COUNCIL MEETING

OLD CEMETERY ISSUE COMES TO FRONT AGAIN.

Action in Relation to Moving of Bodies Again Postponed—Right of Way for Telephone Line Turned Over for the Present—Amount of the City's Current Assessment—Grade on Lincoln Street Ordered—Petition to Put Signs on Bridge.

In all probability the dead that have for so many years lain in the old cemetery across the river are to be removed shortly to another resting place. The reason is that the city wants to build a street through the graveyard, and the dead must give way to the living. The matter was discussed at some length at last night's session of the city council, but no definite action was taken.

The petition of certain Pilot Rock farmers for the privilege of stringing telephone poles and wires in the city streets, which was presented to the council several weeks ago, was again brought up. Some of the councilmen are of the opinion that the persons desiring the franchise ask too much, and it has been suggested that some meet with the council and draw up a new petition.

The county clerk filed his report of the amount of the city's assessment

Real Estate

Is the basis of wealth in every community. Pendleton real estate is on the increase in volume. If you would increase your wealth invest in lots or tracts of land. We have some snaps to offer you.

The time to buy property is now. We can supply you with property in all sections of the city and have fine ranches in all parts of the county.

We would like to have a talk with you on real estate.

for 1904, placing it at $1,498,917.32. A new grade was ordered established along Lincoln street.

Liquor license was granted to Baker & Sullivan.

Bills were allowed the following: Robert Forster, $72; J. Sellers, $64. E. M. Churchill, principal of the Pendleton Business College, asked privilege of the council to erect signs on the Main street bridge calling attention to the location of the school. The matter was referred to the street committee.

BLOODED STALLIONS SOLD.

Will Be Shipped From the Ruby Stables to the Valley.

Two valuable black stallions, Ben Bolt III, and Mica, were purchased yesterday afternoon from the stables of A. C. Ruby & Co., in this city. The animals were bought by A. F. and L. L. Aral, two prominent Salem stockmen who will take the horses to the Willamette valley for breeding purposes.

Ben Bolt III is an English Shire, 6 years old, and is a noted prize winner at English horse shows. His registry number is 17760.

Mica is a 5-year-old Percheron, registered.

"Both the horses are fine animals," said Mr. Ruby, "and will be valuable additions to any stable. The taking of such stallions to the Willamette valley will mean the breeding of some excellent animals."

FOUR MEN IN FIGHT.

Rough House Last Night Results in Four Arrests.

There was a rough house in Baker & Garrison's Main street saloon last night, when four men engaged in a brawl. One of them pleaded guilty this morning and was fined $10; another forfeited $10 bail. The other two entered pleas of not guilty, and will be tried this afternoon. George Hart and William Olt are the two who declare their innocence.

The exact cause of the fight is not known. There was a large crowd present in the barroom and in the gambling hall at the time of the fracas, and for a time it looked like a general mixup. The belligerents were finally parted and the police arrested four men.

Christian Fair Opened.

The women of the Christian church of Pendleton today opened a three days' fair in the Bowman building. Meals are being served, and various articles are on sale. There are several booths where refreshments, candies and other things are on sale. The place will be open evenings and a large crowd is expected tonight.

ARE YOU AGEING?

Dr. Holmes used to say he was "seventy years young." Some men are old at half that figure.

Age is not in years. It is in the blood. Scott's Emulsion helps to keep you young by keeping your blood young; by supplying it with an abundance of rich, pure, vital nourishment; carrying constant life and renewal to every fibre of your body. It will help you to rob advancing years of half their sting.

We'll send you a sample free upon request. SCOTT & BOWNE, 400 Pearl Street, New York.

WAS A DRAW FIGHT

LAST NIGHT'S MILL WAS VIGOROUS AND SKILLFUL.

Was According to the Rules From Start to Finish. With a Preponderance of Body Blows by Both Contestants—Frazier's Decision Was Satisfactory to All Judges of Boxing—One Black Eye and One Cut Lip.

