TEUTONS FORCED BACK ON MEUSE BY NEW ATTACK

French Drive Germans From Strong Positions According to Statement by Paris War Office.

GERMAN CHARGES CHECKED

Several Attempts to Retake Ground Are Halted by the French After Desperate Fighting; Concentrated French Fire Plays havoc With the Oncoming Enemy.

PARIS, May 22.—French attacks drove the Germans from strong positions on both sides of the Meuse, it was officially announced. The Germans charged many times in desperate efforts to regain the territory but every assault was defeated. The heaviest fighting continued on Sunday, marking the beginning of the fourth month of Verdun, the world's greatest battle.

West of Deadman's Hill, the Germans attempted to widen the gains made on Saturday. Each assault was repulsed. The French then seized the opportunity and plunged through the confused Teuton masses and regained part of the ground lost on Saturday.

The French captured a trench adjoining the shattered ruins of Vaux village. Last night the Germans made a moonlight attack on the Haudeumont quarries but met with disaster. A concentrated French fire blew the columns to bits. The French took the quarries on Sunday.

PARIS, May 22.—"Peace will come only through a decisive victory," Premier Briand told the Russian duma delegation today.

Ukiah Farmer in Desperate Fight With Mad Coyote

ANIMAL ATTACKS HIM AS HE GOES INTO THE FIELD TO GET STOCK.

(East Oregonian Special.) UKIAH, Ore., May 22.—George Ellis had an exciting experience last week with a mad coyote. While riding in the pasture after some stock, he noticed that a piece of fence was down. He rode up to it, climbed down and was repairing the fence, when suddenly the horse became frightened. Upon looking to find out the cause, Mr. Ellis discovered a mad coyote just a few feet away. The animal made for him.

He fought it off with a pine bough, giving him a chance to mount his horse. The coyote leaped on to the horse's neck, but Mr. Ellis kicked it loose, and putting his horse to the gallop, soon made an escape.

Meacham Visited by Severe Storm; 6 Inches of Snow

NOT MUCH STOCK REPORTED IN MOUNTAINS; WEATHER HERE IS COLD.

(East Oregonian Special.) MEACHAM, Ore., May 22.—Six inches of snow fell here during the night and was still falling this morning with indications of a continuance of the storm through the day. There is little stock in the mountains at this time.

While no snow has fallen in Pendleton, the weather last night and today has been better suited to January than May. A cold wind has been sweeping the city, making the housewife mourn the taking down of her stoves, and the male of the family got out his cold overcoat.

The old weather will be hard on the newly shorn sheep, though most of them are sheltered, and will undoubtedly have anything but a beneficial effect upon the growing grain.

The trial of William O. "Whitey" Marrin, charged with second degree murder in connection with the death of Wendell Phillips, is now being conducted in the circuit court.

A jury was secured in a short time, only one juror, Alex Hudson, being excused for cause and only two, C. M. Hogue and Hans Pahl, by the defense preemptorily. The opening statements were made and the actual taking of testimony was begun by 11 o'clock this morning. It is believed that nearly all of the testimony will be in by evening.

Phillips, who was a young man and whose home was near Spokane, was shot through the leg on the early morning of January 21, in Marrin's room in the Palace rooming house on Main street. Marrin and Dee Matlock were the only others present at the time. He died two days later from.

COREY APPEARS TO HAVE BEATEN OUT ED. WRIGHT

LATER RETURNS INDICATE HE GETS NOMINATION BY ABOUT 300.

SALEM, Ore., May 22.—(Special)—H. H. Corey declared this morning that he considered his nomination over Ed Wright was certain with a plurality of 200 and possibly 1000. Grant, Lake and Wheeler counties from which the returns are meager went especially strong for Corey, according to scattering returns.

Withycombe promised to appoint the man receiving the Eastern Oregon nomination to succeed Clyde Aitchison June first. New figures from Eastern Oregon were unavailable today.

Statement is Made of Cash Used for Votes in Electing Miss Saling as Rose Queen

Unable, apparently, to comprehend the ability of Pendleton to raise enough money to purchase more than seven million votes for the election of her candidate for queen of the Rose Festival, Corvallis is reported to have raised the howl of "frame-up" and to have communicated her "peevish" to Eugene.

Yesterday R. P. Richardson, manager of the festival contest, wrote to Pendleton asking for a statement of the money raised here and for other information for publication to clear up the false charges. Members of the committee in charge met yesterday afternoon with Secretary Cranston of the Commercial Association, who acted as manager, and prepared a detailed statement of receipts and disbursements, together with certain explanations. This was forwarded last evening.

The statement shows that there was collected in all, during the campaign $1295 and that of this amount $1286.35 was spent for votes. The balance was used for incidental expenses such as postage, telegraph and telephone tolls. With the exception of $24 spent for votes at the regular rate of one dollar a thousand and $50 spent during "Button Week" at the rate of 2000 votes for a dollar, all of the balance, or $1212.35, was spent during the ten days in which the special rate of 6000 for one dollar was offered. The committee took a gambler's chance in passing up the first special of 2000 for one dollar to wait for something better which they suspected would follow toward the end of the contest. Also the committee advanced the amounts which they considered would be taken in at the Bingham Springs benefit and the second benefit dance in order to place the money during the time of the big offer. They guessed so well as to the amount which would be received that there was a difference of only a few dollars to make up.

The charge of "frame-up" does not sit well upon Pendleton after she has paid the price of her success. The local committee feels that the contest was conducted entirely "on the square" and points out that the management of the contest was in no position to play false for the reason that the big majority of Miss Saling's votes were purchased by Portland friends of the committee without disclosing for whom the votes would be cast. Moreover, Secretary Cranston states in his letter to Mr. Richardson, the committee could have raised $2500 just

Girl Badly Hurt When Big Planks Fall Over on Her

MISS GRACE HOCH VICTIM OF ACCIDENT YESTERDAY CAUSED BY WIND.

