

WANT ZAC TO SPEND LESS THIS YEAR

County Treasurer Zach expended $4600 more money in the management of his office than did his predecessor, Ed Erwin, in the same period of time. Mr. Stewart has now come forward with an estimate for 1910 $3000 higher than the amount expended in the year mentioned, or $7000 more than Erwin. The bulk of this increased expenditure is for salaries. The county commissioners have asked that Treasurer Stewart revise his figures and see if he cannot hold down his budget to what it was a year ago.

County Clerk Cal Atkinson has come forward with a budget $2500 less than last. He wants $20,500, whereas his office last year cost $23,000. As Mr. Atkinson last year estimated that he could run his office for $22,000 but instead spent $23,305.55, the commissioners have asked that he revise his estimate and see that he gets enough to the figure turned up by the figures. Clerk Atkinson's office shows that his collections from fees increased $3375, while the expense of conducting the office increased $1335. This would indicate that it cost $1335 to collect the added $3375 of fees.

SOMETHING UNIQUE AT PANTAGES

If you want to see something really unique and startlingly interesting, visit Pantages this week and watch one of the Four Regals hold an anvil in his teeth, while his colleagues deal it solid blows with regulation hammers. This quartet of marvelously strong men is the real headliner at the popular vaudeville house in the present bill and they sure get their share of applause for their feats of skill and strength. Two other strong acts are those given by Cameron and Gaylord and the Six Musical Spillers. The last named are all chocolate complexioned and after you hear them it is easy to believe the claim made by the management that they are colored musical act they have no equal on the vaudeville stage today. "On and off the stage" is the name of the skit put on by Bonnie Gaylord and Tudor Cameron. They are both true to nature in their depictions and also excretingly funny, and no wonder they were headliners for many many weeks on the Keith & Proctor circuit.

Paris Green and the Cardowine Sisters are both acts above the average.

BOOSTING FOR THAT PENNANT

M. Saad, to whom most of the credit is due for the Power City inhabitants coming out of their lethargy, was Johnny-on-the-spot making final arrangements and lining up the dozen autos which he had secured for the occasion. Rev. W. J. Hindley was prominent among the fans and with the help of C. J. Darcy and H. D. Merritt, he persuaded Mayor Pratt to act as official welcomer.

BAND ON THE JOB. Bowen's band was right on the job, and played "Pride of our Nation" in jig-time as the players stepped off the train. Cohen and Ostidick were the first to land and were given a right rousing volley of cheers, which were continued until all the boys had reached their firm. "Welcome" badges were pinned on the players' coats and they were lined up in front of the

FLORENCE NIGHT-ENGAL IS DEAD

(By United Press Leased Wire.) LONDON, Aug. 15.—Florence Nightengale, heroine of the Crimean war, who died yesterday, will be buried at Westminster abbey. She will be borne to her sepulcher in state and escorted by a military cortege. This is contrary to one of her last requests. Miss Nightengale wished her funeral to be simple, but the soldiers of the British army are petitioning that it be made a public pageant.

As a sequel to the death of the "queen of nurses," John Pineghan, her orderly during the Crimean war, died today.

Thousands of telegrams of condolence are pouring in, expressing regret at the death of England's heroine. The king sent a personal representative to express the grief of the royal family.

W. B. JOHNSON GIVES TESTIMONY

(By United Press Leased Wire.) SULPHUR, Okla., Aug. 15.—Former District Attorney W. B. Johnson, who entered a protest when the indictments against Mansfield, McMurray and Cornish were quashed, and who was dismissed from office for this action and reinstated 15 minutes later, was called before the congressional investigating committee today.

"During the eight years that I was United States district attorney 5000 indictments were returned in my court and only one was investigated," Johnson testified. "That one was against McMurray, Mansfield and Cornish. I was called to Washington in August, 1905, Assistant Attorney General Russell was kept busy writing for nine days for McMurray to appear. There were three hearings. Cecil Lyon of Texas was the present at all of them."

Johnson testified that Lyon explained his presence in Washington at that time by saying "they kept writing me to come."

