MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Because he thought that he was marrying someone else, Frank Robinson Betsford is suing to annul his marriage to Florence Hughes Botsford. He asserts that he now finds that he really married Florence Richbaum, and not Florence Hughes. The marriage he was 20 and she was 17.

He—Would you mind if I asked you to kiss me?
She—Mama always taught me to be obedient.

CHICAGO.—According to a confession made here, two boys and two young girls stole an auto in Cincinnati, and had got as far as here on their way to Reno, Nev., to see the prize fight. The girls are 15 and 17 years old, and the boys 21 and 19.

The Man—I heard you tell the census man you were 30.
The Woman—Yes, dear, I told the truth.
The Man—But when we were married, a year ago, you said you were 22.
The Woman—My, how time flies when one is happy.

"THEN IT HAPPENED"

(Our Daily Discontinued Story.)

Of an inquiring turn of mind, Rudy Rubberneck was ever alive to what was going on.
For instance, one day he saw a man turning a fire plug with a wrench. It was a four-inch fire plug, connected with the high pressure water service.
"I can see it move!" exclaimed Rudy.
But you ought to have seen Rudy move! (The End.)

DIAMOND GLINTS

Jake Stahl, Red Sox first sacker, is the proud father of a brand new baby boy.

The first baseball league was formed in New York in 1857.

Sam Thompson, the oldtime Detroit star, holds the record for the greatest number of games played in during a season.

The first 1 to 0 score was recorded in 1875 in a game played between Chicago and St. Louis.

The largest score on record was made in Buffalo in the '60s. Niagara 299, Columbus 10.

The record of the Louisville club in 1898, when they lost 29 straight games, has never been equaled.

Paul Hines in 1878, Harry O'Hagan in 1902, and Neal Ball in 1909 are the only players who ever completed a triple play unassisted.

Norman Elberfeld, the Tobacco Kid, is 33 years old, and he broke into the game at Clarksville, Ky., when he was 17. The manager of the team bought the youngster his first pair of long trousers.

McQuillen has promised to be have, get into shape and pitch winning baseball for the Phillies.

BROOK, Ind.—Invitations are out for a picnic at George Ade's big farm near here. He will furnish the good time, but only on condition that the men and the girls shall all wear blue stockings. They must pass inspection before entering the picnic grounds. The girls are protesting.

BOBBY WALLACE, ONE OF THE VETS OF THE GAME, IS STILL A GREAT PLAYER

BOBBY WALLACE.

When it comes right down to brass tacks and you get to picking the star ball players, you have to slip one of the honorary badges to Rhoderick Wallace. You probably won't recognize him under the name of Rhoderick, so we will call him Bobby. Chorus now, "We all know him."

Just at present Wallace is dividing his time between third-basing and short-stopping for the St. Louis Browns. The Browns are not doing much in the American league race, but it isn't any fault of Wallace. This veteran of the diamond is playing about as good ball now as he ever did, and believe me that spells GRAND.

STUDENTS SABERED AND KILLED IN MEXICO

ARTICLE NO. II.

BY JOHN KENNETH TURNER

An election in Mexico is a strange and wonderful thing. It is a political campaign. A fairly clear idea of the degree of democracy that exists in Mexico, hoy inviolable and the basic human rights of just how noble a statesman is President Diaz can be gained by a review of the presidential campaign of 1910 just closed. The past year has seen a great democratic movement in Mexico. Democratic parties of the past had been crushed by the police, but the new one dared to hope, for Diaz had publicly said: "I shall not serve again." The democratic party of Mexico

Its original purpose was to elect a successor to President Diaz, but when President Diaz decided to continue as president, it accepted the situation, nominated him for its presidential candidate and in order to provide for the nation's future, in case of the death of Diaz, it nominated Bernardo Reyes for vice president.

"HUMAN OAK" VERY CHEERFUL

Corbett's Bout With Sullivan Delights Big Jim Jeffries' Heart.

BY MAX BALTHASAR.

RENO, Nev., June 24.—James J. Jeffries smiled yesterday and the grouch fled. The smile is playing a return engagement today and the human oak is as cheerful as the force of trainers and humorists in his camp could possibly wish. The result is a lot of vim and dash in his work that is showing the interested spectators about the camp that Jeffries' condition is as good as his friends have claimed it is. The disposal of John L. Sullivan by James J. Corbett is one of the little incidents that has done much to put the retired champion in his present excellent spirits. Today Sullivan is about the most disgraced man in Reno, and you have to listen a long time at Moana to hear a word of sympathy for him. "He got exactly what was coming to him," is the general comment around the Jeffries camp on the diplomatic, but convincing manner in which Corbett affixed the can to the old time holder. Corbett, who has a sympathetic strain, was sorry that the incident had to occur, "but it was the only thing I could do," he said.

Knowing that Jeffries did not want to see Sullivan and that he did not want to talk to him, Corbett stepped into the breach and acted as buffer, fearing a meeting between the two fighters might result in upsetting Jeffries and bring back the dreaded "grouch."

