Society women and working women often find their brains so weary and their heads so tired that to keep up an hour after hour is really torture. Set the fingers hard against the scalp after one of these days of suffering and you will find that the scalp is tight, as if glued to the skull. This tightness of the scalp is due to tension or nervous excitement, and can be relieved by simple scalp massage. To gain relief take the pins and combs from the hair and brush out the tangles. Toss up the hair to lighten it. With hair hanging, place one hand on top of the head and the other just above the base of the

A big French beauty doctor came to town. So did everyone else. Nobody but women were allowed. The beauty doctor was a man. "I lead a Christian life," he said in beginning. The women clapped their hands. "Every Sabbath finds me a worshiper" (more applause), "and on Sunday evening do not seek me at my parlors, No. 301 ——— Avenue hotel. I shall not be there, ladies, I shall be attending the exercises of the Young Men's Christian association." The applause was deafening. Then he began to tell us things. Wonderful things. I wish some of the ugly-looking men I know might have heard them. Beauty, he said, depends upon health. No health—no beauty. You can not put it, dear ladies, upon the outside. It must come from the inside out. "It is so simple, so easy to be healthy. Dr. ———'s remedies are so simple, when you have heard them you will wonder why you had to wait for Dr. ——— to come 'way across the ocean to tell you of them. "Medicine won't make you beautiful, Oh, no; we have already too much medicine, ladies. I will tell you how to gain beauty—health. Don't laugh. Eat carrots. Carrots will bring color to the cheeks and brightness to the eye. Carrots will tone up the skin and give lustre to the hair. Think of it, carrots! just carrots. "How eat them? Eat them raw, eat them baked, eat them boiled, just so you eat carrots, carrots, morning, noon and night. "It is very simple, ladies, but I have come thousands of miles to tell you this. "Now, there are other remedies just as simple. Do you know what will cure a birthmark, ladies? No? Well, listen. Lime water. Just lime water." A breath of astonishment swept over the assembly. "Just you buy from your druggist a gallon of lime water. In this, every eight, soak a bit of soft linen. Fold the linen four double and apply to the mark every night until it disappears. "I have come to you clear from France to tell you that. "And does your husband have dandruff in his hair. Does it dust down over his collar and shoulders? Ugh! I can see by your faces how you hate it! Then just buy a bottle of Rhine wine, Rhine wine. Take a cupful and rub it well over the scalp once every week until the dandruff has gone. For external use only, ha, ha! Ladies! try it on your husband's heads."

HURRY WORK ON BATTLESHIPS

NEW YORK, June 17.—Aroused by the energy of the Newport News Dry Dock and Shipbuilding company, which is building the battleship Louisiana at Newport News, workmen at the local navy yard will work from now on night and day to complete the battleship Connecticut for the government before the southern shipbuilders can finish the Louisiana. The commissioning of the Connecticut is looked for September. The yard officials believe that the chances for the Connecticut being ready to go into commission before the Louisiana are excellent.

JIM BRAID WIM OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP

Jas. Braid, who won his second open golf championship June 10 at historic St. Andrews, was victor in the championship of 1901, when he won at Muirfield. At that time there was rejoicing among the Scotch as an Englishman had won for the seven previous years. Braid has golfed in Britain, Harry Vardon and J. H. Taylor being considered his superiors. Braid's last round this year was made in 81.

DRAMATIST AND LEADING LADY AT 14

BERKELEY, Cal., June 17.—Gladys Wilson of Berkeley, 14 years of age, has written a drama which rivals the work of some of our best playwrights. Throughout the play the dialogue and stage pictures show remarkable talent. The drama is called "Dorothea," and describes the romance of an English maiden of the eighteenth century. Since a very small child, Gladys has shown a great love for Shakespeare, reading his works with remarkable intelligence. The little playwright presented recently her first effort. She staged and managed the whole affair herself. It proved her unusual ability as an actress in her portrayal of the principal role.
