

Boise News.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1864

The Mexicans charged with passing bogus fiat, and confined in jail for the last few weeks, were turned loose for the want of evidence to convict them.

SANITARY SOCIETY.—There will be a meeting of the friends of the Sanitary Commission at the Baptist Church this evening, for the purpose of organizing a society to further the objects of the Commission. A general attendance of the public is earnestly requested.

SETH R. HAMM publishes a fiery card in the "Golden Age," in which he says the men who accused him of voting the Copperhead ticket, is a liar and a puppy. He also asseverates that he could sleep sweeter after killing a secessionist than any man in the army.

ELECTION RETURNS.—Elsewhere we present a complete official table taken from the records in the Recorder's office, carefully compared and corrected. It will be valuable as a table of reference and should be preserved by every one who expects to figure in the future politics of Boise county.

DR. L. WILLIS has gone to San Francisco to purchase an extensive stock of dental goods, and will return in about six weeks and be prepared to do better work and more of it than ever before. He intends coming through Yreka, where he has a large number of instruments pertaining to his profession, which he will also bring with him.

W. J. KENT has arrived in town from the East, with a grand "Panoptique," consisting of the Drummond Light Phantasmagoria, dissolving views, battle scenes, army officers, comic pictures, storms, volcanoes, ocean dangers, and a variety of other wonderful novelties, and will open an exhibition in this city at the Jenny Lind Theater, to-night.

TELEGRAPH TO BOISE.—We learn that it is the intention of the Virginia and Star City Telegraph Co. to continue their line directly on through, via Ruby and Boise cities, to this Basin, at as early a day as practicable. The only serious drawback to the enterprise is a want of timber for poles; it is reported, however, that there is a grove of cottonwoods at or near Surprise Valley, some forty or fifty miles from the proposed line.

MISTAKE.—Last week in speaking of the number of feet owned in the Landon discovery, and contiguous thereto, by the G. C. B. R. & S. M. Co., we said several hundred when it should have been several thousand feet. The company own between five and six thousand feet, and now have over one hundred tons of rock already out and awaiting the starting of the mill, which Mr. Williams is confident will be in running order within the next fortnight.

LOSS OF LIFE BY FIRE.—On Saturday, Oct. 1st, a fire occurred in Red Bluff, Cal., which resulted in the death of one man, by the name of Jacob Knoff, and four horses belonging to Edvard Bouman; besides several houses, including the well known old stand originally built by A. A. Nix, now of this city, and subsequently for many years occupied by Mier & Jaynes as a forwarding house. The fire occurred in the dwelling of Knoff, and was occasioned by drunken carelessness.

IMPROVEMENT.—Dr. M. Mc Chipman has purchased a part of the International Hotel property, corner of Main and Wall streets, and is fitting it up as a drugstore, including a fine fire-proof underground warehouse in the rear. This warehouse, or cellar, is the most securely and substantially built of any of the numerous structures of the kind we have observed in the city. It is completely fire-proof, and is completely fire-proof, besides brick and stone walls to enable it to stand the assaults of time and stress of weather.

MR. OWEN'S DIRECTORY of Boise, Owyhee and Blaine is now in press and will be issued sometime during the present month, or early in November, provided our supply of paper daily expected reaches us in time. The book will contain about sixty pages nearly the size of the Statutes of Idaho, embracing the names, residences and occupation of each individual in the different towns, list of quartz ledges recorded, mills completed and in process of construction, etc., etc., and will be sold at $2 per copy.

HUSSER'S VAUDEVILLE TROUPE of male and female minstrels, arrived last week and began their engagement at the Forrest Theater on Saturday evening. Frank Hussey, as a wild-stefel—Billy Sheppard, as a big dancer and banjoist—Jo Mabbott, as a ballad singer and concert player—Mrs. Julia Morgan, as a danseuse, singer and general female performer—Miss Lottie French, as a singer—Mr. Morgan and Master Frank, as the strong man and india-rubber boy, &c., &c.—are each in their line excellent performers. Master Frank is the loudest, clearest and most musical voice we ever heard in one so young, and withal is as limber as an eel, and one of the best comedians we ever saw.

