WAIL OF THE LOST DOG

Forced to acknowledge the extent to which Sandpoint has profited at the expense of Spokane through the grade separation fight, the Spokesman-Review seeks to shift its share of responsibility therefor by the age old cry of "Wolf, wolf!" It now unearths a discovery that the Sandpoint plans were perfected before the Spokane grade separation fight came on, a subterfuge of no more real ingenuity and possibilities of deception than the Review has frequently been forced to wriggle through heretofore.

ORGANIZE FOR PACIFIC COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—For the purpose of uniting Pacific coast cities in an effort to obtain a solid Pacific coast delegation at Washington, to work for the interests of far western states, representatives of 13 commercial organizations in San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles, Portland, Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane will meet here today to effect organization.

SIFTS DOWN TO MONROE ST.

It seems that the promoters of the mass meeting, called for tonight at the Elks' temple to protest against the action of the city council in ordering a steel bridge on East Olive avenue, finding that there is a strong probability of the city council permitting the Olive avenue bridge to rest for the present or until the Traction interests agree to pay their share of the bridge cost, have quietly shifted the subject of consideration from the Olive avenue bridge to concrete bridges in general, which to those behind the movement means the Monroe street bridge.

EVERYTHING NAILED; PLUMBERS HERE

The annual gathering of master plumbers began this morning when about 80 members of the association from all over the state met in Pantages hall for a discussion of matters pertaining to the trade. Mayor Moore welcomed them in an address, in which he said things were all nailed down and they could have anything that wasn't. Tuesday afternoon they will elect officers, and Tuesday evening will hold a banquet in the Hall of the Doges, Davenport's. Wednesday they will go to Coeur d'Alene for a boat ride up the St. Joe river.

HAD AN AWFUL TIME.

Neighbors of the Browns out on Logan street testified to hearing vile language used by the wife in addressing her husband and that at various times the peaceful atmosphere was polluted with expressions unrepeatable.

AMERICANS SHOWS 'EM HOW TO SHOOT

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO THE PRESS AUCKLAND, N. Z., Oct. 5.—The big game hunters among the officers of the fleet were given a great day's sport at a deer drive on Tahu island, near Auckland, as the guests of Sir John Lockhart, a thorough sportsman and one of the most popular political leaders in New Zealand.

Lieutenant Cronin of the Connecticut, the crack shot of the navy, was "high gun" over all the civilians and officers who took part. Three deer out of the six killed fell under his shots. The hunt took place over an open country, but the small native deer, which are very much like the plains antelope, developed a speed in their wild flight which called for exceptionally good shooting to bring them down.
