SPEAKER OF HOUSE SAYS SUFFRAGE IS BOUND TO WIN OUT

Champ Clark Tells Women That They Must Not Force Amendment at This Session, However.

VICTORY A MATTER OF TIME

By 1917 at Most, he Declares, Women Will be Voting for National Officials in Every State—Monster Petitions are Delivered to Both House and Senate Today.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Monster petitions demanding equal suffrage were presented today in the senate and house today when Vice-President Marshall and Speaker Clark received a delegation of suffragettes headed by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Jane Addams and Rheta Childe Dorr.

"By 1917, or a little later," Clark told the callers, "women will be voting for national officials in every state. Universal suffrage is as certain as that the sun will rise tomorrow, so I hope you will continue the peaceable methods with which you started. For myself if the question comes up in Missouri I will support it. For 6000 years men have been trying to run the world. Some think we have made a mess of it. If women run it I hope they will improve on our work."

The speaker indicated, however, he thought suffragists will meet with little success if they forced congress to act on a constitutional amendment at present. He gave it as his opinion that the best way was to continue the fight in the various states.

Addressing Marshall, Mrs. Henry Breckenridge said the vice-president ought to use his persuasive powers to convert his wife to the equal suffrage cause.

One of the suffragettes met Bryan as he was entering the capitol to discuss the Nicaraguan treaty and almost embraced him in the warmth of her argument for "the cause."

The suffragists petitions were 300 in number, represented 38 states and contained 100,000 names.

He is prominently known throughout the country as a theologian and Hebrew scholar.

SHIPPERS WARNED OF CAR SHORTAGE. PORTLAND, Ore., June 27.—Warning shippers to make provision for a car shortage this summer due to a dearth of western business from the east and the enormous potential grain crop in the middle west. D. W. Campbell, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific, addressed a letter to the state railroad commission asking for their cooperation in reducing the expected shortage to the minimum.

MARK MOORHOUSE STRICKEN; MAY DIE

Well Known Real Estate and Insurance Dealer Suffers Shock Which Leaves Him in Critical Condition.

Half paralyzed from an embolism of the brain, Mark Moorhouse, well known young real estate and insurance dealer and one of the directors of the Round-up, is today lying between life and death at his home on Water street with his hopes of recovery depending upon the passing away of the embolus which is obstructing a blood vessel in his brain. Within another twelve hours his fate will probably be determined.

Mr. Moorhouse has been afflicted with heart trouble for several years. Thursday evening about 3:30 while at his home he suddenly fell over unconscious. A physician was hastily summoned and he found the entire right side of the patient paralyzed. An examination showed him suffering from a disease which in the majority of cases proves fatal. It is caused by some substance called an embolus, usually a clot of fibrin, a detached shred of morbid growth, a globule of fat or a microscopic organism, getting into the arteries and being carried to the brain where it becomes clogged.

In the case of Mr. Moorhouse the embolus probably came from the heart. According to Dr. G. L. Boyden, the attending physician, the youth of the patient is in favor of his recovery and this morning there were distinct signs of improvement in his condition. He could move the right arm and the right leg a little. He is conscious but unable to speak. The embolism, if not resultant in death, usually passes way within four or five days.

All day yesterday the patient lay in an extremely critical state but it was not until late in the afternoon that the news reached his friends. His long residence here and his prominence has resulted in countless inquiries as to his condition today.

VILLA'S MEN ARE IN CLOSE PURSUIT—ANOTHER BATTLE IS PENDING.

ZACATECAS, June 27.—Abandoning their wounded and destroying supplies and ammunition as they fled the routed federal garrison at Zacatecas is nearing Agua Calientes. Rebels under Generals Urbina, Benavides and Raul Madero are hot in pursuit. Villa himself has gone south to superintend operations against Agua Calientes, in case the federals should make another stand there. His opinion was they will keep on to Queretaro.

JUAREZ, June 27.—That the federals have evacuated Agua Calientes and are retreating towards Queretaro is reported from Torreón.

ON BOARD GENERAL CARRANZA'S SPECIAL TRAIN BOUND FOR MONTEREY, June 27.—The commission appointed by General Carranza to investigate the death of William H. Benton, an Englishman and Gustave Bauch, an American, both of whom it was asserted were executed, presented its report in each case to General Carranza. The result of the investigation, however, was not made public.