SOLO OUT.—After thirteen and a quarter months, or 57 weeks, successfully carrying on the printing business in Boise, we come suddenly to announce that the game is up, and that we are ready to engage in something else. Our paper has been and is strictly independent in politics, as well as in everything else, and the time has arrived when in order to further succeed in publishing a news paper, it is necessary to dive, or be driven, into politics, an employment that the undersigned have no relish for; and especially is it apparent that a paper adverse to the present Administration, one that will labor to advance the interests of the so-called democratic party is bound to start in our midst, and as the undersigned, personally, are eminently unsuited altogether unchangeable and entirely opposed to the principles and policy of the modern democratic party, we have thought it prudent and proper, in view of the signs of the times, to accept the offer of Messrs. Bowman & Co., and to retire from the business, leaving them in possession of at least a portion of the handle of the lever that moves the world,—knowing full well that, even though they may teach a strange (and even false) doctrine,—our refusal to sell would not deter them from the accomplishment of their designs. Having said thus much, we bid farewell and announce that, in all human probability, this is the last issue of the Boise News. Next week the paper will be published under a new name and by Messrs. Bowman & Co., with H. C. Street as editor; and in the meantime, and for thirty days to come, we hope our patrons who have not paid up will come and see us. The suddenness of this transaction—it having been consummated on the eve of going to press—has deprived us of both time and space to make a formal valedictory.

T. J. & J. S. BURLEA.

THE JOLLIFICATIONS.—The Democratic jollification meeting in this city on Saturday evening was an immense success. The candle illumination was really beautiful, and particularly so from East Hill looking down into town. The rows of candles from our office presented the appearance of a solid streak of blaze, and the wind fared them just enough to make the effect charming. Many more people were in attendance than congregated before the election to hear the speeches of either party. E. D. Holbrook, upon the assumption that he was in all probability elected to Congress, made a conservative speech, counseling moderation in their rejoicings, and assuring the crowd that if when the northern counties shall have been heard from the result proves in his favor, he will be the servant of no political party, but shall do the best he can for the masses of the people of Idaho. The procession that came from the other side of the Basin was respectable in numbers and their horses and officers were gaily caparisoned with flags, scarfs, rosettes, ribbons, etc., besides a boat hauled along with a wooden cannon sticking out behind, representing the departure of the Union candidates up Salt River with the cannon which they fired before the election, &c., &c. Placerville, Centerville and Hog'em were each visited in turn, and the same performances were repeated in each of these places that characterized the meeting here, wending up with a grand "constitutional (?) ball," in this city. The proposition in mockery of the symbols of death and funeral ceremonies, to bury a coffin and all that sort of thing, was discarded and everything done decently and in order. The only fears we have heard suggested are that, like the old hen that had never laid an egg since she was a pullet, until in her twentieth year she happened to drop one, and was so tickled with the "salt" that she enckled herself to death, they may not stop rejoicing until they come to a like fate.

THE ULLMAN CASE.—On Monday last James Ullman, charged with the murder of George Prim, the barber, some two weeks since, was taken before Justice Walker for examination, and admitted to bail in the sum of ten thousand dollars, on a charge of murder in the second degree. A bond conditioned for his appearance at the next term of the Dist. Court to answer to any indictment that might be found against him, was immediately made out and signed, as follows: Green White; H. Phillips, Isaac Frank, Sam'l Laurin, Abraham Levy, H. Myers, Fred W. Bell and John Ewing for one thousand dollars each, and A. Nordheimer for two thousand dollars. We understand that the defense proved an entire absence of malice towards the party killed, until in a moment of passion he transferred the malice held against the proprietor of the shop to the man Prim, and without deliberation, shot him dead. Prim's offense appears to have been in the telling Ullman that Obs. Wilson had no more negro blood in him than Ullman himself had.

The latest news from Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania, show Union gains the former, and the soldiers' role from 13 to 27,000 in favor of the latter, in the late State election.

