

LOCAL PHYSICIAN IN NARROW ESCAPE

(Special Correspondence.)
 ALBEE, Ore., Aug. 5.—While driving out to the Brehm ranch last Saturday evening Dr. G. S. Holsington bumped into a chuck hole in the road breaking the steering gear of his car which left the road immediately, plunged across a ditch and made a root for a rail fence. Only by the immediate use of his brakes did he save his car from a complete wreck and perhaps serious injuries to himself.

Sam Carney of Nye was here on business Thursday.

Clarence Adams came in today from his summer ranch.

F. A. Bailey was a visitor over Sunday.

Nate Jones came in today to see about the fall beef prospects.

AMERICAN WHEAT SOLD TO FOREIGN WAR ZONE

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Buying of American wheat by Europe in defiance of the mishaps of war began yesterday. The British government guaranteed possible losses by ocean capture of any part of the millions of bushels previously under contract to go to English ports opened the way for additional purchasing notwithstanding that the guarantee had not yet been formally extended to transactions entered into since war was declared.

Prices of wheat leaped upward to an extreme of 3 5-8 cents a bushel and closed strong with net gains of 2 1-2 cents to 2 5-8 cents. All the other leading staples on the board of trade joined in the advance. Both foreign and domestic investors appeared to be here that the signing of the bill to put under the protection of the American flag all the shipping needed was only a matter of a few hours, and that the temporary financial strain here had been relaxed.

According to a leading exporter, all the news regarding business in the grain world was good news except one thing, namely, that foreign exchange bankers had not yet found themselves able to purchase foreign bills against foodstuffs. Negotiations seeking a satisfactory solution of this highly important subject were in progress with good results hoped for.

Infestation and Insect Bites Dangerous.

Mosquitoes, flies and other insects, which breed quickly in garbage pails, ponds of stagnant water, barns, musty places, etc., are carriers of disease. Every time they bite you, they inject poison into your system from which some dread disease may result. Get a bottle of Sloan's Lintiment. It is antiseptic and a few drops will neutralize the infection caused by insect bites or rusty nails. Sloan's Lintiment disinfects Cuts, Bruises and Sores. You cannot afford to be without it in your home. Money back if not satisfied. Only 25c at your druggist.—Adv.

AMERICAN OIL AGENCY LIMITS ITS PURCHASES

OIL CITY, Pa., Aug. 4.—The Zee Purchasing Agency, which is the principal buyer of Pennsylvania crude oil, issued an order to its agents restricting the purchase of oil until conditions in Europe became more clearly defined. No more than 100 barrels of crude oil will be purchased from any one producer or firm.

BAKER FOREST FIRES STARTED BY CAMPERS

BAKER, Ore., Aug. 4.—Report of forest fire on Sutton creek received by Fire Warden Palmer, who is now gathering a force of men to proceed to the scene. The extent of the fire is unknown, but it is in territory where it might easily get a start and menace a large section of valuable timber.

A small fire at Sparta is under control, according to word from the government range station. Campers are said to have started both fires.

What the Press Agent Has to Say of Present and Coming Attractions.

Orpheum.
 Tuesday and Wednesday. For this change we have an all star program, featuring the following popular favorites: Mary Fuller, Lillian Walker, Arthur Ashley, Mable Trunelle and Herbert Prior.

In the Shadow of Disgrace. Two part Edison. Seth loved pretty Nora, but she had promised to marry Arthur Matland and he is mistress of the beautiful old Matland hall. Arthur is called to war and they are secretly married. Later idle gossip got busy and Nora's father told her to leave home. She disappeared and in the home of some kind friends her child was born. Seth learns of this and brings her back just as Arthur, her husband, returns and happiness is again restored.

The Winning Trick. Vitagraph. The pretty young wife believes that money is useless. To cure her her husband pretends to have lost his fortune. She finds things very inconvenient and is more than glad when she finds her husband is still wealthy.

Dolly at the Helm. Edison. The eleventh page in the active life of "Dolly of the Dalles." Dolly takes charge of the paper and by some clever work makes a big "scoop."

Pastime Tonight.
 Pronounced by all the biggest picture ever shown by us, "The Saint." Pathe's big six-part masterpiece was presented for the first time in Pendleton last night and will be repeated again tonight.

This feature represents a most ambitious effort to film a story of contemporary American life. It is American made. On the whole, it is an acceptable offering. There are many very powerful and affecting scenes; there is much masterly acting; great skill has been shown in the selection of the types. The method of splicing the drama with trivial comic incidents is taking a leaf from the book of life itself, in which the comic and the serious chapters are always mixed. These deft touches of humor are not only amusing in themselves, but they serve to relieve the tragic intensity and the overflowing pathos of many a scene which would otherwise prove too severe a strain on the ever-sympathetic heart.

