Mother's Advice To Her Daughter

A Real Live Doll to Fondle is Woman's Greatest Happiness.

One of the most important matters about which women concern themselves is their future status as a grandmother. And she is wiser than you know of it. If you would that famous remedy, Mother's Friend. This is an external application for the abdominal muscles and breasts. It certainly has a wonderful influence, allays all fear, banishes all pain, is a most grateful encouragement to the young, expectant mother, and permits her to go through the period happy in mind, free in body and thus destined to anticipate woman's greatest happiness as nature intended she should. The action of Mother's Friend makes the muscles free, pliant and responsive to expansion. Thus all strain and tension upon the nerves and ligaments is avoided, and, in place of a period of discomfort and consequent dread, it is a season of calm repose and joyful expectation. There is no nausea, no morning sickness, no nervous twitching, none of that constant strain known to so many women, hence Mother's Friend is really one of the greatest blessings that could be devised. This splendid and certain remedy can be had of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle, and is sure to prove of inestimable value, not only upon the mother, but upon the health and future of the child. Write to Bradford Regulator Co., 132 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book to expectant mothers.

Vegetables for Cold Days.
Currant lentils make one of the most nutritious vegetable dishes one could imagine, and this may be added the greater attraction of cheapness. For currant lentils wash and soak three or four good sized table-spoonsful of lentils overnight and in the morning boil them in enough slightly salted water to well cover and cook until tender, but not breaking. Strain off the liquor carefully (reserving this as a foundation for vegetable stock). Fry a good sized onion cut into rings in one ounce of well clarified drippings. Fry in the same pan half a teaspoonful of mild curry powder for a minute or two; then add three peeled and sliced tomatoes and a heaped teaspoonful of rice flour, a teaspoonful of curry paste and half a pint of stock. Add the liquor slowly, stirring it all the time to keep it smooth; the stir in the lentils carefully with a teaspoonful of sugar, the juice of half a lemon and one ounce of butter and let it stew together till quite thick. Serve in a wall of well boiled rice.

Potato Damping.—Peel eight large boiled potatoes, chop up finely four ounces of smet freed from skin, etc., or use dripping. Mash the potatoes free from lumps and add to them the smet, moistening it if necessary with a little milk or water, but be careful not to make it too moist. It should be rather dry. Add as much flour as the potatoes will take up (about one pound), and when it is all incorporated roll into a ball tie it up in a pudding cloth and boil it for four hours, adding more water as that it the pan boils away and serve with the following sauce: Sauce—Take four or five medium sized onions, put them in a pan with cold water and boil until tender; then chop finely. Meantime melt two ounces of well clarified drippings in a pan over the fire and add to it one ounce of flour, and when thoroughly blended moisten with half a pint of warm water or stock if at hand, add gradually, and when it is all added let the sauce boil for three minutes, keeping it stirring all the time, add salt to taste and the chopped up onions. Rub through a sieve if liked and serve very hot.

A Kitchennette.
Instead of tapes on the corners of the kitchen towels try working a large eyelet in each corner. Make the eyelets large enough to accommodate the hook on which they must hang and they will be found more convenient and lasting than the tapes.

The Two Skirted Suit.
There is growing talk of the suit that comes with a second skirt attached, usually of a different material—a plaid, for instance. This is a logical development of fashion. Indeed, one might wonder why it did not come sooner. Men's and boys' suits come with two separate pairs of trousers, a man's tailor having recognized long ago that the coat was the last part of a suit to wear out.

Two skirts to one coat double the life of a suit and lend variety in dressing. One skirt usually is a plaid, toning in with the general color scheme. The other skirt is of the coat material.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
This remedy has no superior for coughs and colds. It is pleasant to take. It contains no opium or other narcotic. It always cures. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

CHOCOLATE IS ABOLISHED AS AN ARMY RATION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—In spite of the fact that chocolate is easily carried and one of the few articles of diet which will "keep" almost indefinitely, Secretary of War Garrison has ordered its abolishment as an army ration. The reason assigned for this action is a report made by Dr. C. F. Longworth, of the department of agriculture, who declared that the army chocolate is "defective as to indigestibility." Soldiers have come to regard this food as the greatest and best standby when under arms in the field and when rations may be short.

Ferris Leaves Houghton.
HOUGHTON, Mich., Jan. 10.—Saying the Michigan copper strike must "wear itself out," Governor Ferris announced he would return to Lansing. Rather contradictory in his statement he added, "Subsequent events might cause a sudden termination of the conflict."

The impression was gained that as a result of the investigation the governor has a plan by which he hopes to force a settlement. Moyer remained here, heavily guarded by deputy sheriffs detailed to protect him against violence.

Two skirts to one coat double the life of a suit and lend variety in dressing. One skirt usually is a plaid, toning in with the general color scheme. The other skirt is of the coat material.

The plaid skirt gives that novel "compose" effect seen on high priced tailor mades. A woman who wants to get the smart effect can do so by wearing the coat of an ordinary suit and by having a separate plaid skirt made.

Prune in Potato.
Germans have a way of serving potatoes with roast mutton that is novel as well as ornamental and appetizing, says the Mothers' Magazine.