BOTH SIDES CLAIM THE DELEGATES

Progressives Think They Will Control Convention—Standpaters of Same General Opinion.

At the headquarters of the Republican Progressive league in the Peyton building this morning it was given out with a feeling of joy that the progressives had succeeded in landing a majority of the delegates to the county convention tomorrow, or at least had an even break with the standpaters.

"We have carried the county precincts by a vote of two to one, and seem to be breaking even in the city," it was announced. "The outlook is getting better all the time. With the organization and the party machinery in the hands of the standpaters, the result in the

TO RECALL SIR ELDON GORST.
MANCHESTER, England, June 24.—The Manchester Guardian today printed an article tending to confirm dispatches recently carried by the United Press from London, that Sir Eldon Gorst, British agent in Egypt, will be recalled.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The interstate commerce commission today decided that it has no authority over railroads and steamship lines in Alaska. The commission holds that Alaska is not a territory of the United States in the sense in which the phrase is used in the acts regulating interstate commerce. The decision relieves the Morgan Guggenheim syndicate, operating Alaskan railroads and steamship lines, of any supervision by the commission.

VANCOUVER 5 TACOMA 0

Score End of 3rd Inning

VANCOUVER, June 24.—Ideal baseball weather again favored the fans who turned out in vast numbers to see the Beavers try to take another rail out of the Tigers and climb back into first place. Erickson went on the slab for Vancouver with Sugden behind the bat, while McCament and Blankenship did the battery work for Tacoma.

FIRST INNING.

37 KILLED IN WRECK

MEXICO CITY, June 24.—Thirty-seven persons were killed and fifty severely injured today when a troop train was wrecked on the National railroad in the state of Colima.

Four cars broke away from the train and were derailed as the train was rounding a curve while traveling at a high rate of speed, on a down grade. The cars pitched over an embankment and the soldiers were crushed to death.

"PRESS" EXPOSED TRUTH OF CASE

Not until after The Press appeared yesterday afternoon with the first true version of the shooting of Joe Curry, age 20, of Astoria, Ore., by Officer Lee Downey did the police department or the prosecuting attorney's office evince any interest in getting to the facts in one of the most high handed, unjustifiable, vicious and brutal attempts to take human life ever perpetrated in Spokane.

After the appearance of The Press last night one of the eye witnesses of the affair was summoned to the police station and questioned by Chief Sullivan. This man gave the facts in such a way that there was no use further to whitewash the affair and Officer Downey was suspended "pending further investigation."

After this version of the affair was given to the police Downey sought out the witness and took him to task, with the remark, "I thought that you were my friend." The man replied that he was his friend, but that when it came to telling the truth in a matter that might mean the life or death of a human being friendship did not count.

In view of the facts that have been obtained by The Press from at least a dozen witnesses the statement of Chief Sullivan that "the insinuation that he (Downey) shot out of anger is despicable" appears ridiculous. The facts will show that if Chief Sullivan made that remark he was deliberately telling what was not true or else had not taken the pains to learn the facts. Chief Sullivan and the police department had everything nicely arranged to cover up the case and shield Downey, even to suppressing the facts in the newspapers friendly to the police.

Further investigation into the shooting makes the case appear worse for Officer Downey. Between booze, bull like anger, a little authority and the possession of a ready pistol, Downey was led into an affair that is a disgrace to the police department, more especially when it becomes known that an effort was made to suppress the facts in the case.

The policy pursued by Chief Sullivan in the Downey case is the same pursued as to Officer Gilder in the Elliott case. People have stood for this suppression of the truth long enough, but the day when the police can get away with an affair like the Downey case has passed.

With a newspaper that is not afraid to give the facts as to police shortcomings, or those of any other set of public officials, people have grown bolder, as was shown yesterday when 12 different men called The Press to give the straight of the Downey affair. Many of those seen added, "Now, don't use my name, for if the police knew that I have told this they would make me all sorts of trouble." This came from men in business, for whom a

CUPID WING CLUB! SHALL SPOKANE HAVE ONE TOO?

The Cupid Wing Club—Heart Menders. Shall Spokane have such a club? Just think of it!

One almost hears the silken rustle of the diaphanous wings of all the cherubs of love in this, the name of one of the possible clubs of Spokane.

The club is for the purpose of mending broken hearts and bringing about domestic felicity. A club for the guidance of the marriageable girls of Spokane, and one whose great purpose will be to prevent unsuitable matches and divorce. They believe in the old saying, "An ounce of preventative is worth a pound of cure."

A number of local pastors think favorably of such an organization, and others would make it a legislative law.

Rev. Henry I. Rasmus thinks such a club might be a power toward preventing so many unsuccessful marriages. He would oppose these talked-of affinity matches.

"It would be a great aid to the welfare of the people," said Rev. Mr. Rasmus. "If scientific conditions could be investigated before matrimony. There would be less affinity matches. People should be educated to take a sensible view
