PEOPLE'S PULPIT...

A FAMINE IN THE LAND

Sermon by CHARLES T. RUSSELL, Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle.

Cumbealand, Md., Feb. 27.—Pastor Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle, New York, preached twice here today in our largest auditorium. He is well known here and had fine audiences. We report his discourse from the above text as follows:

Today this prophecy is fulfilled in our midst! Notwithstanding the fact that during the past century Bibles have been printed and circulated among the people by the million, and notwithstanding the fact that education has become general so that rich and poor, old and young, have the ability to read God's Word, nevertheless we are in the midst of the very famine specified by the Prophet. It seems almost incredible that we should be famishing now with Bibles in our homes, when our saintly forefathers did not famish, though education was limited. The secret lies in the fact that increasing intelligence on every hand has awakened our reasoning faculties along religious lines, and the result is the gnawing of hunger in our hearts. Our hearts and our flesh cry out for a living and a true God—a God greater than ourselves—more just, more powerful, more loving. Facing our own impotency, we more than ever feel our need of the Friend above all others with a love that sticketh closer than a brother's.

Consequently we cannot find the rest and refreshment and comfort from the Scriptures which our forefathers derived. Consequently the young men and the purest of heart in the world are repelled by the religion of the past as represented in the creeds of all denominations. They are hungry for the Truth. They are thirsty for the refreshment which they need. Intellectually many are looking, wandering, from sea to sea desiring the bread of life and the water of life. Scanning the creeds of all denominations they find them practically alike as respects theories of eternal reprobation and damnation for all except the elect, the saints. They are faint for lack of spiritual food and drink. They even look to the heathen and examine the Theosophy of India, the Buddhism of Japan and the Confucianism of China, seeking for some satisfying portion of Truth. These are in some respects like the prodigal son—far from home. They perceive the swinish content with the husks of business, money, pleasure and politics, but their spiritual longings cannot be satisfied with the husks which the swine eat. They are thoughtful and peculiar because of their interest in spiritual things. They are misunderstood by their best earthly friends. They must learn that in their wanderings along the highways of science and world-religion they will never get satisfaction. There is a famine in every denomination, in every part of the world. No one thinks of looking to the Bible for refreshment and strength. The Higher Critics of all denominations have branded it unreliable. The Professors in all the great Colleges are reproaching the Bible and openly laugh at the thought of finding there either bread for the hungry or water for the thirsty.

This is the very picture given in our context. "They shall wander from sea to sea, from the North even to the East; they shall run to and fro to seek the Word of the Lord and shall not find it. In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men faint for thirst" (Amos viii, 12, 13).

The Bread of Life and Water of Life. These hungry hearts must learn that there is only one satisfying portion under the Sun—the living and true God, and Jesus Christ whom he has sent to be the Bread of Life for the world, and the message of grace from his lips to be the Water of Life. It is laugh at the thought of this Truth-hungry class to the Great Teacher who declared, "My flesh is food indeed; and my blood is drink indeed; except ye eat the flesh of the Son of Man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you" (John vi, 55, 53). But scarcely will the intelligent of our day hearken to these words, so prejudiced are their minds by the fallacies which becloud their understanding. They see not, neither do they understand the goodness of God.

Why is this? Why are these Bibles in millions of homes, Catholic and Protestant, neglected? Because the people know not that the bread of life and the water of life which they seek are hidden therein. Why is this? We answer that conditions were very much the same in Israel at the time of our Lord's First Advent. The explanation he then gave is applicable now. He said, "Ye do make void the Law of God through your traditions"—"the traditions of the ancients" (Mark xii, 13; Peter i, 18). So now, the traditions handed down from our forefathers really make void, meaningless, ungracious, the message of God's Wisdom and Love sent to us through the Lord, the apostles and the prophets. Those who still hold tenaciously to the creeds of the past are thoroughly blinded now to the true teachings of God's Word, while, alas, the majority of the independent thinkers, in rejecting the dogmas of the past, have rejected the Bible also, believing that the teachings of the creeds truthfully represent God's Word. These are wandering litters and litters, hungering and thirsting, looking for the bread of life and water of life, and finding it nowhere, because they seek not where alone it is to be found.

"Ho, Every One That Thirsteth, Come Ye!"

Ho! Ye all that hunger for Truth, Come ye. There is an abundance for us all in our Heavenly Father's wonderful provision—in the Bible. Desiring all the creeds and traditions of men, let us gather at our Heavenly Father's Board as his family, as his children. Let us prove the truthfulness of his declaration that "Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that reverence him." Let us seek and obtain the satisfying portion. Let us satisfy our longings at the table of Divine provision. Mark the words and consider how truthful they are. "Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled" (Matthew v, 6). It is this Truth-hungry class that I address. We know their heart-longings, for we had the same. We know the satisfaction which they crave, for we have received it and are therefore doubly glad to hand forth the bread of life and the water of life to those who desire it. There are plenty ready to serve the appetites of those who long for pleasure—ball games, society fetes, chess, travel, etc. We have not a word to say against these. It is not our thought that they are going to eternal torment; hence we do not frantically beset them, annoy them. Let them have their pleasure. Let them wait for the time to come when something may occur in their experiences which will put them into the class of the broken-hearted and contrite of spirit and cause them to feel after God, if haply they might find him as a satisfying portion. In harmony with the Master's direction, it is our aim to "bind up the broken-hearted; to comfort those that mourn;" to tell them of the oil of joy which the Lord is willing to bestow for their spirit of heaviness and sorrow for sin (Isaiah lxi, 1-3). As the Master expressed no reproof of those engaged in any form of moral reform, even asceticism, so it is with us. We desire to oppose no one who is doing any good work, whether he follow with us in every particular or not. There are so many engaged in doing good works, and so few engaged in doing good, that not one of the latter class can be spared from the ranks of the service of righteousness.

