AMERICANS DRIVEN OUT

Women and Children Are Fleeing for Safety Across the Border and Men Are Disarmed

OROZCO SEIZES ARMS TO AID REVOLUTION

Rebel Leader Acknowledges He Gave Order Disarming Mormon Residents and Justifies Action Because of Dire Need

EL PASO, July 29.—Nearly 600 American women and children, hungry and worn out with fatigue and fear, arrived today on another special train. The refugees are from the Mormon colonies in Casas Grandes district. The train returned for more and still more are expected to arrive. Another train is due tomorrow.

According to conservative figures given by the Mormon dignitaries more than 3,000 in Mexico consider themselves in danger. Only the women are being removed. The men are remaining, disarmed and helpless.

Rebels Were Drinking
Enrique E. Bowman, a merchant speaking before a meeting of El Paso business men, declared the rebels had begun to drink heavily and threaten the Americans, saying all who remained would be killed. Bowman related other incidents of indignities endured by Americans.

Orozco Gave the Order
JUAREZ, July 29.—Orozco admitted today he was responsible for the order disarming the Mormon in Mexico and asserted the United States was to blame. He takes the ground that he must have arms and ammunition in some manner and taking those of the Americans is doing no harm for he naively remarked if Madero crushes the revolution, as Madero claims he will, there will be no need for Americans to be armed in Mexico. He says if the United States will recognize his belligerency and permit him to import cartridges and arms, he will agree to protect all foreigners.

IDENTIFY DEAD GIRL

Body Found Is That of Miss Dorcas Snowgrass
CATSKILL, N. Y., July 29.—The body of the young woman found yesterday in Dublin creek, near here, was identified this afternoon as that of Miss Dorcas J. Snowgrass, the nurse who has been missing from her home at Mount Vernon since July 17. The local officials are inclined to believe Miss Snowgrass is a victim of foul play.

DARROW TAKES STAND IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

Denies He Ever Had Anything to Do With Franklin or With Bribery of Jurors

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—Clarence Darrow took the stand in his own behalf today toward the close of the session of his trial. Darrow told of his connection with organized labor as attorney, detailing the numerous cases in which he has been interested.

Regarding the McNamara case he declared he was reluctant in accepting it and related the pressure brought to bear on him by the labor leaders which finally induced him to take it. He spoke of his dealings with Mrs. McNamara and George Behm, uncle of McNamara. He said he asked Behm to find out from McNamara whether the stories printed in the newspapers purporting to come from him were true and said to tell McNamara if they were not he would defend him also. Darrow said he never had a conversation with Behm with reference to getting McNamara to change his testimony.

DEBATING CANAL TOLLS

Senators Divided on Question of Legal Rights

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The right of Great Britain to participate in undertaking the control of the Panama canal was denied today in the senate by two advocates of a measure giving American coastwise shippers preference in tolls. Senators Bradley of Kentucky and Massey of Nevada contended not only that the United States had the right to regulate its own affairs but the purchase of the canal zone would remove it from international control. Senator McCumber of North Dakota took opposite view and believed such action would violate the spirit of the treaty.

ASCEND THE BIG MOUNTAIN

The Members of the North Yakima Y. M. C. A. Make the Top of Mount Tacoma Safely

CLIMB WAS MADE BY MOONLIGHT SUNDAY

Nearly Every Member of Party Carried Camera and a Fine Lot of Mountain Views Are Promised Waiting Friends

(Special to the Herald).
NATIONAL PARK INN, LONGMEERS SPRINGS, MOUNT TACOMA, Wash., July 29.—The Yakima Y. M. C. A. party made a successful ascent of Mt. Tacoma and returned at 3 o'clock this afternoon. All got back safely and had a fine trip. This information was received by courier from Paradise valley, on the south side of Mount Tacoma, from which point all such parties make their start.

The party consisted of Harry A. Cook, the athletic director of the North Yakima Y. M. C. A., J. Howard Green, Douglas Corpron, Rolfe Whitnall, Wallie Reed, Noel Thompson, Curtis Gilbert, Ben Schmidt, C. D. Eckstein, G. N. Ansell, C. B. Arnold and Ted Hackett, the last named master of the pack train.

Paradise Valley
The party reached Paradise valley early Saturday after a ride over the mountains, and went into camp at the Camp of the Clouds, at an elevation of nearly 7000 feet. There was snow on every hand, as well as myriads of flowers. The tents were pitched among gnarled trees that for countless winters had borne immense burdens of snow, and in sight of the great crest that lay invitingly to the north. The Paradise river, having as its source the glacier of the same name, flowed not far away, its icy waters refreshing man and beast.

