SALEM, Ore.—For the first time in the history of Oregon, the state penitentiary is furnishing pillow to prisoners. Heretofore coats have been used for pillows, or nothing.

The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power, All that beauty, all that wealth

What's it all compared to being the hero pitcher for the home team, anyway?

JUST A GLIMPSE INTO CITY SHOPS

Suit coats are constantly growing shorter. Some of the newest models are only 27 inches long, and it is predicted that before the end of the season they will be even shorter.

This shortening is due probably to the new narrow banded skirts upon which Dame Fashion has placed her seal of approbation.

One of the new dress fabrics is a silk and wool poplin, a beautiful material with a finish resembling suede.

It is shown in various exquisite shades, is 43 inches wide and $1.98 a yard. Another of these poplins has the added beauty of a moire effect and is $2.69 a yard.

Among the new importations there are many satin dresses and costumes that promise to become popular, since they are reported as being extremely fashionable in Paris.

A novelty in waists is a very sheer exquisite material, with an underbust of Persian net. An extremely pretty lingerie waist is of the finest white lawn made up in tiny tucks. It has the new neck and turned back cuff, finished off in embroidered scallops in delicate shades, as well as black or blue.

It has all the essentials of the present styles, simplicity, youthfulness and elegance. Price $3.95.

For girls from eight to fourteen years the sailor suits continue popular, but there is a strong demand for the tunic effects that are made up in the same lines as the styles for adults.

With the coming of the Egyptian modes we now have new foulards with the ground of Arab brown, Nile blue and Egyptian red and narrow, heavy black stripes closely set together, thus carrying out the new vogue both in design and color. These are pretty veiled with harmonizing chiffons.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 21.—Delegates to the general assembly of Presbyterian churches are rejecting today over the announcement that John H. Converse, late head of the Baldwin Locomotive works, in Philadelphia, has created a fund of $200,000 to carry on evangelical work. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman was chosen to direct the campaign.

SENSATIONAL STORY TOLD

An alleged elopement of Mrs. W. W. Davis, of Moscow, Idaho, and her four stepchildren with a band of gypsies was brought to light here today when her mute husband, a rancher, came here seeking assistance in the search for his loved ones. According to written answers to questions asked of Davis by The Press, his wife, a beautiful woman, aged 25 years, and of fair complexion, has been keeping secret appointments with an elderly gypsy, who was camped with his sons and others just outside of Moscow throughout the entire winter. His delicate daughter, aged 19 years, he declares had become engaged to marry the gypsy's young son, according to what he has learned in the last few days.

On May 10 Davis went to Moscow to do some trading, and when he returned his home was deserted. His wife, and two daughters, the one age 19 and another 11, and three sons, one 14 years old, another age 5 and a baby but two months old, had disappeared. In the meantime the gypsy camp had broken up, and all the wagons, men and horses had passed on out of the country.

Davis did not suspect an elopement till late that night, when he learned his wife or children returned to their home. An investigation hurriedly made the next morning, he declared, indicated that his family had gone with the gypsies but all trace of the latter had been lost.

He has been hunting about the country for them ever since, offering a liberal reward for the capture of the band, in order that he may recover the custody of his children. "This woman is my second wife, but we never had any trouble about the home until this gypsy intruded upon the happiness

ROOSEVELT FASCINATES BUNCH OF MONARCHS

Kings Neglect to Eat While They Ask Teddy Questions—He Comes Off First in Battle of Wits.

BY GILSON GARDNER.
(By United Press Leased Wire)

LONDON, May 21.—The spectacle of the royalty of Europe, Asia and Africa, who had not yet been presented to Theodore Roosevelt, crowding about the American at the luncheon at Windsor castle, following Edward's funeral, is described today by newspapers here as a "wonderful personal triumph for Colonel Roosevelt."

The American was the dominating figure at the luncheon. He was the particular guest of King George and was assigned a place of honor with Emperor William of Germany.

Roosevelt came off first best. The monarchs of Europe piled him with questions for an hour concerning his views on politics both in America and Europe. The colonel countered with questions concerning the duties of kingship as understood by his host and his host's guests.

The guests at the luncheon were so interested in Roosevelt that for the first time the note of sorrow over the passing of Edward was lost to sight. Roosevelt's personality swept aside all other thoughts.

The Roosevelts are staying at Wrest Park, Reid's country home, and will remain there until Monday.

GRADE SEPERATION IS REFERRED TO ENGINEERS

After an evening spent in the consideration of the Milwaukee franchise the city council last night finally referred the difficult questions of grade separation and the crossing of other lines of railway to the city engineer and the engineers of the railroads, to work it out as best they can. In the consideration of the viaducts in the east end of the city the council ordered that the openings underneath contains two rows of iron posts on each side of the curb line. No railways wanted but one line of posts, in the center.

Again the question of the grade of the Milwaukee from the Schade brewery west to its proposed terminal at Washington street proved to be a stumbling block. There are so many conflicting interests at this point that it will be a hard ter to adjust the grade of the Milwaukee to suit all interests and at the same time protect the people. Usually, in a pinch of this kind, the interests of the people are of secondary consideration.