MUST BE FRUGAL, SAYS BALLINGER

(By United Press Leased Wire.) KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Aug. 15.—"We have got to be frugal and economical and we have got to use sense in the handling of the resources we have. That is all there is to conservation," said Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, today at a dinner at Eagle Ridge Tavern, on upper Klamath lake, where he went to view the Klamath reclamation project.

The secretary was accompanied by a number of the Klamath Water Users' association and of the chamber of commerce. They also were guests at the dinner.

"I believe it would be safe to say that there is only a small proportion of the western people who are public land criminals and disposed to take advantage of the federal government," Ballinger continued.

WHO FOOTS THE BILLS FOR DIVISION STREET?

There was no action by the city council last week in the matter of widening Division street. The city attorney has filed a statement with the city council to the effect that the proposed widening of the street will cost $30,000 in addition to court costs of over $1000. The city attorney is of the opinion that the additional ground sought is not worth the price and believes that now is a good time for the city to drop the matter, if it does not want to get "stuck" for the $30,000 and costs. The question will come up Thursday night, at the adjourned session of the city council.

This widening of Division street has aroused a lot of hard feelings on the north side. It was introduced in the city council by Councilman Nelson, who wants to make Division street north of the hill a great business thoroughfare. Mr. Nelson has property on Division

The council left the matter to Mr. Nelson and passed the ordinance. Property owners, who were asked to forfeit from 17 to 20 feet off the front of their lawns, charged that the matter was "roaded" through the city council. They organized and fought the matter in the courts, contesting the need of the proposed condemnation and at the same time making a fight for damages for the land sought to be taken. After hearing the case for two weeks Judge D. H. Carey has told the city that he will hold it for nearly $30,000 damages besides the costs.

Now comes the question, who foots the bills? That is what is pinching other members of the city council and causing the decision to take hold of them that Division street is wide enough as it is. An effort will be made to knock out the whole thing, even if the city must pay the costs.

HARD TO BE A STRANGER IN A STRANGE CITY GAVE LIFE FOR GIRL

The stranger who is sick and broke in Spokane is in pretty tough luck.

Ten days ago a young English ranch hand went to the Lenox hotel. A few days after going there he was taken sick and his money failed. The young fellow had no funds or friends to employ a physician and the proprietor of the hotel, out of sympathy, had Dr. Appleton come and agreed to stand the expense.

After three visits the doctor called it typhoid fever. Then the lodging house proprietor called in the county physician, Dr. Webb, who said that it was not typhoid fever and that the young man was not sick at all.

Dr. Webb declined to treat the young fellow further, saying that because he was not a citizen of the county he could give him no attention, owing to an order of the county commissioners.

For 10 days the young man has now been dangerously ill, and without medical attendance. The landlord says that he is a poor man himself and cannot afford to hire a doctor and the county physician has turned down the case. All that remains for the sick man is to die or get well.

(By United Press Leased Wire.) VENICE, Cal., Aug. 15.—John S. Ridgway of Los Angeles was drowned in the surf today, while attempting to save Miss Bertha Harknell of Pasadena, who had ventured too far from shore. Miss Harknell had been swimming with Frank Short, an attorney of Fresno, for some time. Suddenly both felt themselves being carried out to sea by a strong current. Miss Harknell began to lose strength, and Short, fearing he could not rescue her alone, appealed to Ridgway for aid. Ridgway jumped into the surf, but was drowned before reaching the girl. Another bystander then went into the water and rescued Miss Harknell as she was sinking.

TROOPS FOR RIOT DUTY

(By United Press Leased Wire.) COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 15.—Governor Harmon today ordered the First regiment and a battery of artillery into Columbus for riot duty. The governor's orders follow rioting last night which is the worst in the history of the street car strike here. Cars in many sections of the city were lynamited and the police are unable to maintain order.

FIRE NOW IN CONTROL

(By United Press Leased Wire.) DAYTON, Wash., Aug. 15.—After burning over 700 acres of valuable timber, the forest fires in the Wenaha national reserve, 30 miles east of here, have been brought under control, according to information brought today to Dayton by John Church and Jake Kendall. Men are still guarding over the burned area to prevent a rekindling of the flames, but the threatening danger is past. It is probable that 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 feet of fir and tamarack has been destroyed by this, the most effective fires in recent years in this locality. Headquarters have been established at Teal's Place on Astotin creek.

any longer accept his attentions. I had not spoken to him for several weeks before the strange experience at the Fifth street store.