The Climb
It was quite a climb up onto the snow fields above the Camp of the Clouds. The little party, just right for numbers, and containing no weaklings or women to hinder the march, made their preparations for a climb in the moonlight, when the sun's reflected rays would not burn and blind the climbers. An experienced guide, one of three on the mountain, had every man fill his shoes with the heaviest of jagged rocks. Thus equipped and with alpine stocks, canteens and some light lunch, the party started at 10:25 o'clock Sunday night. The long march over the snow fields leading to Camp Muir dimly displayed the wonders of this wonderful region, the moonlight being brilliant enough for the party to easily pick their way along and to see for miles in every direction. Occasional glimpses could be had of the peaks to the south, Mount Adams and St. Helens, while the Great Mountain itself lay in front, a

GAMBLERS CONFESS IMPLICATING BECKER

Murder of Rosenthal Is Said to Be Lieut. Charles Becker of Police Department

NEW YORK, July 29.—After a late night session of the grand jury in which "Bald Jack" Rose, "Bridgie Webber" and Harry Vailon are alleged to have made confessions directly implicating Police Lieutenant Charles Becker in the murder of Rosenthal, the gambler, Becker was indicted for murder in the first degree, placed under arrest and hurried before a midnight session of the court of general sessions. After entering a plea of not guilty, the police official was taken to the Tombs.

Informers Fear Death
The gambler's whose statements are said to have caused the indictment of Becker pleaded with officials not to be taken back to the Tombs tonight, declaring they would be killed if they returned to their cells. "Agents of the police department," they asserted, would make away with them in retaliation of their testimony if they returned to prison.

So real was their fear that they were allowed to sleep in the criminal court building under guard. Eight detectives asserted that Rose told the grand jury of being forced to arrange for the killing of Rosenthal under threats of being "jobbed" by the police and sent to prison on manufactured evidence.

MIS-MATED COUPLES GRANTED DIVORCES

In All But One Case the Wife Was the Aggrieved Person and She Was Given Everything

Several divorces were granted Monday in the superior court by Judge Preble, who broke away from his vacation on the ranch long enough to return to town to hear the cases and a number of motions and other matters of court routine. The order of the court in a number of other cases were placed on record in the office of the clerk and these became public for the first time.

Bugs in Court
Viola Buggs was given a divorce from Herbert Buggs, who was a clerk in the Northern Pacific freight office. Ill treatment was the ground on which Judge Preble granted this action, and gave the mother the custody of her baby boy. Mary McCormick was granted the custody of her baby girl and separation from David C. McCormick, who was charged with abandonment. Allen & Wilson were the attorneys for the plaintiffs in both cases.

Neglect and Cruelty
Neglect and cruel and inhuman treatment on the part of her husband, Paul E. Gradall, were the grounds on which Judge Preble released Annie Kuschl Gradall from the marital bonds. The case was heard May 27, and the order of the court was signed July 18. Another wife given liberty by Judge Preble was Mrs. Effa J. Armsberry from Lea, Arnsberry. One husband sued for separation and got it. His name was Giovanni Blua and his wife's name was Baptista.

At his bedside when the end came were the empress, crown prince and the most prominent officials of the household and the government.

Everything known to science was done to prolong the life of the sovereign, but the outcome was inevitable from the start on July 19. His death was due to Bright's disease, complicated with diabetes and an intestinal affection.

MANASSAS, Va., July 29.—"Uncle Sam" proved a winner again today when the balloon piloted by Captain H. E. Honeywell of St. Louis landed here early in the day, having defeated all other entries in the elimination race from Kansas City to decide which three balloons would take part in the international contest at Stuttgart, Germany. Honeywell covered the distance of 325 miles. He said he had not feared that he might have been driven out over the ocean he could have remained in the air several hours more.

BUNNELL FUNERAL YESTERDAY

Man Who Suffered Electric Burns Will Be Buried by Brother

J. F. Bunnell of Portland came to Yakima to visit his brother. He got off the train at Yakima City, where his brother, J. O. Bunnell, who was employed on the ranch of John Druse, had suffered injury that later resulted in death. Not finding a place to stay there over night, the visitor came to North Yakima and went to a hotel. He did not know of his brother's accident until that evening when he learned of it by reading the newspaper account. Not believing that he could see the injured man that night he went to bed and the next morning visited the hospital to find that the suffering man had died.

