Harry Baker Wins Bout From Webster By Elusiveness

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Danny Webster tried hard enough to catch Harry Baker in their ten-round bout at Oakland last night, but the local featherweight was too elusive and by his clean work won the decision. Webster was the stronger of the two and had the better punch, but Baker's clever blocking and foot work rendered the majority of the Los Angeles boys' efforts futile. The bout between Jack Geyer, one of Jack Johnson's sparring partners, and Gunboat Smith was a joke, Geyer showing nothing but his ability to sprint. Gunboat Smith was given the decision because he tried, although he did not land one solid punch. The other bouts resulted as follows: Freddie Couture and Frankie Sullivan fought a six-round draw; Willie O'Neil was given a six-round decision over Chuck Larsen and Toby Miller received a four-round decision from Bud Fitzgerald.

If You Want a Brand New "Jinx" Apply to Coffroth

BY MA BALTHASAR. SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Any one desiring a brand new "jinx," guaranteed to wear, can have it for the asking by applying to James Windermere Coffroth, Shasta, Sunshine club. Ever since the Johnson-Ketchel fight, in which Ketchel lost three teeth and a few tears, and Johnson did some ground and lofty tumbling for the benefit of the pictures, Jim has been down on his luck. Never having been a believer in the sign of the rabbit's foot of the cross-eyed, red-headed girl, he has been loath to admit that he is possessed of a "jinx," but at last he has been compelled to "fess up." The little imp of bad luck got on the job while Coffroth was dickering for the biggest job of his career—the promotion of the Jeffries-Johnson fight. The loss of the contest was a bitter pill, but there were more to come. A great light suddenly came over District Attorney Bullock of San Mateo county, and Coffroth had to transfer the Papke-Thomas affair from Colma to San Francisco, thereby knocking himself out of an extra match for May. On top of this came that awful "fight" last Thursday night. The Kankakee river is being restocked with fish by the Wilmington Fish and Game Protection association. When Jim Corbett reaches the Jeffries camp, Choyinski will have more time to handle his literary matter, as Jim says he will be in full charge of the big bear.

Pitcher Osborn in Jail Charged With Assault

CHEHALIS, Wash., May 25.—Tamp Osborne, a well known pitcher in Northwestern baseball, is in the Lewis county jail here today charged with second degree assault. Osborn is alleged to have stabbed Fred Nehring, captain of the Chehalis team of the state league, three times, while intoxicated on a Northern Pacific train last Friday night.

Man and Wife Catch 130 Fish

One hundred and thirty fish at one catch is—uh? do we hear hisses from among the ranks of some of you sports who have come home with a hungry stomach and a well, fisherman's luck? Well, anyway, one h-u-n-d-r-e-d t-h-i-r-t-y-alligat-er fish, rather, are declared to have been caught all in one "sitting" by Charles Brickell and wife of 910 1/2 Sprague avenue. Yep, 130 fish, and Brickell is ready to admit that his wife caught the most of them. Brickell might at least tell the rest of us where he found that barrel of leviatians.

Methuselah Has Nothing on 'Dad'

Speaking of the old baseball players and veterans on the diamond, Frank Sanders of Bickleton, Wash., who is 51 years old, is probably the oldest active player on the Pacific coast. He is the first baseman of the Bickleton team. He fields his position, runs the bases, hits the ball and annoys the umpire with much more ginger than most of the youth-members of the team. "Dad" Sanders began his baseball career in his home town, Marshall, Lyon county, Minn., when he was 14 years old, and has played with an organized club every season, save one, since that time. He started in playing left field on his home team, but his throwing ability became so noticeable that he was soon tried as a pitcher. In 1878 he joined the Silver Stars of Winona, Minn., in the Northwestern league, composed of 16 teams in the leading cities of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Dakota and Iowa. He pitched for them four years. He returned to his home town in 1882 and played with Goldeudale, Arlington, Ore.; Bluelight and Bickleton, Wash.

SPORT BREVITIES

Phil Brock, Cleveland lightweight, will fight the winner of the Memsic-Powell fight at Los Angeles next month. Brock also wants a chance at Ad Wolgast. Jem Driscoll, clever English lightweight, began fighting when he was 14 years old. He is 26 now and is regarded by many critics as the cleverest man at his weight in the world, not barring Abe Attell. New York critics roasted Attell for not knocking out his opponents. Attell said a decision was as good as a knockout and it required as hard work. New football rules unanimously approved by all leading coaches. The coaches, however, insist they will have to try them out, before they are certain just how good they will prove.

Indianapolis motor speedway now represents an outlay of $780,000. His right name is Sybszko Stanislaus Cygeniewicz. You are not supposed to pronounce it, merely remembering it will rove a hard strain. Eight people have been killed in baseball games this year, up to May 19. Paddy Ryan was the only fighter to win the heavyweight championship in his first fight. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, millionaire boxer, teaches a bible class in Philadelphia every Sunday.

Indians Play Classy Ball; Win One More, Score 3-1

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost, P.C. Tacoma 18 13 .581 Vancouver 17 13 .567 Seattle 13 17 .433 Spokane 13 18 .419 Spokane 3, Tacoma 1. Seattle 2, Vancouver 0.

To Jess Baker, who pitched against his old time friend, Hall of the Tigers, in yesterday's game, most of the credit for the 3 to 1 victory of the Indians over the Tacoma is given. Tacoma would have tied the score in the last half of the ninth inning had Baker loosened for another hit, but he struck out the last two men at bat. On either side, the best demonstration of classical and scientific baseball seen in the Northwestern league this season was given. The fielding was fast, work around the base lines furious and the pitching excellent. Baker had considerably the best of the pitching end of the game, however, for he seems to be the latest discovered eligible for custodian of Tacoma's goat. Netzel was working at a great rate over at third bag and at bat he got two of the eight hits credited to the Indian aggregation. This will go down on record as among the best games played in the league this season. The score— R. H. E. Spokane . . . 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 1 3 8 1 Tacoma . . . 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 4 4 1