ANOTHER MURDER.—About nine o'clock on Sunday night a row was heard in the house of a Mexican courtesan, named Belle Roqueraz, on Montgomery street. A pistol shot was heard in the house, and a man emerged from the front door, crying "I'm murdered," ran down about fifty yards to the front of the Cincinnati Saloon and called to Jonathan G. Duncan, who was standing in the door, to help him up. Duncan reached his hand out and raised him on to the porch or stoop, when he discovered a two-edged bowie knife, the blade of which was eight or ten inches in length, sticking in his side; he—Duncan—pulled the knife out and threw it down on the floor, when the wounded man, who proved to be Edward Baldock, formerly of Yreka, Cal., fell over apparently dead. Dr. Healey was called and dressed the wound, but found no signs of life remaining other than a convulsive tremor running through his frame. Simultaneously with the occurrence of the above incidents, Drs. Hogg and Harris were called to see a man in the Mexican woman's house, by the name of Ben Bloomer who, upon examination, was found to have received several severe blows on the head with some heavy instrument—a revolver, perhaps—and was in a critical condition. Justice Walker on Monday morning, summoned a jury and held an inquest over the dead body of Baldock, and elicited about the following testimony, in substance: Last Summer Baldock was living with this woman as a paramour, and recently he has been at Auburn, Canton City, Walla Walla, when he claimed to have received word from her requesting him to return and live with her again; accordingly he came up, and arrived here on the day previous to his death, but the fickle fair one had changed her mind and concluded not to receive him to her arms. He went and demanded admittance on Saturday evening, but was refused. On Sunday he showed Duncan a large knife which he carried, and in return Duncan showed him a fine pocket pistol that had been given him that day in return for a present of a breast-pin. Baldock took the pistol and shoved it in his pocket, saying he would not give it back that night, although requested to do so by Duncan. With the pistol in his pocket he went out about town, and about nine o'clock returned to the woman's house and demanded entrance, which being denied, he burst in the door, where he found Bloomer engaged in putting wood in the stove; he advanced towards him with a large Colt's revolver in his hand—which he had borrowed from Morgan, the actor, under pretense of going into the country—with which he struck Bloomer twice over the head; Bloomer seized the pistol with his left hand, and with his right drew a knife from his belt and plunged it into Baldock's side; the pistol, in the meantime, fired and Baldock tried to jerk it away, but Bloomer let go of the knife and left it sticking in the wound, and taking hold with both hands, wrenched the pistol out of his adversary's hand, who then ran out at the door, crying murder, &c. The jury, consisting of J. R. Tooman, T. H. Cunningham, Daniel D. Drake, Frank Scarborough, T. Scholl and W. C. James, as well as the Justice, unanimously signed a verdict to the following effect:

That Edward Baldock came to his death by a wound inflicted in his left side, and in the lower portion of the abdomen, with a large knife in the hands of Benjamin Bloomer; and that said wound was made in self-defense in resisting a deadly attack made by Edward Baldock upon him, the said Benj. Bloomer, with a dragon revolver.

The Boise News presents the courts from obtaining juries readily in criminal cases, so we are informed by the officers and attorneys. Much trouble, as we have observed ourselves, exists in consequence of men who are summoned as jurors having heard about the case in the Boise News, and as a general thing believed what they read, so as to unfit them for jurors. We have been requested to desist from the publication of facts on this account, but as our readers, like all other communities, are anxious to know what is being done in their midst, especially when the law is being broken, we feel that we should not only do them an injustice but deprive ourselves of just such items as are of interest to many patrons, by abstaining from reporting proceedings in the examining courts. One attorney requested us, if we must publish these things, not to give evidence so accurately, as the public had come to some extent to look upon our reports as semi-official and to give them full credence. We regret being the cause of disturbance in court, but until there is a law to prevent it, we shall continue to tell what we know about the doings of courts both criminal and civil, provided we consider the subject matter of sufficient importance to our readers to interest them; and moreover, we shall continue to publish as near the truth as we can arrive at from the evidence.

RONK & BUSH have again started the Bear Run mill, which it will be remembered was burned down about a month ago. The old familiar puff-puff greeted us for the first time since the disaster on Wednesday morning. The new rotary quartz mill being attached to the machinery of this mill by Mr. Simms, will be in running order in a few days, when the boys owning rich rock in the neighborhood will have a chance to get it processed.