The funeral of J. O. Bunnell was held yesterday afternoon in the chapel of Inman & Rose. So the man who came to visit will stay to bury the brother whom he had come to see. The deceased was a bachelor.

CARELESS DRIVING CAUSES ACCIDENT

Big Touring Car With Party of Five Turns Completely Over Mile and Half From Town

A big 60-horse power Everett machine was wrecked on the road south of town Monday evening about 7:30 o'clock while going at a high rate of speed, according to the statement of two different witnesses, and it was a miracle that nobody was killed. The occupants of the car were said to have been employed of the Calumet restaurant, who were out for a pleasure ride.

As far as can be learned "Bill" Enright, the chauffeur, who drove the machine for the Washington Stables, was the only one injured, and he only slightly, though one of the three women occupants fainted and had to be brought to consciousness with copious applications of ditch water. The occupants of the car were said to have been employed of the Calumet restaurant, who were out for a pleasure ride.

Narrow Escape
Two different parties saw the upset. One man, who was driving his horse toward town, said he had a narrow escape from being run into, the machine running at the rate of from 50 to 60 miles an hour and zig-zagging from side to side as if the machinery was out of order. Word was left by the chauffeur that the steering gear were damaged and that caused the trouble.

The driver of a car owned in another man who was returning to the city saw the accident. He said he expected to see everybody killed, for the car was running at a great rate of speed and turned completely in the air. The occupants of the wrecked car were brought back to the city in his car.

TWO FIRE CALLS MADE MONDAY NIGHT

Fire Department Started With Hen House and Quickly Go to Clothing Store

The fire department had two calls Monday night, each within a short time of the other. A chicken coop out near Johnson's corner claimed their attention first and before they could get back to town the members of the fire department had a call that sent them to No. 21 South First street, where Leroue and Lefrenier have a clothing and men's furnishing goods store.

It is supposed that somebody left an electric or gas heating iron burning when the store was locked up. By 8:30 o'clock flames burst out of the rear portion of the building, but the fire department was quickly on the scene and literally flooded the building, putting out the fire, which gave off great quantities of smoke giving the impression that the entire block was on fire. Smoke and water damaged the clothing stock to the extent of several hundred dollars. The stock of Harry L. Ansart, next door, was somewhat damaged by smoke. Damage to the building was slight.

RECLAMATION REPORTED ON

Over 62,000 Acres Were Under Irrigation Below Sunnyside Canal During June

STORAGE RESERVOIRS FULL TO THE LIMIT OF SAFETY

Fill at Kachess Was Reported to Be Twenty-Three Feet Above the Original River Bed at the End of June

During June an acreage of approximately 62,000 actually received water under the Sunnyside canal, according to the report of reclamation officials. The amount of water diverted at the close of the month was 910 second feet. Construction work consisted of necessary minor extensions of the distribution system to cover lands for which water right application had been made.

Bumping Reservoir Full
Under the Tieton the only construction was the building of a wagon road to the Tieton canyon. Bumping lake reservoir was reported full by the 20th of the month and a small crew was engaged there in pulling logs from the lake and in piling and burning them.

At Lakes Keechelus and Cle Elum the maintenance of the crib dams was continued and also the cutting of timber by contract.

Under the Okanogan project water was delivered to 7,100 acres. On June 6 the two reservoirs on the project contained 10,300 acre feet, the highest point of the season and 1,450 acre feet in excess of the previous high water mark.

Lake Kachess Storage
Of the storage work at Lake Kachess the report at the close of June was as follows:

Operations with the orange-peel dredge, excavating in the lake outlet channel, were impeded by deep water, but approximately 7,000 cubic yards of the material were excavated. Mortar paving of the slopes of the outlet channel below the dam was completed. Early in the month concreting of the gate tower was begun and good progress was made, the completed portion having been carried up 55 feet, or to within 8 feet of the top of the dam. The construction of the embankment was continued with good progress. The fill is now at elevation 2,230, which is 23 feet above the original river-bed.

Lake at Maximum Level
Enough rock is being obtained from the material dumped from the trestle to build the layers of small rock on both slopes and riprap on the upstream slope. The timber trestle was completed during the latter part of the month. Early in the month, as the floor of the channel below the dam was completed, the sluice-gates were opened as the maximum safe level of the lake had been reached, but due to the amount of rain which fell during the month, the level of the lake was lowered only one foot.

