

PRETTY EX-SALVATION LASSIE USES "EMERALD EYES" ON 'EM.

HER CONFIDENCE GAME PLAYED ON JEWELERS, WHO PASS OVER DIAMONDS TO HER WITHOUT QUESTION — SHE TELLS HOW SHE MAKES CRIME EASY.

CINCINNATI, O., April 10.—Although she has a prison record and her associates are crooks, Grace Ethel, a former Zanesville, O., Salvation Army lass, relies upon her beauty and blandishments to escape punishment for uttering worthless checks. She was arrested in this city after securing diamond rings from several jewelers, whom her attractiveness and complacency deceived.

John Delaney, convicted once of manslaughter, has been arrested as an alleged accomplice of the girl.

By Grace Ethel.

"Al I did was to walk into the best jewelers in the city and ask to look at a Tiffany set solitaire ring. I was selected with infinite care. When it had been approved by me I asked them if they had a check on the City Hall National bank, or a blank check. In every instance they brought out blank checks in pad form and I filled up one with the signature of Grace Price.

"There was no question at all. They took the check, handed me over the ring in a plush box, and I sought another store for another ring.

"It has been reported that John Delaney and I were partners. Such is not the case. When I was in the penitentiary at Columbus I met his wife. Upon the expiration of my sentence, she asked me to carry a verbal message to him. Delaney served 10 years at Columbus for killing his father. His wife is there upon another charge. When I came to Cincinnati I looked him up. He has no connection with me in this deal.

"Please forget that I was in the Salvation Army. It is not to the credit of the Army. They do a lot of good and the teachings of the Army never got anyone in jail.

LABORS' REALM

Federal union No. 222 has quite a history as a labor organization. When it was first organized, common labor in this city was receiving $1.50 per day and 10 hours comprising a day's work. The union succeeded in securing a wage of $2.25 per day and has reduced the hours of work to eight hours per day. The union spent all the money it had in its treasury and $5000 of American labor union funds in carrying the eight hour day ordinance to the supreme court when the law was declared constitutional. If the union succeeds in securing a charter from the American Federation of Labor it is believed that it will accomplish, if possible, more good in the future than in the past.

At the meeting of the Central Labor union last Monday evening, members of the cement workers' and building laborers' unions stated that these unions would probably be represented by delegates in the central union in the near future. The painters and paper hangers will receive an advance in wages of 50 cents per day on April 15. This will increase their pay from $3.50 per day to $4 for eight hours work. The new scale has been accepted by all the large contractors.

An open meeting of union men, their wives, sisters and female relatives will be held in Central Labor Union hall, corner Wall and Main, tonight to complete the organization of a Women's Union Label league. A good musical and literary program is promised and an enjoyable time is anticipated. The league is starting out favorably and it is expected to do much for the cause of unionism through the demand for union label goods, and for the cards and buttons of individual unions. The object of the league is primarily to bring about a more consistent exercise of the purchasing power along union lines. These leagues are operating very successfully in all the coast cities. The meeting is called for 8 p. m.

COULD NOT RESIST THE TEMPTATION

"Dopey Joe" is in the toils again. He is the jailbird who made the sensational escape some time ago by diving out the back window in the office when he was about to be locked up to serve out a term for vagrancy. Officer McQuillin saw Joe last night and promptly placed him under arrest. Joe said that he wouldn't have been so desperate when he was arrested the other time if it were not for the fact that he was hungry for a "shot." When he saw many days without his dope staring him in the face he became desperate and would have leaped from an upper story to make his escape.

BARBER WAS REAL BUSY

J. E. Surber, a real estate man from Montana, went up against $9.75 worth of barbering yesterday, according to the story he told Captain Coverly at the police station last night. He had gray hairs dyed, mustache dyed, massages, shave and haircut, all totaling $9.75. He thought this was pretty steep and made a strenuous kick with the result that the bill was trimmed down. He is living in a Main avenue hotel and it was the hotel barber shop where the work was done.

NEW DIRECTORY IS CREDITABLE

The new telephone directories are being distributed today, and at last it may be said that the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph company has issued a directory that is a credit and one that comes somewhere near filling requirements. It is the best directory issued this side of the mountains. It comprises 328 pages, is printed in larger type and gives the numbers of subscribers in all towns in the inland Empire.

GLASS BOTOM BOAT WRECKEE

(Scripps News Association.)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 11.—A glass bottomed boat containing a party of 10 women was dashed on the rocks in a cove near Lajolla at 11 o'clock this morning. An Italian named Tony who had charge of the boat, was thrown against the rocks and killed. One woman had her jaw broken and another an arm, but all were rescued from the water.