The story is uncommonly strong and sustains the interest of the spectator from first to last. A man of parts and with high ambitions chafes at the pettiness of his employment, and at the limits it imposes on his desire to rise. He is a clerical drudge at a bank. He is tempted to steal a large sum of money. He makes himself believe that with the money he can realize his social and political aspirations. He reveals his plan to his wife. The wife implores him for his own sake and for the sake of their little child to give up his criminal plan. He ignores the pleadings of the wife and runs away with the money. In a distant city he is admitted to the bar and then rises to great heights in political life, partly through his own talents and partly through his subservience to the dominant political boss.

His final downfall is graphically told in this big 6-part masterpiece.

Sheehan Opera Company.
 Manager Welch has booked for the Oregon theater a sterling attraction for Monday, August 10, when the Sheehan English Opera company, headed by the well-known tenor Joseph P. Sheehan, will present the most popular acts from the following operas: Verdi's "Il Trovatore," Balfe's "Bohemian Girl," and von Flotow's "Martha." The star of this company, Joseph P. Sheehan, is a native of Boston, Mass. He was the leading tenor soloist of St. Joseph's church choir in Boston when Thomas Q. Seabrooke, in 1892, induced him to join his company then playing "The Isle of Champagne." He left after a year's engagement to join the famous Bostonians, with which organization he sang the leading tenor roles in "Robin Hood," "Prince Anzias" and "The Maid of Plymouth." The following season he appeared as "Prince Charles" in the opera of "Rob Roy" and then in the leading role in De Koven and Smith's Opera, "The Mandarin." The next season he joined Henry W. Savage's Castle Square Opera company with which he won enduring fame in grand opera in English, his repertoire including "Il Trovatore," "Bohemian Girl," "Martha," "Faust," "Lohengrin," "Rusticiana," "Aida," "La Boheme," and many others of the classical grand operas.

On October 15, 1906, Mr. Sheehan created the role of "Leut. Pinkerton" in the first production of Puccini's "Madame Butterfly." Since 1907 he has headed his own company. His support includes Miss Mirth Carmen, one of America's most talented prima donnas, Miss Laura Baer, contralto, who sang at the Berlin opera in 1913, and she will return to Europe at the close of the present engagement to fulfill a two years' contract; Nelson H. Shanley, who, although only 24 years of age, three years ago won the scholarship of one year's study at the Stuttgart Royal opera and was reputed to have been the youngest principal to appear there.

Alta Theater.
 "A Woman's Triumph," a dramatic adaptation of Sir Walter Scott's greatest story tells the tale of a woman's sacrifice for truth, and her ultimate triumph and reward. "The Heart of Midlothian" is a story read and revered by millions, and is the impressive story of the suffering heart and noble soul of a courageous woman.

Jeannie Deans refused to tell a lie to save her sister from conviction and her pleading and noble spirit won for her a pardon from the queen thus saving her from what she thought a terrible sin, telling a lie. There is so much to the story that space will not permit the use of details and all of it is contained in the film version.

The acting by the Famous Players Stock company with Laura Sawyer and Betty Harte in the roles of Jennie and Effie, the sisters is of the highest order.

"A Woman's Triumph" is a triumph of the motion picture art. Edwin S. Porter, director in chief of the Famous Players company has all the best of this country's facilities to make this a gem and a fitting production for all classes. In photography, acting, tinting and directing, this subject will be recommended by all.

Matinee performances at 2:15 and 3:30. Evenings, 7:00, 8:15 and 9:30.

Sheehan Opera Company.
 Manager Welch has booked for the Oregon theater a sterling attraction for Monday, August 10, when the Sheehan English Opera company, headed by the well-known tenor Joseph P. Sheehan, will present the most popular acts from the following operas: Verdi's "Il Trovatore," Balfe's "Bohemian Girl," and von Flotow's "Martha." The star of this company, Joseph P. Sheehan, is a native of Boston, Mass. He was the leading tenor soloist of St. Joseph's church choir in Boston when Thomas Q. Seabrooke, in 1892, induced him to join his company then playing "The Isle of Champagne." He left after a year's engagement to join the famous Bostonians, with which organization he sang the leading tenor roles in "Robin Hood," "Prince Anzias" and "The Maid of Plymouth." The following season he appeared as "Prince Charles" in the opera of "Rob Roy" and then in the leading role in De Koven and Smith's Opera, "The Mandarin." The next season he joined Henry W. Savage's Castle Square Opera company with which he won enduring fame in grand opera in English, his repertoire including "Il Trovatore," "Bohemian Girl," "Martha," "Faust," "Lohengrin," "Rusticiana," "Aida," "La Boheme," and many others of the classical grand operas.

On October 15, 1906, Mr. Sheehan created the role of "Leut. Pinkerton" in the first production of Puccini's "Madame Butterfly." Since 1907 he has headed his own company. His support includes Miss Mirth Carmen, one of America's most talented prima donnas, Miss Laura Baer, contralto, who sang at the Berlin opera in 1913, and she will return to Europe at the close of the present engagement to fulfill a two years' contract; Nelson H. Shanley, who, although only 24 years of age, three years ago won the scholarship of one year's study at the Stuttgart Royal opera and was reputed to have been the youngest principal to appear there.
