It was a pleasantly spent evening, and came to a close all too soon.

Selah.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Noble spent Sunday with George Noble and family, near the reservoir.

Potatoes are getting scarce up this way. Garretson loaded two cars last week, the price being $15 to $16.

The proposition to change the road is being discussed. The plan is to open the old road through the Stevens place, which was used for a road some time ago. It is claimed by some that this would benefit no one, while it would injure a few. The road as it now stands, some believe, should be deeded to the county, or else the four corners should be squared up and the road will then take care of all the travel that comes.

Forest Fletcher and Miss Winifred Merriman were quietly married on Wednesday of last week. Miss Merriman has been one of our teachers until a few weeks ago, when she resigned. She has a host of friends, both in the Wenas and Selah valleys.

Mr. Fletcher is a young man whom everybody knows and admires. He lately disposed of his property on the Wenas, and the newly married couple have not yet decided just where they will locate. We wish them success and happiness wherever they go.
