

FAKER GANS GETS MATCH

Joe Gans and Dave Holly fight at Seattle the latter part of the month. Dan McEnroe, matchmaker of the Pastime club in this city, has received a letter from Holly's manager asking for a fight to be arranged between Holly and Dick Fitzpatrick. Fitz, however, has his fill of the west.

And talking about Gans, if Seattle will stand for him it will stand for anything. This shine is entitled to little consideration, and although one of the greatest fighters in the ring, he is yet the greatest faker, and a faker with the least excuse for faking. He has been treated pretty well and it is time he was disciplined for his faking tactics.

DOUGHERTY GETS HIS.

REILLY BEATS GORMAN

Tommy Reilly recently whipped Gorman at Vancouver in the tenth round. The bout was to go 10 rounds and finished one minute before the end.

TOM JOYCE WILL RUN FOR SHERIFF

Thomas Joyce will be a candidate on the Democratic primary ticket for the nomination for sheriff of Spokane county. He has been asked by his friends to make the run and has pledged all manner of support. Joyce is one of the best known labor men in the state and aided in organizing the local Referendum league, of which he is a member of the executive committee. He handed in his resignation as a member of the executive committee of the league today, to place the league in the proper light as being a nonpartisan organization.

BEATEN WITH BEER BOTTLES

YOUNG MITCHELL FREE

(Scraps News Association.) SEATTLE, July 11.—George Mitchell, slayer of Creffield, the "Holy Roller" leader, was found not guilty of murder last evening after the jury had been out little more than an hour. When the verdict was read the crowded courtroom gave the boy prisoner an ovation, many women joining in the applause. Mitchell returned today to Portland. He says he has no regrets.

MAKES PRICE OF ALL ICE

KANSAS CITY, July 11.—Admission that his company fixed the price of ice here was made yesterday in court by H. L. Burk, secretary of the People's Ice Storage & Fuel Co. He said the concern bought ice for $2 per ton and sold it at $5. The state is prosecuting on allegations of combining in restraint of trade.

NEW LAW PUTS IT UP TO FANCY DRINK MAN

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—The new law against misbranding and adulterating foods is going to strike in some unexpected places. For example, it is predicted by a high official of the agricultural department that the law will stop the time-honored practice of sending certain native American wines to France to be doctored and labeled, and returned to the United States as native French wines and champagnes.

customers will call for the bottle labeled "imitation." Therefore, the public's education will have to be enlarged to the point of discriminating between "compound" and "blend." The department is now working on some regulations which will, in time, make clear to the drinking public what are the ingredients of liquors which are "blended" and what "compounded."

TO NAME THE NEW CHAIRMAN

David T. Ham, chairman of the Republican county central committee, is expected back from his trip Sunday, and shortly thereafter a date will be set for selecting a new chairman.

WHAT CITY COUNCIL DID

The city council last night passed the Pratt ordinance requiring street car companies to sprinkle the streets between the car tracks and for two feet on the outer sides.

A claim for $20,000 submitted by John H. Beers, the young man who went down into the Spokane river with the collapse of the Howard street bridge, was referred to the finance committee.

The question of raising the wages of the sewer laborers from $2.50 to $3 a day was referred to the finance committee.

The request of the Spokane Traction company that the subways under the Northern Pacific tracks in the eastern part of the city be made deep enough to have a clearance of 15 feet so the company could run cars under, was referred to the board of public works.

THINK BOYS ARE CROOKED

Patrolman George Miles last night arrested Charles Snider, age 18, and Stewart Brown, age 19, as suspects. The boys are supposed to know more of some of the hold-ups of late nights than they should and the first Miles knew of their acquaintance with the eight holdup men now working on the rockpile of the city was yesterday, when they brought tobacco to where the chain gang was working. Both boys tell conflicting stories as to their presence in the city.

MADE THE MAJOR NERVOUS.

Major Gwydir, city license inspector, took his first trip in an automobile yesterday and it caused the major to remark: "Up till then there ere but two mixups I was never in—an auto an' an earthquake. I was as badly sea-sick in that machine as I would have been in an earthquake."

him almost as readily as they would for their country. It was while the Princeton and the other ships of the Pacific squadron were stationed at San Francisco just after the disaster, that "Bull" was acquired. A detail of sailors from the Princeton were doing patrol duty in the Mission district, when one of them heard a piteous yelping emanating from a heap of refuse and debris. Investigating, the sailor found a dirty colored, touselled bull dog, disconsolately wagging his tail. He then, idleridossas-asutb rath rahr was starved into a veritable bag of bones, and his tongue lolled out of his mouth from thirst. The sympathetic sailor carried the dog back to the warship and after a good scrubbing, "Bull" emerged as clean and as white as snow, displaying all the marks of good breeding.

