MEETING OF THE STATE SHEEPMEN IS OPENED HERE

President in Annual Address Declares Condition of Woolman Has Never Been Better Than Today.

PROSPECTS OF TARIFF SEEN

Move Would Be Very Acceptable, Says Mr. Falconer—Record Breaking Prices Have Been Received for Lambs and Good Prices for Wool—Many Members Present.

With many sheepmen present from all parts of the wool sections of the state, the Oregon Wool Growers' association opened its 18th annual convention here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. ...

The most interesting feature of the early part of the program was the annual address of the president.

The first remark was a very significant one. "At no time in the history of the association," he said, "has the general welfare of the sheepmen been as good as it is today."

"We have received record-breaking prices for lambs and good prices for wool. We have improved the quality of our sheep and the manner in which we fatten our lambs for market. ..."

"We have gained the confidence of our bankers, which is probably the most important thing of all. We have proved to them that clear-headed business men, with energy and stamina, could stem the tide of adversity until the lean years are past and the fat ones come again."

"And in addition to all this good fortune we have the prospect of a tariff being placed on wool by a democratic congress, which would indeed be very acceptable to sheepmen and I believe to the west generally."

One of the questions of paramount importance, he said, is the pure fabric bill which is to be discussed tomorrow by Charles Coffey of Portland. ...

He commended the organization of the Columbia Basin Wool Warehouse at Portland, the primary purpose of which is to assist in the financing of the wool growing industry. ...

He endorsed the suggestion of the national association that the month of February be set aside each year for a campaign against the coyote. ...

There is no feeding business that will pay more profitably than the feeding of mutton and he recommended that the farmer as a means of adding to his profits. ...

President Falconer in speaking of lamb producing urged the grower to watch his lambs carefully in order to market them at their price. ...

Perhaps the biggest question coming before the senate will be the national defense program. The military affairs committee of the senate, headed by senator Chamberlain of Oregon, as well as the house military affairs committee, of which Congressman Hay is chairman, has been working day and night with Secretary of War Garrison and the general staff of the army, shaping the program into the form of bills. ...

Dry Law to be Kept to Letter Wenaha, Elks Clubs on Record Liquor is Strictly Prohibited

No intoxicating liquors will be served in the Elk or Wenaha clubs after the first of the year. Both organizations have gone on record in favor of a strict observance of the prohibition law.

The Elks, at their regular meeting last evening, adopted resolutions expressing their intention of abiding by the laws of the state and of the grand lodge which has ruled that all Elk lodges in dry territory shall not keep intoxicants in their club rooms. ...

Whereas, such course is prohibited by the laws of the state and the laws of the order, and the circulation of such reports is unjust to the membership of the lodge and tend to bring it into disrepute; therefore, be it Resolved, by Pendleton Lodge No. 288, B. P. O. E., that we hereby unanimously declare to the city of Pendleton that we intend freely and completely to carry out the prohibition law in letter and in spirit, and that the use of intoxicating liquors in any form in, upon or about the premises occupied by the lodge or belonging to it will be absolutely prohibited. ...

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be submitted to the daily papers of the city of Pendleton for publication.

Attest: J. A. GIBSON, Exalted Ruler. THOS. FITZ GERALD, Secretary.

Pendleton is Town Worth Voting for Thinks Mr. Harrah

Pendleton, the best town on the Pacific coast.

Purest water. Noblest women. Manliest men. Happiest homes. Healthiest children. Best supported schools. Progressive churches. Practical clergy. Applied Christianity. Lodges, clubs and societies well housed and supported. Fine fraternal spirit pervading them all. Business houses and banks bulging with prosperity. The most optimistic and progressive circle of businessmen in the northwest overlooking no opportunities in the past and expecting much in the future.

This town is loyal to the election of the state and stands for law and order.

We will choose for mayor a man of poise, dignity and self control, sufficient to keep him from the epithets and street brawls; a man of pure mind and clean vocabulary; a man of high ideals and respect for good citizens; a clean, careful, quiet, progressive man with sufficient reserve force for any emergency.

Keep quiet, vote right and be happy. Give Montgomery a big majority and all get on the water wagon. Fraternalty yours for a clean town. W. W. HARRAH.

Defeat of Montgomery Would Be a Public Misfortune in the View of Judge S. A. Lowell

December 3, 1915.

TO THE VOTERS OF PENDLETON:

Upon the eve of election may I ask each citizen interested in the good name and welfare of the city, to forget for a season the noise and glare of the campaign, and in the quiet of home and the fireside to determine upon those men most entitled to support at the polls on Monday. ...

The writer has sought to ascertain the record of the men, both public and private, asking himself the questions above quoted, mindful that his duty to the city of his home is no less than the duty which he owes to himself and his family, and will vote for John E. Montgomery. ...

Mr. Montgomery has been a resident of this county since his infancy, and his life among us for a third of a century is an open book. His father died when the boy was but five years old, and the mother was left with a large family, and meagre means, hence the heritage of her children has been the stern, but character-making heritage of hard work. ...

John Montgomery early began to earn his own living, and to aid his mother, by working upon the neighboring farms, and since he was eighteen years of age has held responsible positions in the great grain industry of the county. ...

The methods of the man are not those of the blusterer or the slanderer. He does not deal in either billingsgate or vituperation. No apology will be necessary for any act or utterance of his, either as mayor or private citizen. ...

Respectfully, STEPHEN A. LOWELL.