As the Master did not give his time to temperance reform, nor social reform, nor political reform, but did give his time to the instruction of the people in the doctrines of the Divine Word, so let us be intent to follow his instructions in this matter, not teaching for doctrines the precepts of men, but the Word of God, which liveth and abideth forever—expounding unto the people the Scriptures and assisting them to see the length and breadth of their meaning. Nevertheless, as the religious teachers of the Master's day hated Jesus and his disciples for this cause, "because they taught the people" and persecuted them because they did not walk in the beaten paths of their day, so we may expect also to be hated without cause; so we may expect that the scribes and Pharisees and Doctors of the Law today will be grieved because the people are taught, because the light of the knowledge of the glory of God shining in the face of Jesus Christ is presented to the people as an incentive to love and obedience, instead of the doctrine of eternal torment. It matters not that all the educated ministry today well know, and would not for a moment deny, their disbelief in the doctrine of eternal torment, if cross-questioned. Nevertheless many of them hate us and oppose us, because we show the people the true interpretations of God's Word, and lift before the eyes of their understanding a God of Love, Just, Merciful, Righteous altogether, and fully capable both in wisdom and power to work out all the glorious designs which he "purposed in himself before the foundation of the world."

Three murderers confined in the Columbus, Ohio, Penitentiary from childhood been trained in the doctrines of eternal torment in different churches and yet committed murder. Those men, under God's providence, received some of our literature—"Scripture Studies"—and were cut to the heart when they learned of the Love of God, as expressed in the Divine Plan of the Ages. To be brief: A knowledge of the Love of God made such a change in the hearts and lives of these three murderers that the prison-keepers took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus and had learned of him. By and by they were paroled and today two of them are preaching the Gospel of the Love of God, seeking to bring their fellow-men out of the condition of darkness and sin into the glorious sunlight of Divine Love and Truth. Having tried the Gospel of fear and damnation and tortures for sixteen centuries, having seen that under this teaching there are more blasphemy and general wickedness than even in the heathen world, is it not due time to give the true bread and water of life to the hungry and thirsty ones who, for lack of it, are searching the earth and many of them falling into Higher Criticism, infidelity and other delusions peculiar to our day?

COLUMBIA CAFE IS NOW UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

John W. Hill, proprietor of the Columbia Cafe, is taking such steps as he finds necessary to make his restaurant equal in every way to the highest demands which North Yakima can place upon it. The reputation of the Columbia is established. That was the consideration which led Mr. Hill to become its proprietor. At that time he expected to be in a position to give the place his personal supervision. This was rendered impossible by obligations he assumed later and he has since been looking for a man to stand in his stead. He has obtained the services of W. C. Harcombe, who has formerly and to date been with the Yakima Cafe. Mr. Harcombe is an experienced restaurant man and will have as his aim in his new position the making of the Columbia a most desirable dining room for residents and transients.

"Love Divine, all love excellent."

He said, "For years I have been a member of the Presbyterian Church without being really a Christian at all. Occasionally I went on sprees; sometimes I gambled and drank, etc., etc. Not until I received a knowledge of the true character of God as set forth in your 'Scripture Studies' did my heart ever come to the proper attitude of surrender to the Lord. Then I was glad to give him my little life and wished it were more." The next day, passing from the hotel to the auditorium to a question meeting, this gentleman put a slip of paper into my hand, which I supposed was a question, and I thrust into my coat pocket. On the platform I drew it forth as one of the questions to be answered, and, to my astonishment, found it was a check for $1,000. The man had not been asked for one cent; but the Love of God had captivated his heart and gotten control—not only of it, but of his pocket-book and all. He wished to show the Lord his appreciation of the Love Divine, the length and breadth and height and depth, of which he now comprehended, as never before.

Another case: I met with a Convention of Bible Students in Chattanooga some five years ago. A gentleman attended who introduced himself to me saying that he was from Mississippi and that he had become deeply interested in my presentations of the harmony of the Word of God. He said in substance: "Brother Russell, I will not attempt to tell you how wretched a man I was before I got your literature. My dear wife here, an earnest Methodist, said to me, 'John, John, you will surely go to hell!' I replied to her, 'Mary, I know it! I know it! And, Mary, I am determined that I will deserve all that I get. I am not going to hell for nothing.' One of your tracts came to my desk in my store. I said that this was different from anything I ever understood respecting the teachings of the Bible. It seems more God-like than anything I had sent to you for various Bible Students' helps. The result, dear Brother Russell, is that the Love of God has constrained me, has conquered me, in a way that the doctrines of devilish torments could not influence me. Now I see the true teaching of God's Word. I can honor him and worship him and take pleasure in laying down my life in his service. I have made a full confession of everything. For a time I sent you a $50 check every month; but Brother Russell, that was in the nature of conscience-money, because the most profitable feature of my store trade was the sale of liquor to the Mississippi negroes. Those checks stopped, because, as the grace of God more and more filled and overflowed my heart, it brought me to see that I must love my neighbor as myself and do injury to none. That is all gone now, Brother Russell, and my whole life is devoted to the service of God and my fellow-men."