Miss Grace Hoch, popular Pendleton high school girl, sustained a fractured leg just above the ankle yesterday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock when a violent wind storm blew down the temporary enclosure, which had been erected in front of The Peoples Warehouse, as she was passing by.

The wooden enclosure had been built as a protection to the front of the store during the remodeling. Miss Hoch and her escort, Ned Fowler, well known high school athlete, were passing by the store just as a particularly strong gust of wind struck the building. The enclosure was torn loose and toppled over upon them. Young Fowler protected the young lady from the full force of the falling lumber but both were carried down. Miss Hoch was struck in such a way that both bones of the leg were broken.

Passerby rescued the two from beneath the wreckage and J. F. Robinson took the young lady to her apartment in his auto and afterwards to the hospital. Dr. E. O. Parker was summoned and set the fractured bones. The young lady is suffering a great deal but otherwise her condition is reported as well as could be expected.

Republicans Make Ready to Launch Boom for Colonel

NEW YORK, May 22.—The regular republicans opened their headquarters for a Roosevelt boom today. The Rooseveltians are all former Taft men. No progressives are among them. They plan to shortly move the headquarters to Chicago. George Von Meyer, chairman of the delegation, has an appointment with the colonel this afternoon. It was believed that Roosevelt would stump the middle west soon.

Hughes' secretary denied the printed story in which it was said that Hughes declared the republicans will nominate Roosevelt, so there was no use in considering anybody else. It was said that Hughes did not recognize irresponsible rumors. The justice remains quiet, apparently indifferent regarding his candidacy.

10 OUT OF 64 PRECINCTS IN COUNTY COMPLETE, LEAVE THE STANDINGS PRACTICALLY SAME

No changes in election races in this county have been made by the late returns coming in and none are expected, save that the majorities of winning candidates will be increased a little or decreased a little.

Complete returns have been received by the East Oregonian from 58 out of the 64 precincts. Returns on the democratic races have been received but from 51 precincts and on the road bonds but from 53. Many of the election judges made the mistake of locking all of their statements up in the boxes and at the county clerk's office hardly more than half of the returns can be secured until an order from the court unlocks the boxes. Many of the missing precincts have been reached by the East Oregonian by telephone but a few of the outlying ones could not be communicated with.

County Clerk Saling will probably begin a canvass of the votes tomorrow and will be assisted by Justice of the Peace Parkes and Justice Sholl of Echo.

The following are the complete returns from 58 precincts on the republican ballots, from 53 on the road bonds and from 51 on the democratic ticket:

SLAV TROOPS JOIN BRITISH FOR MOVE AGAINST MOSLEMS

LONDON, May 22.—Military critics warned the public against undue optimism regarding the speedily executed joining of the British and Russian troops in Mesopotamia. They said it was highly improbable that the Russian main body would effect a junction with the British for weeks in sufficient strength to hurl an attack against Bagdad. The Slavs probably will move upon Bagdad from the north.

Dr. Doney Delivers Helpful and Inspiring Address to Graduates of High School

The program and sermon arranged last evening for the 1916 graduating class of the High School was in all very pleasing to the large audience which filled the Methodist church to its capacity.

Mrs. Brooke Dickson appeared first on the program in a vocal solo. A quiet number was then given by Mrs. Brooke Dickson, Mrs. Charles Bond, Frank Hayes and Hal Bishop. Prayer was then offered by Rev. Hoch-shire of the Methodist Church. Mrs. Carl Power closed the program and Rev. Quinney of the Episcopal church pronounced the benediction.

The sermon delivered by Dr. Carl E. Doney, president of the Willamette University to the graduating class was one of the best afforded Pendleton people for some time. His subject was "What is Waste?" taken from the gospel of St. Matthew.

Dr. Doney expressed the great need of the development of the human soul. He said that all things come from the soul and all things are made by the soul, and therefore all things live with the soul forever. He said that all persons should advance not only in the material side of life but also in the spiritual side; that we should attain more toward the Christ life.

The graduates are just on the threshold of life; that their development lies beyond and this was only the beginning of that development. Nothing is waste until the world has come to an end and God's power is lost forever.

HERMISTON TO GET $5000 FROM CARNEGIE FOR BRANCH LIBRARY; COL. RALEY DONATES THE SITE

News has been received by the county library board that the Carnegie foundation will give $5000 for the erection of a branch county library at Hermiston and there is rejoicing today on the part of the board members and of Hermiston people interested in the move. A site for the building has also been donated to the town by Col. J. H. Raley and will consist of six lots on the hill between Main street and the school house. The same donor has offered the town 13 lots adjoining if used for civic purposes.

The work of securing Carnegie money for the Hermiston library was conducted by Miss Nason, county librarian and considerable ingenuity was required to carry the move through successfully. The first request for money for the purpose was refused on the ground that the population of Hermiston was not sufficient. However, Miss Nason then presented facts shown by government reports as to the population tributary to Hermiston and on the strength of the showing a favorable answer was finally received from James Bertram, secretary of the Carnegie foundation. The library building for Hermiston will be unique in that it will probably be the smallest town in the United States ever to receive such a sum from the Carnegie fund and the offer shows that the management of the Carnegie money gives due consideration to rural population close to a town.

The $5000 will completely cover the erection of the Hermiston library and the maintenance is all that the local people will have to face, since the site is also donated. The library will be known as a branch building of the Umatilla county library. The Carnegie foundation gave $16,000 for the central library now nearing completion here and $7500 for the Milton library which is not yet started.