As for Secretary Shaw—the lid's off again, that's all.

CONSCIENTIOUS ROOSTER HATCHES EGGS DESERTED BY HIS FAITHLESS SPOUSE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 11.—"Ben Bolt" is a conscientious bantam rooster who has gained considerable local fame by hatching out a brood of chickens after the nest had been deserted by his frivolous and faithless mate, "Sweet Alice." The original "setting" consisted of five eggs and a door knob Sweet Alice carelessly mislaid the rest of her eggs in whatever nest was handiest, and the door knob having been added by Mrs. H. D. Becker of 1694 Cordova st., owner of the barnyard, by way of encouraging the wayward Mrs. Bolt to "set." This little hen did—until the novelty of it wore off; then she deserted her nest, spouse and all, and joined a party of Houdan pullets, for which a handsome young top-knotted rooster was scratching up worms. Seemingly "Sweet Alice" never gave another thought to her home duties or to the worried spouse she had left to wrestle with the domestic situation.

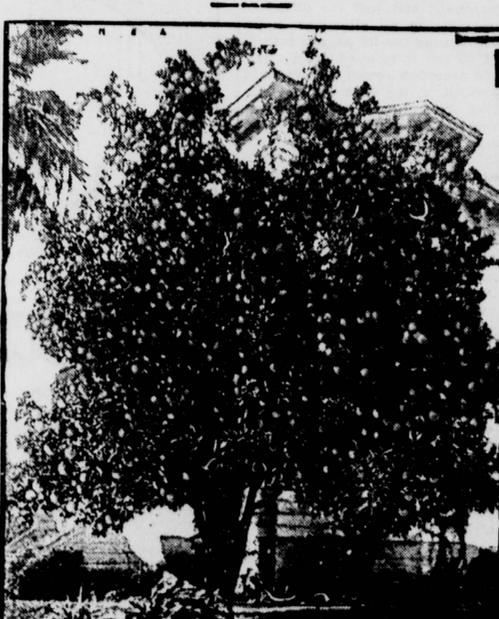

But Ben Bolt proved himself equal to the occasion, and when his faithless mate failed to return to her cooling eggs, settled himself upon the nest. For more than two weeks the patient rooster sat, only leaving the nest for a hurried grain of corn or an angle worm at mealtime. Finally four of the eggs "pipped" and three of the chicks struggled out of the shells. "Ben" is now caring for them devotedly and is fast rearing them into fat, roly-poly young chickenhood.

OLD FOOL HUSBANDS

By Cynthia Grey. Speaking of matrimonial training schools for girls reminds one that there ought to be such an institution for the training of wives. It is not uncommon to see the wife of a graybeard pining away at home, her heart filled with jealousy, while the graybeard himself is basking in the light of the eyes of some popular actress. When a man old enough to have grandchildren is willing to bring disgrace upon himself, his wife and his family, the wife may be sure that some woman is making a fool of him.

will only take the trouble to try. Dishonorable? No, indeed. She is not only saving her family from disgrace, but she is saving her husband's self-respect and her own happiness. It's her duty to make a fool of him if he is bound to be fooled. THE LAW GRANTS NO QUIT CLAIM DEED TO A MAN'S LOVE. The wife who thinks it does is mistaken. It's for the woman to keep what she has won, the love of the man who has asked her to become his wife. Those affections she may not walk upon. She cannot safely play fast and loose with them. And if another woman arrives, the wife may have to stoop to strategy to keep them. What shall the wife do to keep the wandering affections of the man she has slaved for and whom she loves? Do exactly what the other woman is doing. FLATTER THE OLD SINNER!

THEY GROW THESE FOR ORNAMENTAL SHRUBS IN CHICO, CALIFORNIA

How would you like to have this orange tree growing in your front yard? In almost any dooryard in the fruitful little city of Chico, Cal., where this tree was photographed, from one half to a dozen such trees may be seen thriving and putting forth waxy white blossoms for a new crop, even while the golden harvest of the old crop is yellowing and ripening on the trees. From the county in which this tree grows, Sacramento county, an average of 50 carloads of oranges are shipped every year, and the oranges are only an incidental fruit, more attention being given to the culture of hops, prunes, apricots, cherries and asparagus.
