territory, Canada, where he has been all spring and summer looking after his interests in horses and cattle. Mr. Parton says that the Alberta country is the only place in the northwest today where a stockraiser stands any chance. The range is good from March until November and there is plenty of it. He says they also raise a great deal of grain and that the people are quite prosperous.

Returns Home.

A. D. Sloan, proprietor of the North Yakima drug store, returned home from an extended trip to Ohio where he was called by the sickness of a sister, whom he found in very delicate condition from lung trouble. While east he continued his visit on east to the old home in Maryland, returning home by way of St. Louis. Mr. Sloan was highly impressed with the dairy exhibit at the fair, especially the butter, which he says is attracting more attention than any other on the grounds of like character.

Shipped Body East.

The body of Phillip Webber who was killed a week ago last Monday at the Cascade Mill was shipped east the following Wednesday to Belleville, Ky., his former home. Nathan, his 13 year old son, went east on the same train. A message was received from Belleville from some of his relatives to have the body shipped at once. The wife, who was on her way here, was caught by a telegram while en route and directed to turn back.

A Menagerie of Freaks.

G. d'Abing sold his four legged chicken to a Mr. Purdin of North Yakima Tuesday for $50. The chicken was a full blooded barred Plymouth Rock and was in a healthy condition. It was not only blessed with two extra legs but with an extra stomach. The bird was bought for the purpose of adding another freak to a collection in which the two legged pig of the Venas and a four winged goose of Yakima are numbered.—Ellensburg Localizer.

Fred Parker Sees Runaway.

Attorney Fred Parker was out driving last Friday evening near old town when he had the surprising opportunity to witness a runaway team hitched to a wagon do the following stunt: "The team was running at full tilt," said Mr. Parker, "and I began to prepare to give them plenty of room when they suddenly dashed themselves against a corner post, the tongue striking squarely against the post with such force that the horses were thrown in a somersault fashion completely over the barbed wire fence. The wagon tongue was not broken and neither was the wagon demolished nor the horses scratched by the barb wire. I have never seen anything in the way of an accident of this nature to compare Mr. Parker did not learn the name of the owner of the team.

Has Exhibit at the World's Fair.

Among the many attractive exhibits at the St. Louis exposition this year is one from the Yakima City Creamery, consisting of butter and cheese. The exhibit is in the Agricultural building and was prepared at considerable expense by Mrs. Carmichael, proprietor of the creamery. Mrs. Carmichael recently stated to the Herald that the dairy interests of the state are well represented and ought to be productive of much good. The Dairywomen's association, of which she is the secretary, is trying to awaken a larger interest in the industry, for nowhere are there better opportunities offered than here in the state of Washington.

Will Examine Militia Officers.

An examination of all officers in the state militia of the Washington national guard for the purpose of ascertaining a practical demonstration of their knowledge of military tactics will be held on Oct. 20, 21 and 22 at 8 o'clock p. m. This is the order of Adjutant General Drain. In case any of the officers fail at the first examination a second test will be given them, and in case of a second failure they will be discharged. Most of the officers in the recent encampment at American lake were as proficient in the discharge of their duties as those of any other state, but General Drain is demanding the highest degree of efficiency of the W. N. G. officers. The examination will be conducted by Lieutenant Colonel Kinzie.

Ball Team Disbanded.

The Yakima ball team has disbanded for the summer. It became a hard matter the last few games played among the league, composed of the towns of Ellensburg, Roslyn, Cle Elum and Yakima, to get up any enthusiasm. In fact the fans would not turn out in any of the towns to witness the ball games and donate a two-bit piece and consequently the league has had a rough road to travel. The management have had no easy job in keeping their teams together.

The Yakima team has only been defeated twice this year. The first one occurred at Ellensburg and was the opening game of the season before the boys were organized. They were afterwards defeated here by Ellensburg in a close game. On the other hand Yakima has defeated Ellensburg five times this year and never suffered a drubbing at the hands of Cle Elum or Roslyn. Had the schedule of the league been carried out it is hardly possible that any of the other three towns could have won out over Yakima. The team was made up of boys who work here in town and most of them born and raised here.
