SHEEP PRICES UP

BUYERS SCOURING THE RANGES IN VAIN.

Next Year's Wool Crop Being Sold in Advance at Good Prices—Wood Livestock Company of Salt Lake, Wants 10,000 Yearling Ewes, Which Are Not to Be Found at Any Price—Local Buyers Have Bought Up All Available Young Sheep.

Buyers are now in the markets of Utah, Wyoming and Montana paying five and six cents per pound more than last season for the same grades of wool for next spring's delivery—for wool that is not yet grown. Every anticipation by buyers and heavy dealers and the trade and commercial publications, is that there is to be a boom next year in the wool trade in all parts of the world, and the manufacturers are in the hats this early to anticipate the time when wool will be hard to get and then at almost prohibitive prices.

Further than this, wool is selling now in St. Paul for 20 cents per pound—also of next year's clip.

Four buyers of sheep arrived at the Hotel Pendleton a few days ago and immediately scattered throughout Eastern Oregon in search of sheep. Other buyers are known to have arrived from different parts of the country before and since, and it is further known that it is almost impossible for them to find what they want. The four Montana men announced when they came that they want 10,000 yearling ewes and breeders generally, and failing to find their first choice in numbers to suit them they will buy range sheep of all classes.

Prices Advanced.

Five weeks ago, at Shaniko, yearling ewes were held at $1.75. Two weeks ago they advanced to $2.25, and it is known that at this time some of the sheepmen are actually holding out for $2.25 per head for culled yearling wethers. All the time it is possible that some of the sheepmen may overreach and fall down. At the same time any considerable reaction from the present tendency for prices to go upward and stay at a stiff price is hardly possible in the opinion of the most experienced and successful sheepmen of Umatilla county.

The situation in the interior is accentuated in favor of the owners of sheep by the phenomenally fine fall range and abundance of feed for winter, which are portents of a fine wool crop grown at a minimum of expense, and to this prospect is coupled the universal belief that next year will be a year of good prices for the wool.

Wants 10,000 Yearlings.

The J. D. Wood Company of Salt Lake, one of the heaviest sheep firms west of the Missouri river, writes to a local firm of sheepmen asking for prices on 10,000 yearling ewes. The reply did not quote any prices, because the sheep are not in Umatilla county at any price. The Wood company wants ewes that are one-half Merino and the other half either Cotswold or Shropshires. The Wood company will further find, if it has not yet found, that it will experience difficulty to get these sheep anywhere in the United States, as the condition so confidently expressed by one of Umatilla county's sheep kings last spring as being on the road, is actually here, viz: there is a shortage of typical mutton stockers all over the United States.

Right now Umatilla county sheepmen with the cash in their jeans, who have sold off their flocks closer than they would have done perhaps, had they realized the result, are scouring all Central Oregon after yearling ewes, and in fact all other classes of stock sheep, and are unable to find them except at the prices suggested by the latest news from Shaniko.

"THE POWER OF TRUTH."

Keith Stock Company Presented Interesting Play at the Frazier.

The Keith Stock Company opened a week's engagement at the Frazier last night with "The Power of Truth." The play has to do with Mormonism and was enthusiastically received. Tonight "Captain Fresh, U. S. A." will be the bill. This production is a six-act comedy drama and requires 20 people to stage it.

Del Lawrence, managing Keith's, has secured the sole coast right to a number of clever plays which will be presented this week. The work of his company is above that of any repertoire company that has appeared in Pendleton this season.

Houser Has a Bonanza.

Zoeth Houser, ex-United States marshal, now heavily interested in the Standard mine at Quartzburg, is in Sumpter on the trail of the owner of that five-stamp battery and rock crusher which, for nearly a year, has laid on a platform near the Sumpter Valley depot, says the Sumpter Miner. The battery is incomplete, lacking stamp dies and cam shaft. However, if Mr. Houser can find the owner and effect a purchase at reasonable terms he will ship it to his Dixie mine near the Standard, where he has opened up a good body of free milling gold ore. The Dixie has yielded $1800 rock, and the average value is said to be exceptionally high.