The raw potatoes, which are first carefully peeled, are cut into symmetrical chunks with a hole scooped in the center, in which is placed either a raisin or a prune. The potatoes so prepared are roasted with the meat until of a rich brown and thoroughly saturated with the savory drippings.

They are served with the roast, being placed around it on the same platter as a decoration.

Cheaper Raisins.
I find it much cheaper to buy raisins and then stone them myself, writes a contributor to the Women's Magazine.

To do this, pour boiling water over them and let them stand about 10 minutes. Drain, and rub each raisin between the thumb and finger. The seeds will come out clean.

Oregon is Represented.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Oregon has become represented in the chamber of commerce of the United States of America during the past three months by the election of the Chamber of Commerce of Astoria, and the Emblem Club of Bend. Six Oregon organizations are now members of the National chamber.

There are now four hundred and eighty-eight organizations constituting the membership of the National Chamber. Every state and territory is represented, with the exception of New Mexico. Commercial organizations in Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands have been elected. The American chamber of commerce in Paris, and the American chamber of commerce for the Levant are also members.

The second annual meeting of the National Chamber will be held in Washington from February 11 to 13. Several hundred business men representative of commercial organizations are expected. February 12 will be devoted to the broadest consideration of all that is involved in the Sherman anti-trust law and the regulation of corporate activity by law.

The annual banquet of the national chamber will be held on the anniversary of President Lincoln's birthday. On February 11 Secretary Wilson of the department of labor will address the meeting on "The Relation of the Department of Labor to Industries and Commerce."

To Fight Rat Plague.
BERLIN, Jan. 13.—To combat the plague of rats with which the town of Losenberg, Saxony, is suffering, the authorities have ordered that "all citizens shall spend the interval between three and four p. m. every Tuesday in strewing the floor and walls of their dwellings, stables and outhouses with phosphorus and arsenic." Heavy penalties are provided for those who fail to obey the order.

LINCOLN-WASHINGTON'S BIRTH TO BE OBSERVED JOINTLY

DENVER, Jan. 12.—The combined observance of Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays will be held here some time in February of preliminary plans being made today by Governor Ammons are carried out. Representatives of fifteen patriotic societies have appointed a subcommittee to arrange a tentative program for the exercises. The program will not be a series of long addresses that might tire. It will be a varied one of competitive drills, songs and other numbers appropriate to the occasion. A dozen other patriotic societies are expected to lend support to the plan.

Statue at Fair.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Much of the sculpture work is to adorn the interior of the Palace of Machinery, the largest of the exposition palaces at the Panama Pacific international exposition already has been placed within the gigantic structure and is attracting many visitors to the building on Sundays and holidays. Like most of the statuary which will be distributed about the courts and palaces this is of heroic size and of imitation marble. The figures will soon be assembled and put in their proper places about the palaces.

If you want to please a woman, shut your mouth and listen.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 1, 1913. M. D. Reynolds says:— This is to certify that I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism since 1894. Contracted the disease while working with a snow plow on the railroad. For several years I have been obliged to use crutches a great part of the time. Having used three boxes of the Meritol Rheumatism Powders, I have thrown away the crutches and am now fully recovered. It certainly has done wonders for me and I heartily recommend it. M. D. SHE IS 83 BUT DOES HER OWN HOUSEWORK

MRS. MARGARET JAMES THINKS SHOVELING COAL IS BEST OF EXERCISE.

DENVER, Jan. 13.—Odd job seekers, especially those who want to pick up a bit of change shoveling coal, get no chance at all with Mrs. Margaret James, 83 years young. Mrs. James, despite her advanced years, shovels her own coal and she also shovels her own sidewalks clean of snow when the storm king rages. She attributes her longevity to shoveling. She thinks shoveling anything is the best exercise in the world. Recently she transferred two tons of coal from her sidewalk to her cellar, and said she was sorry it wasn't three tons.

"Work," said Mrs. James to a United Press correspondent, "is the secret of happiness. Work is the secret of longevity. With good, hard work anyone can live to a reasonable age. I call 100 years 'reasonable.'" "Yes, I shoveled snow during the recent storm which broke over Denver in December, when four feet of it fell. I hadn't had any real work to do for several weeks previous to the storm and I was going stale. I was mighty thankful when the snow came for that reason. I believe shoveling the snow from my pavements prolonged my life several months. I felt like a two-year-old after the exercise in the open.

"If it wasn't for having the furnace to take care of in the winter, I don't know what I would do to keep in shape. Next to shoveling anything in the open, feeding a furnace is my particular hobby. If the young people of Jordan spent as much time and energy shoveling coal or snow or dirt or anything out in the open, as they do dancing the turkey trot or tango in a close, ill-ventilated hall they would be better for it. There would be less sickness and trouble. The girls would be better able to stand the rigors of childbirth and the men would be better physically and mentally to perform their daily tasks."

Chinese Win Trophies.

TIEN-TSIN, Jan. 12.—Half of the gold medals and over a third of the silver and bronze trophies hung up in the international sports meeting here, under the auspices of the Army Y. M. C. A., were won by Chinese amateurs.

Their principal opponents, British and American soldiers stationed here, were astonished. Very few of the winning Chinese are graduates of foreign universities.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

EAT LESS MEAT IF YOU FEEL BACKACHE OR HAVE BLADDER TROUBLE.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pain in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night. To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent, lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.