J. L. DRUSE BURIED BY PHILIPPINE VETERANS

Former Comrades of Company E, Act as Escort and Bearers at Funeral Monday

John L. Druse, of Yakima City, who was killed Saturday by electricity while working in his hay field, was buried Monday with military honors by the Spanish War Veterans of North Yakima. Mr. Druse was a member of Company E of North Yakima of the National Guard of Washington and served with his company in the Philippines, taking part in the campaigns and in the battles in which the company, as part of the First Washington, was engaged.

Private and Public Services
The funeral services of Mr. Druse were held at the First Methodist church, where Rev. W. H. Sellick conducted the service. Previously there had been a private service at the home and the friends were gathered at the church, where an address was delivered by Mr. Sellick. At the grave the Spanish War Veterans conducted the service. The ritual was followed and then a military salute fired and "Taps" sounded. Before the casket was lowered to the grave the large flag which had encased it was removed and a small silk flag was placed on the casket in its stead and was buried with it.

Comrades as an Escort
Six members of the organization, all of them former members of Company E, acted as an escort and as bearers. They were Captain Marshall Scudder and Messrs. J. Howard Wright, H. W. Leach, Herman Leeper, Charles Niles and F. H. Millican. Many beautiful flowers on the casket testified to the sincerity of friends in their mourning for the death of Mr. Druse.

SCHEDULE FOR FRUIT SPECIAL

Northern Pacific Arranges to Start Its Service East Beginning Monday Next

NINETY-NINE HOUR RUN FROM PASCO TO ST. PAUL

Superintendent Moline of Refrigeration Service Says There Is No Cause for Worry Regarding Icing Facilities

Arrangements have been made for Northern Pacific special fruit train service out of North Yakima beginning August 5, which will be Monday next. Special fruit trains of 25 cars or more will be run to Fargo and points east. These trains will leave Pasco at 6 o'clock a. m. and will arrive at St. Paul at 11 o'clock a. m. of the fourth day, which gives a 99 hour service from the starting point. This is practically the same service that has prevailed the past two years over the Northern Pacific and has been eminently satisfactory to the growers.

Night Clean-up Here
So far as North Yakima is concerned the fruit houses here along the tracks will be cleaned up about 8 o'clock p. m., the cars going through to Pasco to be prepared there for the outgoing train, icing to be attended to etc. Cars between Ellensburg and Pasco, in other words will be picked up the night before and carried through to be made up in trains out the next morning.

The Icing Problem
Asked as to the icing situation, F. E. Moline of the Northern Pacific refrigerator car service said that so far as his road is concerned there is no question as to the provision made. The Northern Pacific, he says, has ice arrangements made sufficient for icing cars enough to carry all the fruit of the Yakima valley. It is the estimate that 65 per cent of the fruit will go under refrigeration and therefore he thinks there is no need to worry on that score.

The fruit trains will run east on a regular schedule and schedules have been arranged for the various lines of the Northern Pacific in the fruit producing sections of the state and in other states, the fruit concentrating at Spokane and going east from there in one huge train daily.

VISITS OLD FRIENDS AT WALLA WALLA PEN

Bowinkleman, a Trusty and a Model Prisoner, Is Running a Chicken and Duck Ranch

O. R. Schumann, who recently returned from a well-earned vacation, tells of stopping at Walla Walla, where he visited the penitentiary to ask after the welfare of some of his friends whom he had sent over for a sojourn there to regain their health and former standing in the world. While there John R. Lewis, one of the penitentiary guards, showed him around the big institution, where so many Yakima county delegates are cared for.

Bowinkleman a Trusty
The deputy prosecuting attorney saw many familiar faces and among them was that of Henry Bowinkleman, who was sentenced to from five to twenty years for manslaughter, for killing Meador in 1910. Bowinkleman was more than pleased to see Schumann and showed him his chickens and ducks, which he keeps for the benefit of the institution outside the walls. He has quite a poultry ranch and is busy from morning till night caring for his incubators, his chicks and ducklings as well as the eggs and other products. He is in splendid health. The authorities give Bowinkleman a splendid reputation, stating that he is a model prisoner and has not broken one of the rules since his incarceration.

"Wappy" Assistant
The work has so increased that Bowinkleman will be given an assistant and it was stated that his assistant would be no other than "Wappy" or Wapenstein, the former chief of police of Seattle, who was sent to the state institution some time ago on charges of infraction of the law.

Renshaw of Albany, Oregon, were drowned today in a launch accident in Bear River Straits. The heroism of F. A.