Hats off to Barney Mullen! He is the grizzled, gamiest fighter that ever stepped into a Pendleton prize ring. He did not win the battle with Jack Curley at the Frazer last night, but the two fought the hardest 16-round draw ever seen in this city. The men fought according to straight rules, hit in the breakaway, and both gave and took some vicious blows as a result.

There is a decided difference in the weight of the boxers, Curley weighing at least 20 pounds more than Mullen, but Barney has a longer reach and as to staying powers, he has the endurance of a locomotive. Curley was badly winded before the end of the fight and it is believed that in a longer mill he would have lost the decision.

Mullen looked the bantam when he entered the ring with his big adversary, although both are perfect specimens of manhood. Barney's weight last night was 140 pounds. The strength of Curley was demonstrated when twice during the clinches he fairly lifted Mullen from the floor in an attempt to land an effective body blow.

It sounded like the chug chug of a woodman's axe whenever the men came together. Curley has one discolored eye and Mullen was cut on the lip but most of the damage done the two men is on the body. Curley to begin with, attempted to break down his man by short-arm jabs over the kidneys.

Frank Frazer refereed the contest and his decision that the battle was a draw, was satisfactory to the crowd. It has been intimated by a few that the fight was a fake. Anyone who was close enough to watch every move of the men or who knows anything about fistic encounters, will laugh down such a statement. The men fought well, but perhaps a prettier contest would have been seen had they gone according to Marquis of Queensberry, clean break. In that case the go would have been more open.

The preliminaries last night were between Joe Gyll and Rod Dupuis, and Tom Castle and Bert Haley.

WHERE IS SALSBUARY?

Light on His Disappearance, But Not on His Whereabouts.

C. C. Hendricks, of this city, comes forward with an explanation of the disappearance of J. S. Salsbury, who left his home, wife and two children a week ago, and has not since been heard from. Hendricks declares that he holds a chattel mortgage of $23 on Salsbury's team and wagon, which the missing man took with him when he drove from town.

"It is absurd to think that anyone did him harm for the purpose of robbery," said Hendricks, "for the fellow hasn't anything that one would care to take. Shortly before Salsbury departed he attempted to sell me a woman's fur boa, and when I asked him where he procured it, he said he bought it cheap and would dispose of it at a bargain. He had a wagonful of stuff, and informed me that he was going to Butter creek to work on the irrigation ditch and the wagon contained his supplies."

Salsbury, according to his wife's statement, started for Touchet, when he left Pendleton.

THE BAPTIST MEETINGS.

Increasing Attendance and Interest Each Night.

The attendance shows a steady increase as the meetings go on. Evangelist Nell is a strong speaker, and especially his strength is evinced by the way he handles the scripture. He is preeminently a minister of the word. Those who are hungry and thirsting after righteousness are invited to come and hear him. A warm church, a warm welcome and a warm hand grasp await you.

Beginning this afternoon meetings will be held at 2:30 at the church for Bible study and prayer. Each afternoon at the same hour these meetings will continue. G. H. L.

Business College Social.

The Pendleton Business College faculty last night entertained students and friends with an oyster supper and social at the school. The gathering was well attended, and the hours were pleasantly passed. The Pendleton Business College is rapidly growing in prominence in Eastern Oregon, and is the only institution of its kind in the state, east of the Cascades.

One Hundred and Thirty Passengers.

One hundred and thirty-one persons came to Pendleton this morning on the special train from Walla Walla. The three coaches that make up the train were comfortably filled. Many Weston and Athena people were aboard.

Suit on Notes.

The J. I. Case Threshing Machine company has brought suit in the state circuit court against O. A. and B. J. Zerba to collect the sum of $1255.34, alleged to be due on promissory notes. The plaintiff is represented by Will N. Peterson, of Athena.

Millard Boyd is on trial at North Yakima charged with the murder of his illegitimate child.
