

AMUSEMENTS

The Orphan.

For Tuesday's change besides the two Hoyts Co. a splendid two reel Kalem featuring the popular Carlyle Blackwell and Marion Sais. It is a story of the eternal triangle, two young men in love with the same dear girl who leaves home.

A Skeleton in the Closet. Kalem. Two reels. Kitty Hawkins discovers her father is a cattle thief and leaves home. She joins a party of settlers and they are attacked by Indians. She escapes and is found by a sheriff and his deputy. She is persuaded to stay and keep house for them. They both fall in love with her but the sheriff is the successful one. Kitty's father discovers her whereabouts and calls during the sheriff's absence and tries to get money from her. He overpowers her but her screams are heard by Dan the deputy, who shoots and kills her father. Later Kitty and her husband find a note on the window sill from Dan saying that he did it for Kitty's sake. The sheriff concludes that justice has been done.

The Jew of a Jealous Wife. Vitagraph. Maurice Costello is the good looking husband who flirts with all the pretty girls on the ship and makes his wife jealous. She acts so frantic that the doctor thinks she is insane and has her strapped down. Hubby comes along and rescues her but not before she realizes her foolish position.

The Turning Point. Pathe. A woman in the power of a band of criminals. They are trying to secure a valuable picture and the woman makes love to the artist. But she wins his love and also awakens her own and a desire to live a better life. She struggles for freedom but the band of criminals are determined not to lose so valuable an assistant. This is one of the most interesting films released for many months.

Bingle's Nightmare. Vitagraph. Featuring Flora Finch and James Lackaye.

Pastime.

The Pastime will present Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday Sell's Western masterpiece, "The Cowboy Millionaire," in two parts. A story of the famous Diamond S. ranch. The crowning triumph of all western features. A thrilling, vivid and humorous comedy drama of cowboy life depicted in wonderful motion pictures. Pronounced by critics everywhere as the most all-enthralling, fascinating and laughable subject of its kind ever enacted before the camera. Two thousand feet of superb photography, gorgeous settings, natural western scenery, clever action, laugh provoking comedy and thrilling incidents. Broncho busting, bucking horses, expert roping, reckless riding, bulldogging, steer throwing, and cowboy sports. The film that cost a fortune to produce, the cost to you is ten cents.

"The Substitute Stenographer." Edison. Somebody in Clark Brothers' office is steadily robbing the company of small amounts. The stenographer is discharged—supposedly under suspicion and a girl detective takes her place. She catches the thieves easily, but loses her heart to one of the firm. "Come Sehen Leben." Biograph. A picture of social life in coonville. There is a good deal of fun in it, small darkey things that are laughable. "Papa's Baby." Biograph comic nonsense and laughable monkey shins.

Cosy.

Earle and Johnson's Sunflower Comedy Company of five clever, colored artists will be the attraction on Wednesday and Thursday nights, presenting the funny sketch, "Bad Pete." A whirlwind of laughter. The entire company appears in this act. They also do a double which will make laughs plenty.

Every morning from 9 o'clock "The Pendletons," in their great clairvoyance, mental telepathy and mind reading act will be the attraction. Prof. Pendleton will answer any question you care to ask him, and will surprise you with his insight into the past and future.

Every afternoon "The Frank Carpenter Company" of three funmakers will be seen in their laughable sketches, also in singing and dancing specialties.

This makes three entire changes of vaudeville during the day. There are some good funny pictures on the program also.

PARADE WAS REAL TREAT.

Alabama Minstrels Offer Spectralid Street Entertainment at Noon Today—Show Tonight.

(Porterville (Cal.) Daily Messenger.) Alabama minstrels, led by Manager Erickson, are here today, prepared to show in their big tent which has been stretched near the Dreamland air-drome. If one can judge the performance this evening by the street parade given today the show will be one of the best minstrel performances ever witnessed here. The band that entertained a large crowd on Main street at noon today was one of the best aggregations of the kind that has ever been heard here. There are surely some real musicians in that band, judging from the quality of music offered today.

A long-eared donkey, the mascot of the company, offered great amusement for the youngsters and the older people as well. That donkey certainly has an appreciation of humor or lucking that, he certainly is a well-trained animal.

There is a big company of these real southern negroes, and they travel in a special train. According to the Fresno Republican and the press of other cities in which the Alabama minstrels have shown this troupe certainly puts on a first-class and entertaining performance.

The same company plays here Wednesday, September, and the same class band will be heard in the streets at 3 p. m.
