

ADS THE INJURED THEN HURT HIMSELF

Only a few minutes after he had helped to care for injured victims of an automobile accident on Northwest boulevard, early this morning, F. W. Stark was run down by an automobile himself and badly injured, a mile up the road from the first accident. He is now confined in St. Luke's hospital, where Mrs. D. Marcelle, the worst injured in the automobile accident, is under treatment.

The machine, driven by F. E. Tate of the Chase Real Estate Co., and occupied by Mrs. Marcelle, Miss Minnie Cook and R. Ray, topped off the road and down a steep incline at the end of the trestle at the intersection of Grave and Nichols streets, shortly after midnight. Mrs. Marcelle was thrown out and both her legs were broken. Tate's finger was fractured and Ray and Miss Cook were badly bruised. Miss Cook sustained slight internal injuries.

Stark, who is employed by the Graves people at Nine Mile dam, together with a friend named Reese, rode along on motorcycles just as the automobile party went off the road. Both assisted in caring for the injured and helping to summon others, then rode on their way toward Nine Mile.

Only about a mile up the road Stark collided with an automobile that was speeding toward the city.

Stark was thrown in front of the machine and the wheels passed over his legs, breaking them both. Reese was thrown off his machine but was not badly injured. No one has learned who owned the automobile or who was driving it, as the chauffeur hurried away from St. Luke's hospital as soon as possible after taking Stark to the institution.

The victims of both accidents are under the care of Dr. E. R. Northrup, who states that Stark is the worst injured of them all. Miss Cook, Ray and Tate have left the hospital, as their injuries are not considered serious.

The automobile turned over three times as it went down the embankment at the end of the trestle. Its fall was impeded to a certain extent by the brake, which Tate set the instant the front wheels left the road, and it was finally stopped altogether by a stump about 30 feet from the top of the road.

Members of the party declare they were going slowly and that the accident was caused by the absence of both lights and guard rails at the dangerous point. The road makes an abrupt turn at the end of the trestle.

Stark's accident was due, he says, to a misunderstanding of signals between himself and the chauffeur.

The property holders attacked the insufficiency of the notification that a stable was to be built.

ALL'S LOVELY, SAYS O'BRIEN

(By United Press.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—That relations between the United States and Japan are more friendly today than at any time since the San Francisco school controversy is the opinion of Thomas J. O'Brien, United States ambassador to Japan, who arrived here yesterday. He is on a leave of absence. After attending to private business in this country he will join Mrs. O'Brien in Brussels and within three months will return to his post of duty.

INJUNCTION HAS SMOTHERED KICK FROM PEACEFUL

Today is the date of rehearing before the board of works of the protest of Peaceful valley against the building of a stable there by the Spokane Cab Co. A protest carrying 81 names of valley residents about to be afflicted with the stable is on file with the board.

There will be no hearing, however. The superior court, on application of the cab company, enjoined the board from considering the matter until after the court has passed on it. In this particular it is a case of city government by injunction.

Meanwhile the company has continued the building and has the stable nearly finished. The injunction hearing is set for July 19. If the court then decides that the board of works has a right to enforce the city barn ordinance in this case, and the barn ordinance is enforced, the company will have to remove the stable.

PUT NOTHING ON LAND DRAWING ENVELOPE EXCEPT THE STAMP

The price set on the Spokane and Coeur d'Alene reservations had not yet been made public this forenoon, but the Flathead lands were appraised at from $1.25 to $7.50 per acre, and the other reservations will run approximately the same.

One-fifth of the fixed price of the claim will have to be paid down. On timber claims the balance can be paid in annual installments, five years being required to acquire full title to this class of property. Fourteen months are required for agricultural lands, the balance for these being due at the conclusion of that period. The amended laws require more cultivation and improvement than was formerly necessary and the successful applicant must comply with all these in order to show good faith in his sworn intention of creating a home.

A big influx of land seekers is expected in town tomorrow. J. H. Pelletier, notary public in the Rookery building, has an engagement with a party of 257 from Tacoma and several hundred are coming over from Seattle. Other coast points will be represented.