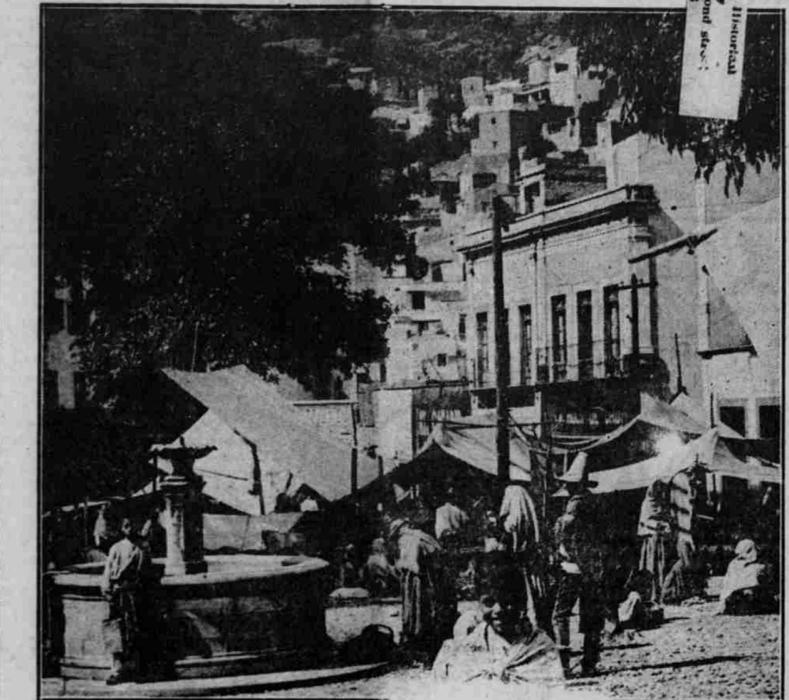

General Ramon Fraustro, president of the commission, declined to state on whom the commission had fixed the responsibility, whether Benton and Bauch each had been tried by military court before execution, what the charges were on which they executed, or whether the commission had advocated the payment of indemnities for their deaths.

ALBANY MAN BEATIFIED HEAD S. W. VETERANS. SALEM, Ore., June 27.—Fred C. Stellmacker of Albany, was elected department commander of the Spanish-American War veterans of Oregon in the annual convocation.

VIEW IN PARK OF ZACATECAS

Zacatecas is the first of the gateways to Mexico city. The defeat there for the federals means Villa will march on. He will have to take one or two more towns on the way, but Huerta's army will be so demoralized that the hardest of the fighting will be over. Mexicans do not believe there will be an important battle just outside Mexico City. They expect that the overwhelming victory at Zacatecas will virtually mean the finish of Huerta.

Brake Beam Bo Complains of "Harsh" Language of Officer

In behalf of that portion of the traveling public to which he has belonged for these many years, a "blown-in-the-glass jangle stiff" with the stub of one leg as his credentials, gained the ear of District Attorney Frederick Stelwer this morning to lodge a complaint against the city marshal of Umatilla for alleged unseemly and unnecessary roughness in dealing with the rod-ridding tourists who pass through his province. It was no whining tale he told. Though he had encountered the harsh official himself, his mission was not inspired by any sense of personal grievance, much less by malice toward the law's representative. The city marshal represented to him one of the factors which make traveling unpleasant and he is actuated solely by the desire to ameliorate the conditions of travel. So he said. He was an observer, he said. He had noted that the railroad companies had been ousting a good many of their conductors and brakemen. He knew why they did it. They had found that the men were not properly equipped for their jobs. They had the wrong attitude toward the jobs. He approved of the railroad's course and declared his belief that it would result directly and indirectly in making travel for the "cushion riders" more safe, more profitable and more pleasurable. In a way he was actuated by the same motives. He believed that such officials as the city marshal at Umatilla should be eliminated for the benefit of the class he represented. He asked that a case be brought against the said marshal declaring he would give his services as a witness. Questioned as to his personal knowledge of the rough tactics of the officer, he said that two orders expressed in gruff and energetic language had prevented him from getting a biscuit from a dining car. "And a biscuit would have helped me a great deal just then," he added. The orders were entirely too harsh, he complained. Also he said, the marshal had used physical violence against some of his conferees. The district attorney engaged him in conversation for some length of time and was much entertained by the observations and suggestions volunteered by his one-legged caller. However, there was not enough evidence in sight to warrant the bringing of a case against the Umatilla officer.

BOTH MEN IN FINE FORM FOR CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT

MORAN SAYS HE WILL WIN—JOHNSON SAYS FIGHT WILL BE HIS. PARIS, June 27.—Fight fandon is letting three to one in Johnson's favor. Johnson said he weighed 210. Moran that he tipped the beam at 205. Impartial judges said that if Moran defeated Johnson it will be because the latter is "all in." The negro insisted he is perfectly fit, but he didn't look it. Moran declared he was never in better shape. Both men are confident of winning, Johnson predicting the bout will end before the twelfth, Moran before the fifteenth.

