

COLLEGE PROFESSORS' FIST FIGHT OVER GIRL REVEALS ROMANCE

ATLANTA, Ga., March 4.—A fistic encounter between the president of the Atlanta Bible college and one of the professors resulted in the formal announcement of the engagement of the Rev. O. S. Tallent to marry Miss Fern Hambric, a 17 year old student, who came here from Nacogdoches, Tex.

AFTER ALL NOT ONE OF SETTERS IS A BIGAMIST

ST. LOUIS, March 4.—There are two Charles Setters, each of whom has a wife and neither of them has two wives, as alleged in a Belleville, Ill., warrant, and therefore the bigamy case against Charles Setter goes to pieces.

LOVE AMONG THE ROSES.

TIPTON, Mo., March 4.—A bouquet was responsible for the marriage at the Christian church here of Miss Georgia Marice Callison, youngest daughter of Mayor T. L. Callison of this city, to Wilson Wade Stuckey of Tulsa, Okla., who is editor of the Bixby (Okla.) Bulletin.

Pays for Trifles Stolen Years Ago

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 4.—A man giving his name as George Runyan called at John C. Shreyer's grocery store and upon asking him if he kept the store 10 years ago and receiving a reply in the affirmative, handed him $1 and said: "Take 50 cents out of that for some trifling stuff I stole going past your store."

NEW YORK.—Two small boys wrote "Black Hand" letters to Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer, demanding $2,500; she pretended to follow instructions and boys were caught and turned over to Children's society.

HOW THEY KISS WHEN THEY LAND IN AMERICA

NEW YORK, March 4.—"I have been keeping tabs on the different kinds of kissers who come in here," said Gustav Melhauser, the big porter at the piers of the Hamburg-American line, at the foot of First street, Hoboken, yesterday, "and have found that there are six general types and many varieties. To begin with, there is the whisker kiss, or the Russian kiss, which is given by one man to another. The kissers enfold each other in a giant embrace and, putting whiskers to whiskers, kiss each other on the cheeks. M. Witte, the Russian who came over to settle up the Japanese row, gave us the best example of this when he was in Hoboken. I notice that even the lowest Russians and the Asiatic people bordering on the Russian states when they meet their brothers and friends here have this same masculine kiss, but sometimes bestow it on the lips.

Intes, it makes one think, generally, of the touching of two icicles. "Then there is the wifely kiss; you all know that, with its varieties of jealousy and trust; and the kiss of elopers, who have stolen across and salute each other as they set foot on free American soil—a sort of congratulation that they are at last safe—not knowing that the police of Hoboken and the customs inspectors and immigration authorities have a description of them and are only waiting for this signal to grab them.

"The sweetheart kiss is distinct from the husband and wife kiss. I can tell German sweethearts from German wives as far as I can see or hear their kisses. I can see the energy of the kiss generating in Heinrich's face as he stands on the dock waiting and watching to catch sight of Gretchen on the ship. When she comes down the plank and—yes, throws herself, that's the word—throws herself into his arms, you can hear the smack of that kiss half way down the pier, a sound to give strength and courage to every male thing that hears it explode.