HAD STRANGE POWER.

"No, indeed," said Miss Jamieson. "I do not care for him and will never marry him. It is true he did seem to exercise a power over me, and even two days before I was taken to his sister's home he passed me on the street."

"But I am sure now," she continued with a smile, "that the spell is broken, and that he will never have any influence over me again, as I am going to be married some time this week, as soon as my health is a little stronger, to Arthur Weart. Arthur and I have been intending to be married, but had not expected to have a wedding so soon."

"We have changed our minds and will be married this week."

"Just as soon as my health will permit, I am going back to my position in the store where Mr. Weart will also be employed."

"I have lived here for years," said Miss Jamieson, "and know a great many people, but I have felt that many, who even knew me, might misjudge me for having ever associated with Mr. Sapp."

IS CHARMING GIRL.

A tear stood in the eye of the pretty young girl as she recollected the publicity of the case, and she exclaimed, that bad women did not care how much notoriety they had, and a good girl often had to stand for a great deal of unnecessary gossip.

Miss Jamieson is a beautiful young girl, rather tall, with big blue eyes and an abundance of dark hair. She has every appearance of a refined, sensitive woman.

Mr. Jamieson, mother of the girl, sat by the side of her daughter and clings to and protects her through all her trouble. She denounced Mr. Sapp and said he never in the world should have her daughter.

"He has tried every scheme," said Mrs. Jamieson, but his effort will all be fruitless. Would I have his bond raised? No.

His brother-in-law had placed his bond for $500, but as soon as he had been so soon as his health drew the bond. Mr. Clark came here only yesterday and asked me to release Mr. Sapp, but I sternly refused.

"A week before my daughter's experience at the store Mr. Sapp had seen Dr. O. Kimball and had made preparations to have him marry him, as soon, he said, as he was ready and let him know. He evidently had planned the capture of Lottie."

"She is safely in our care now, and I am willing that she shall marry Mr. Weart this week."

Gillis S. Sapp is still confined at the city bastille anxiously awaiting his release in order that he may unravel the mystery of his love tangle and gain Miss Jamieson as his bride.

He has not been notified of the fact that Miss Jamieson will be married this week to Weart.

W. Justice, aged 25, Deer Park, and Dollie Murray, aged 16, of the same place, were married at noon today by Judge Hinkle. Two members of the Justice family witnessed the event, and it was remarked that that was one occasion in which Justice was properly handled in the superior court.

"BLOOD-SWEATING BEHEMOTH" AND CIRCUS ARE IN TOWN

Although the "blood sweating behemoth" was not in evidence in the Barnum & Bailey circus parade this morning, a big bunch of other ferocious beasts were on exhibition, and in addition the said "blood sweating" creature was carried in the procession, with wagon sides boarded up, to further excite curiosity. Inside the brute undoubtedly was sweating blood, per salary contract.

Well, writers can't resist poking a little fun at the circus, as the circus men hand out such warm articles now and then to people and papers, but the parade really was good—superb, in fact, compared to that Sells-Floto aggregation of best

CIRCUS HELPS DAN CUPID

There was new energy given to the matrimonial industry at the courthouse today by the circus. Marriage licenses were issued to eight couples this morning and the activity had not ceased at noon.

While this stir was in progress at the marriage license window, activity of an opposite character was manifest on the third floor of the county building, where sits the superior court. Here three divorce cases were filed and one decree granted as the net result of the morning's business.

SLOW PAY ON PAVING JOB

P. Lorenzo, G. Lookie and Ben Barady, Italians, were employed as laborers on the Broadway paving job. They quit Friday and demanded their time, which was given them, but no cash would be paid on the time slips, they were told, until August 20. The men had quit to go to the Columbia river country and wanted to get away that day. After hours spent in trying to get the coin a man connected with the contracting company suggested that the men might get the cash by discounting their time. The men refused to do this, and at last accounts they were still waiting.

The endorsement came by wire. Being a newspaper man, Veath evinced some interest in the newsboys and this led to their giving him an endorsement.