KEPT COLLECTION AS PAY

J. C. Gaines, better known as "Little Willie," from the fact that he weighs in the neighborhood of 300 pounds, was before Justice Stocker this morning charged by C. P. Hallett with obtaining money fraudulently. Gaines is a collector and Hallett gave him a bill to collect amounting to $2.80. Gaines got it and as he had to make a six mile trip for it, just kept it all in payment for his services. Stocker discharged him.

LABOR LEADER KILLS HIMSELF

(Scripps News Association.)
OGDEN, April 11.—John Crosby, formerly prominent in labor circles, aged 36, hanged himself last night, and his body was found this morning. It was the third attempt in a month. The cause was melancholy.

COURT NOTES

Judge Kennan this morning granted a judgment to Regs & Ernest against A. V. Knuth for $13.75 for work done.

Walter E. Woods, formerly proprietor of the Columbia bar, filed a complaint with the clerk of the superior court this morning asking for a judgment against the Kirkwood Distillery company for $189.80—balance due on the sale of the stock and bar to the company.

Judge Huneke this morning vacated the case against Ben Weaver for the reason that a case is pending in the federal court and Weaver is awaiting trial and is out on a bond of $500. He is charged by the postal authorities with forging the name of Anna Anderson to a money order. If the federal authorities don't convict him, then the state will take him into custody again.

WOMEN WHO STARTED REVOLT AGAINST DOWIE

MISS HARRIET WARE, WHO, IT IS ASSERTED, DECLINED POLYGAMOUS PROPOSITIONS MADE IN ZION CITY.

Mrs. Ware and her daughter, Harriet, came to Zion City two years ago from New York. The daughter is 25 and Mrs. Ware is 45 years old. Mrs. Ware was assistant editor of The Leaves of Healing and her daughter was the star singer in the choir. Mrs. Ware complained of Dowie's treatment of herself and daughter and was excommunicated by Dowie, who first forced her to deny that he had insulted her or her daughter. Mrs. Ware is now writing a book on Dowie that will deal with his alleged secret teachings of polygamy.

The allegation in Zion City is that Miss Ware and Miss Ruth Hofer scornfully declined propositions of polygamous marriage.

SURE OF RATE VICTORY

RAILROAD BRANCH OF THE SENATE DYING HARD, BUT THE PRESIDENT IS TRIUMPHING — HOW THE HEPBURN BILL LOOKS AFTER ONE YEAR OF VICISSITUDES.

GNASHING OF TEETH.

On the whole the railroad senators are taking their medicine with poor grace. Last April it was "To hell with the public!" and the railroad lobby occupied the seat of honor at the right hand of the senate committee on commerce. Then the storm broke. For a while the senators were anxious and silent and waited for the storm to blow over. But it didn't. Then they became genuinely alarmed. Some of them are whining—Elkins for one, Spooner for another. They say they are the very best friends the people have had and they feel deeply grieved that they should be so misunderstood. Aldrich feels the lash, but he is taking it like a man. He is a pirate who believes political piracy to be an honored profession.

By Gilson Gardner.

Special Correspondence to The Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 10.—The end of the long fight for railway rate control is in sight. That a rate bill is to be put on the statute books is now conceded, even by the Aldrich-Elkins crowd in the senate. It is to be a "real" bill, as distinguished from a "gold brick."

The most important thing about the law is, it will assert the principle of government control over rates.

"The rate! That is the thing!" President Roosevelt once exclaimed. "The government must be able to put its finger on the rate!" It is nearly three years since that remark was made. The government will soon be able to put its finger on the rate.

The Court Review.

As to the much talked of matter of "court review" in the rate legislation. President Roosevelt has no objection to court review—provided that section is drawn and executed in GOOD FAITH. It is all a question of a PROPER court review. That's why he has just agreed to the review amendment which Lodge and other friends of the president have drawn.

Except that the principle of government control of rates is established by the pending Hepburn-Dooliver-Tillman-Davey-Roosevelt bill, the measure a year ago would have been regarded as exceedingly conservative. It does not authorize the government to go into the general rate-fixing business; it does not give the government power to adjust differentials between rival commercial localities; it does not legislate any broad general principles of rate making. The things that the bill does not profess to do are reserved for the "next round."

Some Big Features.

Many important provisions in the pending rate bill have been entirely lost to view in the great interest which has centered on the "court review" amendments. There is the publicity feature — one of the most important — which provides for a system of inspection of the books by government agents to discover whether rebates are being given. Another relates to the right of feeder roads to use the terminals of trunk lines to enter large commercial centers. Still another is the new control to be provided for the private car lines, such as are maintained by Armour, Swift, Rockefeller and others. Besides there are pending amendments raising many questions.