The name and addresses of winners in the drawing will be furnished the newspapers and those not reached in this manner will be notified by mail. In the case of applicants failing to avail themselves of the opportunity to make a choice the nearest number will be annexed to the winning list.

MUST SHOW CITY TITLE

On the advice of Corporation Counsel Connor, the city council last night adopted an order requiring the board of public works to submit with every proposition for street improvement a certificate showing that the title to the street rested in the city.

This action was taken to avoid further disputes as to the ownership of land to be improved as streets. Four suits against the city are pending or under contemplation because of public improvements having been ordered on private property under the belief that it was a duly dedicated street.

BIG SHRINKAGE IN SALVAGE

Councilman Charles Mohr at last night's meeting of the city fathers introduced a resolution asking the board of public works and the city engineer to explain what had become of the concrete bridge salvage left on hand after the completion of the bridge at Washington street.

He produced figures from reports of City Engineer Ralston showing that there had been $32,000 worth of salvage left from Washington street and that only $6,000 is accounted for.

Mohr wants to know what has become of the other $26,000 of the salvage.

The wife of a dyspeptic man may not agree with him any more than her cooking does.

NEW CURFEW SHALL RING

COUNCIL AGREES TO PASS ORDINANCE DRAWN BY THE PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE—PLEADS FOR PERSONAL LIBERTY.

After a heated debate of nearly an hour the city council last night voted to suspend the rules and pass the new curfew ordinance prepared by the prosecuting attorney's office.

The final vote on the passage of the ordinance stood: Ayes—Cartwright, Shaefer, Lambert, Mohr, Ostrander, Nelson. No—Funk, Schiller, Dalke. Prosecutor Fred Pugh, Probation Officer B. G. Peters and Thomas H. Brewer of the Exchange bank appeared and spoke for the ordinance. Councilmen Shaefer, Ostrander and Lambert led the fight on the floor for the measure, while it was attacked by Schiller and Dalke.

Schiller made a plea for more personal liberty and said the people had gone to an extreme in legislation for the control of the conduct of others. He intimated that the demand for the new rule came largely from people without children. He painted a picture of the innocent romping of the kids in Coeur d'Alene park until 10 p. m.

Prosecutor Pugh replied to this with vigor, citing a number of laws that might be classed in the same lines of "regulation" as the new curfew ordinance, yet were generally admitted to be deserving measures.

Officer Peters said that nearly every case of the 60 boys and girls consigned to correctional institutions by the juvenile court of Spokane county since the first of the present year can be attributed to parental neglect and permitting the children to run at large at night.

The new ordinance fixes the hours at 8:30 in the winter and 9:30 in the summer when boys and girls under 18 years caught alone on the streets can be forced to go home by the officer. The penalty attaches to the parents.

LAND SEEKERS CROWD TRAINS

All trains coming into Spokane today were loaded with people anxious to make application for a chance to draw for land in the Spokane reservation. Greater crowds are going to Missoula and Kalispell, Mont., for chances on the Flathead and Coeur d'Alene for the Coeur d'Alene reservation, as these are much larger than the Spokane reservation. There are 1,200 claims on the Coeur d'Alene.

Many intend to apply for chances on all three reservations. In the event that they are entitled to selections on more than one reservation they will have to make the choice of one.

STATE DELEGATES TO SPOKANE

EAR MEDICINE IS TAKEN FOR BOTTLE OF BOOZE

To satisfy an insane craving for liquor, though he was already on the verge of delirium tremens from the effects of a protracted spree, George Walker eagerly drank two ounces of Walter Plippin's ear medicine in the city jail this morning. The prescription contained iodine form and a few other drugs, not necessarily dangerous, but altogether out of place on the interior of a human system, and its immediate effect on Walker was something similar to tobacco juice on a salmon fly.

