

SEAWANHAKA TROPHY HEADED BACK HOME

AFTER 10 YEARS REPOSE ON CANADIAN SOIL THE FAMED CUP APPEARS TO BE READY FOR A RETURN TRIP

MANCHESTER.

ALEXANDRA.

MONTREAL, July 29.—Two races were won by Manchester, but she was defeated for the Seawanhaka trophy, and the cup which for years has apparently been firmly anchored to its holding ground appears to be bound for the other side of the line. The skill of Shearwood, creator of the bilgeboard type, appears about to give way before the onslaughts of the Yankee invaders.

The much contested trophy was offered for competition in 1895 by the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht club of Long Island sound, and Arthur Brand, an Englishman, challenged with Spruce IV, to be defeated by Ethelewynne. In 1896 Canada went after the cup with Glencairn I, and G. Herrick Duggan, her designer and skipper, brought the cup home when he left the coast.

Since then the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht club has successfully defended the cup. In 1897 Momo challenged, representing the Seawanhaka club, but Glencairn II defeated her. In 1898 the club challenged again, but she was defeated by Challenger, but she was defeated by Dominion, a concave bottomed craft with wonderful speed.

By mutual consent this type was abandoned and a normal hulled boat, Glencairn III, held the cup against the Seawanhaka's Constance, in 1899. Next year the White Bear Yacht club of Minneapolis tried to lift the cup with Minnesota, but Redcoat held it safe. Then the Island Sailing club of the Isle of Wight shipped Greyfriar over, but Senneville defeated her.

In 1902 Duggan dropped the defense and Charles Routh took his place as skipper and Fred Shearwood as designer. Their Tridente, with bilgeboards, defeated the Bridgeport Yacht club's center-boarder and skipper, brought the cup home when he left the coast.

The Manchester club's Kolotou was defeated by another bilgeboard craft, the Thorilla II, in 1903. Last year the White Bear club again tried to get the cup with White Bear, but Glencairn II defeated her, adopting the bilgeboard idea. The defenders showed a new wrinkle by using curved bilgeboards and won with Noorna.

This year, in Alexandria, the defenders have gone back to flat boards. They have adopted more beam and provided a much stiffer boat than before.

The challenging club, again the Manchester, have two candidates to choose from—Tunipou and Manchester. The former is bluff bowed; Manchester is finer lined. Both are beamy, broader than Alexandria, and their bilgeboards are round, deep and carried well forward. They are flat bottomed craft with sides flaring above water and with broad, flat sterns.

Approximately the dimensions of challengers and defender are: Length over all, 37 feet; load water-line, 29 feet; beam, 8 feet; sail area, 500 square feet. The challengers were shipped here by rail and tuned up on Lake St. Louis.

WOMAN EXPELLED BECAUSE SHE SAID PRAYER MEETINGS ARE CIRCUSES

(Scripps News Association.)

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 29.—Only one in years is the expulsion from the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city of Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden, one of the wealthiest and most prominent women of Vancouver, as well as one of the best known leaders in Washington of the woman's suffrage movement. She is also a prominent member of the Washington State W. C. T. U. The charges against her were the circulation of lies concerning the pastor, Rev. Thomas E. Elliott. The expulsion was accomplished as a result of a trial before a jury of five church members.

Mrs. Hidden will appeal the case to higher authority. Her friends state that even though the charges are true the church which claims to show the way to salvation through the teachings of Christ violates one of the most sacred injunctions of God who says, "Do unto others as ye would others should do unto you."

There are four counts in the indictment. It is alleged that Mrs. Hidden quoted her pastor as saying: "I don't care whether you believe in the atonement of Jesus Christ or not."

She is also accused of having charged Mr. Elliott with being a Unitarian, and of having stated that he twisted the truth. Mrs. Am again she stated, say the charges: "His prayer meetings are circuses."

Later the woman made the assertion: "He has lied from his pulpit and knew he was lying."

She is accused of having rallied against the church and its pastor.

STOLE TEETH AND TROUSERS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—Superintendent Palmer's office is investigating the robbery which took place on board the Oregon Express yesterday morning between the hours of 2 and 3, when the party of Idaho editors who were coming to this city from Portland were relieved of money, clothes, jewels and other property.

As yet the railroad people have not been able to identify the man or men who went through the car in which the journalists were traveling, but as a precautionary measure the Pullman porter of the Pullman in which the writers were been arrested, as suspicion pointed to him.

The editors will undoubtedly be reimbursed by the Pullman people for the losses they sustained, but there are some in the party who were considerably inconvenienced by the robbery.

One editor says that he puts his false teeth in his trousers' pockets for safekeeping, and they went with his pantaloons and his money.

NORTHPORT HAS TROUBLE WITH MILK SUPPLY

A report was received in Spokane from Northport, Wash., this morning saying the inhabitants of that city are menaced with contagious diseases through the medium of impure milk.