Black Ben Wins Carload Premium

Black Ben won the $500.00 carload premium at the Denver National Apple Show. Here's a telegram:

National Apple Show just closed five hundred dollar carload premium was awarded a car of Black Ben apples grown on one hundred sixty acres at Fruita, Colorado.

Have you Black Ben in your orchard? If not get it in this spring—plant largely of it. As a commercial sort it is unsurpassed, a sure, regular producer of handsome profits. It sold this year at the Wenatchee Wash. Fruit-Grower's Ass'n sale, at the same price as Jonathan—$2.00 per box, while Ben Davis brought only $1.40, Gano $1.50 and Mo. Pippin $1.50. You positively cannot make a mistake on Black Ben—plant it largely—you'll never regret it. As a filler for Spitzenberg, Newtown, Jonathan, Delicious, etc., it is excellent.

Our stock of Black Ben is immense—finer trees never grown. Get your order in early.

From a commercial standpoint I fully and heartily recommend Delicious, Black Ben and Stayman Winesap as three of the finest varieties for commercial orchard planting. The eating qualities of Delicious and Stayman Winesap are superior to any other table apple while Black Ben is the apple for the market and keeping qualities of all three varieties are excellent. I came to the United States Land and Irrigation Exposition at the Coliseum, Chicago, with the Wenatchee Commercial Club Exhibit and have sold a number of boxes of Stark Delicious at $10.00 per box. This, I think, speaks well for them.—C. W. Wilmeroth, Wenatchee, Wash. Note: Mr. Wilmeroth spent 32 years on South Water St., Chicago as an apple commission man. He probably is the best posted apple man in the country.—Stark Bro's.

BUYERS ARE SURE TO LOSE IN NUMEROUS INSTANCES

There Exists a Section of Country the Future of Which so far as Canal is Concerned Must Be Demonstrated.

Misrepresentations are being made, and land sold upon the strength of them regarding the proposed high line ditch. In some instances people have been lured on claims, upon payment, upon assurance given that the land will come under the ditch. In other instances deeded land has been sold under positive statement that the ditch, when completed, will furnish water to it. Operations of this kind are still afoot and apparently there is increasing activity in some cases in this connection. The fact is that anyone who buys land expecting it to come under the ditch is simply taking chances, except in cases in which all the chances are against them. They are then buying on a proposition on which they are certain to lose out.

Some Land in Doubt.

There is certain land which it is known must come under the ditch. There is certain other land which it is known cannot be watered by it. There is still a third class of land which is in the doubtful column and which must remain there until canal construction has so far advanced as to demonstrate its future. There is land lying between 1,600 and 2,000 feet altitude which may or may not get water from the canal extension. There are pockets the fate of which the future alone can define. Naturally there is a proportion of buyers who are willing to take chances on the future but there are others who are being induced to make investments because of positive and direct statements that the land will come under the high line system. Many of this latter class are simply being taken in. The necessity of investigating is abundant.

NACHES VALLEY IS BEST SPRAYED SECTION

Ranchers in That Community Are Purchasing Power Spraying Outfits for Their Orchards

Two new power spraying pumps were taken up the Naches valley on the train this afternoon. One was bought by Walter E. Rowe and the other by T. E. Forsythe, of Naches City. This makes nine power sprayers now in use in the Naches valley which in proportion to the number of acres of bearing orchard probably makes the Naches valley the best sprayed district in the Yakima valley.

Around Naches City, W. D. Thompson, Henry Sedge and T. E. Forsythe own Cushman pumps; W. S. Clark and LeRoy Pease own Mitchels. In the lower valley power pumps are owned by J. H. Fraser, Walter E. Rowe, S. E. Hodge and T. Holland. Mr. Holland owns a New-way pump and intends to do contract spraying.

SHERIFF AFRAID OF A GUN.

Benton County Guardian of Law Finds Feats Justified.

While Sheriff McNeill was showing a gun to a stranger in the office of Linn & Boyle Wednesday the trigger snapped and a bullet went through the popular attorney's desk. In showing the gun Mr. McNeill was very careful in unloading it before it left his hands, but in getting out the last cartridge the trigger was released. It is one of those new automatic machines and the sheriff is always very careful with it, saying: "I'm afraid of the thing, and you can imagine his surprise when he heard the report. No damage was done other than making a hole through the desk, and puncturing many legal documents. The bullet passed through the drawer in one side of the desk and continued its course through the opening in the center and lodged in a drawer at the other side.—Bozger Record.