SULPHUROUS RAINS CAUSED BY COMET

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
LEMANS, France, May 21.—Sulphurous rains fell here today. The phenomena is attributed to the passage of the earth through the tail of Halley's comet. The country is covered with a yellowish substance, while the atmosphere is impenetrable, murky and of a sulphurous odor.

CHAMP CLARK CHAMPS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, May 21.—Declaring the proposed tariff commission is a plan to postpone the people's verdict on the Payne-Aldrich tariff measure, and denouncing the encroachment of the executive on the legislative branches of the government, Champ Clark today in the house sounded the democratic keynote of the coming congressional campaign.

"The proposed appropriation of a quarter of a million annually to support the tariff commission," he said, "should be entitled a motion to postpone the people's verdict on the proposed tariff commission."

TAFT STILL STANDS BY BALLINGER

(By United Press Leased Wire.)
PORTLAND, May 21.—The Portland, Oregonian, which has been upholding Ballinger and attacking Pinchot, in a special dispatch from Washington today, prints the following:

"President Taft told several callers today that he intended to stand by Secretary Ballinger, for he is convinced of Mr. Ballinger's innocence either of wrong doing or of improper motives.

"On top of this announcement from the White House comes the reiteration of Secretary Ballinger's purpose to hold on to his position, notwithstanding a renewal of the reports in friendly papers that he is soon to resign."

A CENTENARIAN ELK

DANIEL O'CONNELL.

The oldest Elk in the world is Daniel O'Connell, who at the age of 105 has just joined the Owosso, Mich., lodge. He says that he is going to march in the big Elks' parade during the convention to be held at Detroit in July, and despite his century and five years he will make some of the younger Elks take his dust then, for this oldest Elk walks from his farm to town and back once a week, a tramp of 10 miles, just for the exercise.

POWELL BESTS MEMSIC IN 4TH

VERNON ARENA, Los Angeles, May 21.—Memsic startled the ring-siders almost before the men had come together for the first round by sending Powell to the floor with a stiff left to the jaw. Lew was down for the count of eight, but came up smiling. Memsic out-slugged Powell whenever the men came together and broke even with the clever northerner in the boxing end.

At the end of the fourth round in the scheduled 25-round fight between Memsic and Powell, Memsic claimed he had broken his right arm in two places. Referee Eytton awarded the fight to Powell.

Physicians at the ringside after examining Memsic's arm confirmed his contention that it was broken. Memsic stated the arm was broken when he swung a hard right to Powell's ribs near the end of the fourth round. Powell caught the blow partially on his elbow, cracking the bone.

Rice Griddle Cakes.
 For rice griddle cakes, boil half a teaspoonful of rice and a little salt with one quart of milk, the yolks of four eggs and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a little salt have been sifted. Beat the whites of the eggs to a froth and add last. Fry on a griddle.

SLAMS BACHELOR BARRISTERS

Editor Press: Little blame

THE BACHELOR HOBO PROBLEM STILL REMAINS UNSOLVED, BUT MANY PRESENT THEORIES

The bachelor men and women of Spokane will not rest, evidently, until the much mooted question: "Why is a bachelor?" is settled conclusively. Scores of letters wherein they labor mightily and wittily to dispose of it, have found their way to the editor's desk. And daily the symposium grows. The horrible example presented by The Press when it brought to light the fact that over 90 per cent of all hoboes are bachelors, has stirred bachelordom to its uttermost depths. All the "ologies," psychology, sociology, apology and the rest, have been brought to bear by the single multitude upon the momentous question. Following are just a few of these most interesting effusions.

REAL EARNEST.
Editor Press: I am not a hobo, but a bachelor, through no fault of my own. Did those lonesome women or girls, who bombarded your office last night with addresses? If so, I would like to scratch off a name from the list.
J. GEORGE.

GIVES IT UP.
Editor Press: The discussion of this question has occupied the attention of men and women so much that it has become a leading question and will remain so until settled. A great many have presented various views on the subject, so no doubt near correct, but not accepted as conclusive. Like all great questions that have arisen, it must go down to the mass of the people for decision. But I give it up.
BERT BAXTER.

BLAMES WAGE SYSTEM.
Editor Press: Why is a bachelor? Because he recognizes the responsibility of marriage. Working for wages, he and his family would always be dependent. He doesn't marry because the employer looks upon the married man in his employ, not as one who should be sympathized with, but as one who will keep his job in the face of all industrial pressure because he has a family to support.
K. PUZEWICH.

WOULD BE "MADAM CUPID."
Editor Press: I have been sorely tempted to make application for you for the position of Madam Cupid. Then, perhaps, some of these bachelors, hoboes or otherwise, would be converted into nice, steady family men. I think I will start with the bachelor business man. I would find him a wife who would rather bake pies than vote. And the man of 30, whose life was drawing to a close. I suspect he was placed on a nice high shelf by some bright eyed elf. But he will live through it. I would make him haste for his own wife. Perhaps after I had carped a vacation for myself making other people happy.