J. J. Travis, mayor of Northport, reported to Health Officer Genoway of this city that two cases of diphtheria had broken out, and it is thought the disease is the result of carelessness in handling the milk supply. One of the dairies of that city is now under suspicion of being guilty of negligence in caring for its milk, and a vigilant watch will be kept to locate the trouble and punish the offenders.

Mayor Travis states that the health authorities of the city are taking all manner of precautions to prevent the spread of the disease. In both cases the families have been placed under quarantine and antitoxine is being used in the hope of forestalling any fatalities.

In his letter Mayor Travis said he was almost sure the trouble arose from the improper handling of the milk. He believes the dairymen are careless in cleaning their milk cans, and also in keeping the stables and storehouses clean.

Prominent physicians all over the country believe that one-half or even a greater percentage of the diseases prevalent during the summer is due to impure milk.

In his efforts to prevent the spread of disease Dr. Genoway has been upheld by the Spokane County Medical association and both the health officer and the association have been exerting every effort to bring about the passage of a new ordinance by the council whereby the chances of disease spreading from the milk supply will be greatly diminished.

The ordinance is now in the hands of Dr. Genoway and, as soon as certain amendments are made, will be placed before the city council.

The Spokane County Medical association strongly recommends the passage of the proposed ordinance, stating that restrictions can not be too stringently exercised in guarding the health of the public from danger through careless handling of milk.

Andrew J. Gilligan, Special Correspondence of The Press.

CINCINNATI, O., July 28.—"Andy" Gilligan, 69, known to practically every actor in America as a good friend of the profession and as one of the oldest Elks in the country, is dead.

He was on intimate terms with most of the great stage favorites of the last half century. Known all over the United States as a confirmed "first nighter," he was the subject of many a joke on the boards, the jests mainly taking the form of a remark about his whiskers, which were long, abundant, and his pride. And "Andy" used to laugh as heartily as any of the audience when reference was made to his "Sligos."

He was a caterer whose place was the resort for actors, and he boasted of one of the most complete collections of stage favorites of the last century.

FARMERS WANT MEN

WILBUR, Wash., July 29.—The scarcity of harvest hands still prevails at this point. Farmers come to town every day looking for help and are unable to secure it. There is an immediate demand for 200 men to assist in caring for the 1905 crop in and about Wilbur, and wages are ranging from $2 to $3.50. Farmers are all busy haying, and most of them are short handed, and the wheat harvest will follow closely upon the heels of the fodder crop.

A Russian nobleman landed in New York with $25,000, with which to buy a farm and settle down in the United States. Probably didn't want to help pay that indemnity.

WORLD MEETING OF FRIENDS

RICHMOND, Ind., July 29.—The Friends' International Educational conference, which begins its sessions Monday at Earlham college, will bring together the best known educators in the Friends' institution throughout the country. Many delegates and visitors are already arriving. The address of welcome on Monday evening will be given by Governor Hanly, and the same evening reports from the Friends' educational institutions will be presented by Robert E. Pretlow, chairman of the executive committee of the five years' meeting. During the three days' sessions discussions of topics will be participated in by leading Friends of the country.

SCANDINAVIANS CELEBRATE AT PORTLAND FAIR

PORTLAND, Ore., July 29.—This was Scandinavian day on the calendar of the Lewis and Clark exposition, and it was observed by one of the largest gatherings of that race ever held in America. From all parts of the northwest and Pacific coast regions they gathered to take part in the program. Swedes and Norwegians fraternized in happy mood despite the differences now agitating their home governments. There were also present a large number of Danes and Finns. The program included literary exercises, outdoor sports and other forms of entertainment, concluding with a grand choral festival in the exposition auditorium this evening.

HE DROWN HIS SQUAW

(Scripps News Association.)

SEAGWAY, Alaska, July 28.—Evidence of a grim double tragedy, perpetrated by one of the numerous "squaw men" of the north, has just come to light at Chilkat with the discovery of the body of Mary Moses, an Indian woman, who has been living with James Hansen at Chilkat. Her remains were floating on the water. Hansen's boat was discovered upside down with one oar in the rowlock.

Hansen is supposed to have drowned Mary Moses last July 5, and then committed suicide. It is said he threatened to murder her if she left him. His body has not been found.

SHINGLE MILLS TO SHUT DOORS

SEATTLE, July 28.—Shingle mills in the state of Washington have been operating at a loss during the past six months, according to the statement of D. W. Bass of McMurray, Skagit county, who is interested in a movement among manufacturers to close down all mills during the winter in order to relieve the situation.

A large number of the shingle manufacturers in Whatcom, Skagit and Snohomish counties, have already signed a compact to close from December 1, 1905, to March 1, 1906," said Mr. Bass last night, "and a special meeting of King county shingle men has been called to take place at the Ballard city hall next Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in order to secure their sanction of the movement."

SCOTCH DAY CELEBRATED

CHICAGO, July 29.—Scotch day was celebrated by the Caledonian Society of Chicago today with a big outing at Santa Fe park. The athletic sports and dancing and bagpipe contests were participated in by a number of professionals from Scotland and Canada.