- LEWIS, YAKIMA PITCHER, NOW PROPERTY OF BUCKS. By a deal made with Manager Ford of the North Yakima team today, Lewis, who has been a member of the Yakima pitching staff for the past two months, has become the property of the Pendleton club. The first offer for him but this offer was refused. He was thereupon purchased outright for $15 and Daly was released. Lewis has been a losing pitcher for Yakima but his defeats have been generally of the hard luck variety. Wednesday he pitched a beautiful game against Pendleton, losing by the score of 1 to 9. Russ Hall, the umpire, declares he saw him lose three games in which he pitched just as good ball and that it has been his observation that the young fellow has everything it takes to make a good pitcher. With the Pendleton batters behind him to give him runs, he should break into the win column strong. Daly, since his first winning streak has been going bad and Manager Ladd felt that the chances of winning the pennant depended upon his getting a winning twirler in place of Lewis. The sale of Lewis leaves Yakima with but two regular pitchers, but he should break into the win column strong. - ROOSEVELT ORDERED BY PHYSICIAN TO TAKE REST. COLONEL HOWEVER, DECLARES THAT HE CAN RECOVER WITHOUT IT. OYSTER BAY, June 27.—On account of poor health, Roosevelt has cancelled his proposed trip to California. Dr. Lambert, the colonel's personal physician, said the former president is not as well as he looks and must take it easy for at least four months. The dictum didn't coincide with Roosevelt's views. "Dr. Lambert takes rather a melancholy view of my health," he said. "Personally, I don't think I'm in such a bad way. He wants me to take a four month rest, but that is absolutely out of the question. I can recover without it." Dr. Lambert tried in vain to persuade the colonel to cancel his engagement to deliver an address Tuesday at Pittsburg but believed he would consent to limit his speaking engagements. "Dr. Lambert takes rather a melancholy view of my health," he said. "Personally, I don't think I'm in such a bad way. He wants me to take a four month rest, but that is absolutely out of the question. I can recover without it." Dr. Lambert tried in vain to persuade the colonel to cancel his engagement to deliver an address Tuesday at Pittsburg but believed he would consent to limit his speaking engagements. Next Thursday Roosevelt will consult a throat specialist. In addition to this Lambert said he is suffering from an enlarged spleen, his system being full of malaria.
- WIFE MURDERED, HUSBAND TELLS POLICE OF DEED. LOWELL, Mass., June 27.—"I think I've murdered my wife," Captain Anderson looked up from his desk at the police station and saw Wilfred Blaise standing dazed. Blaise immediately fell asleep on a cot in the station before the police were able to secure details of his strange statement. An investigation of Blaise's home revealed the body of his wife, 26, a bride of four months, strangled to death. Wilfred's mental condition will be investigated. Carey Application Denied. SALEM, Ore., June 27.—The desert land board declined the application of Richard R. Lawrence for a 150-acre Carey act irrigation project. The land is located near Prineville. It was held by the board that the acreage was too small, and that the scheme was impracticable. The board decided to appeal from the decision of the federal government declining permission to the state to provide feed canals for the Tumalo irrigation project over federal lands. Heat 105; Quit Wheat Fields. TOPEKA, Kan., June 27.—The season's hottest day in the Kansas wheat fields was recorded and a number of prostrations of men engaged in harvesting were reported. Arkansas City recorded a temperature of 105 degrees and Great Bend 104. Many harvest hands quit work because of the heat. Most of the men in the fields are not used to working in such heat and farmers at several points were forced to find new tillers. At Independence the mercury went to 101, the hottest since 1911. At Wichita 100 was recorded.
- SHIPPERS WARNED OF CAR SHORTAGE. PORTLAND, Ore., June 27.—Warning shippers to make provision for a car shortage this summer due to a dearth of western business from the east and the enormous potential grain crop in the middle west. D. W. Campbell, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific, addressed a letter to the state railroad commission asking for their cooperation in reducing the expected shortage to the minimum.
- MARK MOORHOUSE STRICKEN; MAY DIE. Well known real estate and insurance dealer suffers shock which leaves him in critical condition.
- VIEW IN PARK OF ZACATECAS. Zacatecas is the first of the gateways to Mexico city. The defeat there for the federals means Villa will march on. He will have to take one or two more towns on the way, but Huerta's army will be so demoralized that the hardest of the fighting will be over. Mexicans do not believe there will be an important battle just outside Mexico City. They expect that the overwhelming victory at Zacatecas will virtually mean the finish of Huerta.
- ROOSEVELT ORDERED BY PHYSICIAN TO TAKE REST. COLONEL HOWEVER, DECLARES THAT HE CAN RECOVER WITHOUT IT. OYSTER BAY, June 27.—On account of poor health, Roosevelt has cancelled his proposed trip to California. Dr. Lambert, the colonel's personal physician, said the former president is not as well as he looks and must take it easy for at least four months. The dictum didn't coincide with Roosevelt's views.