A TUNNEL.—Last week we spoke about the mines of Moore's creek generally. A word about the ground of Gardillet, Lucas & Co., may not be particularly out of place. Their claims are located near half a mile above the Warm Springs; they are styled bar claims, and extend back from the margin of the flat six hundred feet and are two hundred feet wide. This Company and the one adjoining on the west, have the first right to the Warm Spring water for mining purposes, which is sufficient for a good head the year round. It is an opinion prevailing to some degree, that the diggings of Buena Vista Bar are chiefly of the "rim-rock" order, and to prove—or, rather to disprove this, the foreman of the company, Gardiner, (alias "Kentuck") concluded to run a tunnel the entire length of their claims and thereby prospect their ground thoroughly. The tunnel was started about a month or six weeks ago, and last Sunday we found the tunnel some three hundred and seventy feet under ground, and allowing one hundred feet for a cot at the commencement, leaves about one hundred and thirty feet of the tunnel to complete. Four men do the work—two working during the day and two during the night. The ground is about twenty feet deep overhead in the deepest place. The timbering is substantial and safe, and everything connected with the claim is carried on systematically; in fact, "Kentuck," who has spent seven years of his life tunnel-mining in Nevada, Cal., won't do things any other way. But to the "prospects." The ground which might be said to constitute the rim-rock diggings, paid on an average eight and ten dollars per day to the man; as the tunnel advanced the ground prospected better, and they now find ground that will pay forty dollars per day to the hand, and establishing a belief that it will keep getting better as far back as they will go. The company will now sink a shaft for the purpose of using the tunnel and making it more convenient for getting the timber to its place. When the main tunnel is completed the mining will be continued by side tunnels and drifting. They have a good hydraulic attachment, but the dumping facilities are not sufficiently ample to accommodate that important "arm of the service." The claims above, below and on all sides of Kentuck's, are paying well, and it's our belief (and particularly our wish) that our old friend will make a good raise off of the enterprise, which we consider worthy of special note. This is the longest tunnel we know of in the country.

GAMBRIAN MILL.—On Sunday last, seven wagons heavily laden with machinery and other material pertaining to the Garrison-Gambrian Co.'s mill, arrived in town and passed on out to the Gambrians' lodge, some five or six miles above town on the divide between Moore's and Elk creeks. This is the mill purchased some time since in San Francisco by Mr. Combs, only a portion of which has arrived, the balance being loaded on five wagons, making twelve large ox-team loads in all with from three to seven yoke to the team. We are assured, by those who ought to know, that Mr. Donohue declared this to be as good and as fine a mill as ever left his foundry. It has sufficient power to run twenty stamps, only ten of which will be attached at first, but so arranged that the others can be added at any time with but little expense beyond the price of the battery and freight upon it. Two months will probably elapse before it is ready to crush.

The Astor Gold and Silver Mining Co. held their regular annual meeting under the provisions of the incorporation law of the Territory, on the 8th of October, and elected F. Cheney, President.—T. C. Poujade, Treasurer—A. Phillips, Secretary—and Alf M. Miller, A. Showers and F. Cheney, Trustees for the ensuing year. No gold-bearing ledge in the Basin bids fairer to become famous for its immense richness than the Astor, when the arrangements already completed are carried into effect and a mill erected on the ledge. A tunnel, as we have already noted, has been run up the hill, striking the ledge a hundred feet below the surface, and yet the mill site is at least a hundred feet below the mouth of the tunnel, so that the rock has only to be run out at the mouth and tumbled into the mill, saving all the expense of hauling, loading, emptying, hoisting, &c.

NEVADA ELECTION.—We are indebted to the Humboldt Express Co. for a copy of the Virginia (Nevada) Enterprise of the 8th, from which we learn that the election in Nevada, hitherto reported to have gone Democratic resulted in the election of Judge Cradlebaugh—People's Union nominee—over Bradford Democratic nominee, notwithstanding another branch of the Union party were running Thos. Fitch for the same position. Cradlebaugh received 3781, Fitch 1208 and Bradford 3716, making a total vote for delegate to Congress of 7705, while the vote on the adoption of the Constitution at the same election reached 11655, showing that 2950 who voted for and against the Constitution did not vote for delegate. The Enterprise says this discrepancy was caused by the unpopularity of Fitch, the regular nominee of the Union party, who was a libel on the party and whose name they were ashamed to print on their tickets. Had a popular nomination been made the Union majority would have been over three thousand instead of 1273, as shown by the returns. Cradlebaugh's plurality is sixty Ave.

Frank W. Bell has opened a wholesale and retail liquor house next door to Swinerton's P. O. Bookstore, and is doing business after the most improved and elegant style. Go and try whether you want a pony glass or a punchoon.

Go to the "SAZERAC," in the building formerly occupied by Welles & Norton, and take a drink, paying therefor in good clea. Just. Everybody who knows Judge E. S. Bell knows also that he is a man who would soon to offer an inferior article to his customers.

IDaho COUNTY.—Up to the hour of going to press, we are unable to give the vote for the entire ticket of Idaho county; enough has been received to show that the entire Democratic ticket has been elected in that county. We are indebted to A. Rippon for the following table:
