

A Paris correspondent of the New York News gossips a little about the dress of Eugenie. He says it is universally conceded that she is the best dressed lady in Europe. She sets the female fashions for the world, and employs not only modistes, but artists to invent them. Her "department of ready-made clothing" is somewhat immense. To say that she has a new dress for every day in the year, would not commence to convey an idea of the extent and variety of her wardrobe. In the front center of the ceiling of her Majesty's private dressing room there is a trap-door, opening into a spacious hall above, filled with "presses," each containing a dress, exhibited on a frame—looking like an effigy of the Empress herself. In a part of these "presses" there is a railway leading to the aforesaid trap door, through which the dress is "descended" into the presence of the Empress. If it "pleased her Majesty," the dress is lifted from the frame and placed upon the imperial person; if not it is whipped up and another comes down in its place; and not unfrequently another and another, and another; so fastidious is the taste which gives the law to fashion. In public the Empress never looks over-dressed. A severe simplicity always characterizes her toilet, in as complete in harmony as a sonata of Beethoven. This is the great secret of the "art of dress." A woman who wears discordant ribbons, breaks the sense of visual melody, commonly called "good taste," without which, not even the Duchess of Goleonda can dress well. Certain colors are just as incongruous and inharmonious as certain notes in music, and the artists who compose dresses for the Empress Eugenie study these natural laws of harmony as carefully as the painter the hues on his palette. Just now it has been discovered that the parasol, the dress, the bonnet, the gloves and the gaiters, must be all of the same color to produce the most unique and pleasing effect. And thus a completely dressed lady no longer offends the eye with a confused contradiction of colors of all the shades, and without the order of the rainbow, but presents a perfect picture, as melodiously charming to the eye as the air of "Home, Sweet Home," is to the ear.

KANSAS CITY is a gay place, and they have queer specimens of humanity there. If you don't believe it, read the following about a woman of doubtful loyalty, who was recently before the Provost Marshal. She gave as an evidence of her loyalty that her husband had been killed in the One Hundred and Sixth Illinois regiment:

"When did your husband go to Illinois?"
 "About three years ago."
 "That was before the war, was it not?"
 "Yes."
 "Why didn't you go with him?"
 "Well, I didn't like to go off so far with a man I wasn't very much acquainted with."
 "You don't mean to say that your husband was so much of a stranger that you did not like to go with him?"
 "Yes I do. I had only been married to him about a year and I wasn't going to leave my folks and go off to Illinois with a man I didn't know more about."

For all Whom it may Concern.
KEEPERS of SALOONS, BOWLING ALLEYS, Billiard Tables, and all persons selling Spiritual Liquors, in less quantities than one quart are hereby informed that the law requires them to take out a license. The proper way to procure a License is to pay the County Treasurer the amount required by law, take a receipt from him, which receipt should be taken to the County Auditor, and by him filed, and the County Auditor then issues the License. A number of persons have obtained receipts from the Treasurer and have not filed them with the Auditor, and obtained their License. The County Auditor is required by law to open books, and keep an account with the officers of the County, receiving and paying out money, and every man will see the necessity of filing their receipts with the Auditor, that he may charge the Treasurer with the amount. This information is given to save the persons costs that are interested in the License question. A word to the wise is sufficient.