He let out about two whoops that resounded through the corridors of the bastille and city hall like the cry of an insane "fan" and then ran to the door of his cell howling for help. A "trustee" just outside the jail, with his hands in the air and eyes protruding into the police headquarters shouting that a prisoner had committed suicide.

Dr. O'Shea and Steward Dare of the emergency hospital found Walker doubled up like an over-indulgent youth in green apple time, but in a better sobered condition than he had seen for weeks.

"Pump me out, doc, pump me out. O-o-o; u'm dyin', sure," he pleaded with the doctor, as he was skidded through police headquarters to the hospital. A smell of the empty bottle was all the doctor had to go by. That smell was bad, and the stomach pump, for which the patient was reaching like a baby after a bottle, seemed to be the only sure remedy. Walker thought it was his only salvation and seized the slender nose eagerly, but, try as he might, he couldn't swallow it.

Things began to look grave, and poor Walker was on the verge of weeping and ready to sign the pledge—anyway as far as ear medicine goes—but they finally found the prescription by which the stuff was made, among Plippin's effects. It contained nothing real dangerous and with many a sigh of relief Walker swallowed something easier than a stomach pump.

Afterward he said: "I got so crazy for a drink of liquor that I swallowed my cellmate's medicine, thinking there might possibly be some alcohol in it." Now he knows that "Not all is gold that glitters" and poor Plippin's ear goes unattended.

JON JOHNSON VENTED SAY THE SWEDES

(By United Press.) SEATTLE, July 14.—Armed with a document purporting to be a requisition signed by President Chibberg of the expedition, Swedish Vice Consul Andrew Chibberg is today en route to St. Paul to bring Governor John Johnson to attend the Swedish day celebration, July 31, when 50,000 Swedes will be present.

Johnson is now ill as the result of an operation for appendicitis.

MAYOR PRATT ALSO DEMANDS A UNION LABEL

William Matthews, the man who quit his city job because his street department badge did not bear the union label, will go back to work and will also wear the label as soon as he can send back to New Jersey and get it. It appears to be necessary to send that far to get the label printed on metal. The job couldn't be done here.

Matthews had a talk with the mayor this morning and the trouble has been all fixed up. While the matter was under consideration somebody present asked Matthews if he had a union label on the lodge pin he wore, whereat Matthews developed a sudden tendency to swat the interrogator.

But that isn't all of it. The discovery has been made that the city stationery lacks the label. Mayor Pratt is going to have the label on the kind he uses. He didn't threaten to quit if he didn't get it. He simply ordered it attached hereafter.

HAD A FAILING FOR PIE

A burglar with the enviable quality of being able to feel perfectly at home most anywhere and under most any circumstances was frightened away from the home of A. L. Kingsbury, 11733 Liberty avenue, shortly after midnight, when he was right in the midst of a luscious pie lunch. At least he had cut a wedge shaped hole face wide at the edge to about the middle of the pie when a boarder disturbed him.

He secured $6 from rooms about the house and from all indications was quite comfortably located in his unwelcoming ohst's larder, with pie for an appetizer, pie for the middle courses and pie for dessert when disturbed. He made his exit through a window, leaving fragments of the pie scattered over the floor.

The police, in investigating the case, found that he had cut the screen from a door and removed the screws from around a door lock to get in.

WESTON IN SIGHT OF JOURNEY'S END

(By United Press.) BENECEIA, Cal., July 14.—Weston, who walked from New York to San Francisco, left this city at 10 this morning and will arrive in Oakland at 5 tonight. He will remain there over night, and early tomorrow cross the bay and proceed to the postoffice, where he will deliver a letter entrusted to him by the postmaster at New York.

LOW NECKS WILL NOT GO FOR MEN

(By United Press.) SEATTLE, July 14.—Mayor Miller is today investigating charges that the manager of Redding's dancing academy refused to admit sailors in uniform of the navy to public dances. Complaint was made by Commander Field of the gunboat Yorktown, now in port.

Redding today admitted sailors were barred because they wore uniforms. He claims they hurt business when they appear at the functions in this attire.
