

THE FREEDMAN'S COMPLAINT.

A PARODY.

I am dying, Andy dying, Corn and Bacon will not last!

Though the Lincoln's proclamation Gather on the evening blast, Issue reasons to support me.

Not working orders—bow thine ear, Listen to the Freedman's secret, Not for thee alone to hear.

Though overseers and the driver Raise on high the lash no more, Though Abe Linkum's proclamation Lands me safe on freedom's shore,

Though no iron now surround me, To make me do that white man's will, Yet I'm sick, faint and hungry,— And there's a nothing left to steal!

Let no Southern servile minions Mock the lion thus laid low; 'Twas no fopman's hand that felled him,

Yes, I'm dying, Andy, dying, Hark! the insulting provost's cry; They are coming—quick, my faction!

Now no more 'mid delatation Shall my name contention swell; Phillips, Sumner—devil take ye!

It is rarely we give speeches in this paper, but the following, delivered by the eccentric George Francis Train, in the New York Gold Room, lately, is too good to exclude.

Speech of G. F. Train. It is rarely we give speeches in this paper, but the following, delivered by the eccentric George Francis Train, in the New York Gold Room, lately, is too good to exclude.

You have cornered me, gentlemen, [laughter] and I am willing to sell a ten minute speech—long or short [laughter], as you may decide.

What shall I talk about? [Laughter, and cries of "Finance—Expansion or Contraction."] Well, then, I will throw out some suggestions, and you can draw your own conclusions.

In 1860, we had recovered from the financial panic of 1857, and had not commenced the panic of Rebellion and of war.

Now, then, for another picture—1867—five million tons of shipping wiped off the sea by England's neutrality—no five millions of cotton in the South—three hundred millions sunk in petroleum—the gold mining companies played out.

The rich men are all poor. They are first to call their loans. Those patriotic Radicals who put their money into Southern cotton plantations, have planted it there forever.

The South have nothing to pay. The bonded warehouses are full of foreign goods not yet paid for. The country is stocked with merchandise.

When the old Banking Companies of England organized under the Limited Liability Act, they were all or most of them insolvents—as instanced by Overend, Gurney & Co.

Take their loans this time last year, 1866—five hundred millions—take them now, 1867—six hundred and twenty millions.

When the old Banking Companies of England organized under the Limited Liability Act, they were all or most of them insolvents—as instanced by Overend, Gurney & Co.

Take their loans this time last year, 1866—five hundred millions—take them now, 1867—six hundred and twenty millions.

The last panic was peculiar—usually we outsiders caught it. This time you insiders got cleaned out. [Applause, and "that's so."] Men who had accumulated their two hundred to five hundred thousand dollars in small sums these last few years—buried it all in the Greenwood Cemetery of the Stock Exchange.

The Comptroller is abroad. He is after the delinquents—1700 of these institutions are in a flurry—already, the big loans are called in, and the street will feel the shock within a week.

The recent National Bank failures in Washington, Baltimore, Oil Wells, Newton, Hudson, Boston and Nashville, are only the pimples, the slight eruption on the skin, that tells the experienced eye the painful disease that is struggling within.

When the country understands this, they will sell Governments. Then look abroad. Five hundred millions of our securities in Europe on call—nominally held at 74—or 9 per cent. in gold, while the rottenest security in the old world, 3 per cent. British Consols are selling at 91.

That shows how little they think of our Bond. They are simply deposited there and drawn against—a simple kytering operation, which you understand. [Laughter.]

When you want to see what is going on abroad—look at that never-failing Barometer down there in the southeastern part of Europe, the Eastern question.

All say Peace, yet five hundred millions of Breech-loaders—of needle guns—are being made. When war breaks out, as likely in London or Paris as in Greece or Turkey, back some the Bonds.

We subscribed $10,000, and borrowed $9,500, and kept the mill going all day, making the man with $10,000 capital talk and act like the millionaire.

The Public is a Bull on Governments only when above par—when below par, they are Bears. Let Governments drop to par, and down they go to 89.

Then National Bank notes are 1 per cent. discount. Then comes the rush on National Banks for greenbacks, and the greenbacks are not there.

What is the result? Does Congress help us? No—the lawyers are in power; what do they care? They add $400,000,000 bounty to the debt, and advance their own salaries to $5000!

Is the South to be admitted under the Military bill? No; Stevens holds the reins; confiscation is the order. The estates are to be cut up among the Germans, and the negroes wiped out.

When, then, are we floating? Congress sees McCulloch has made a mistake; and as it is an Administration blunder, the Radicals intend to pass no bill of relief.

They will pinch the country this year—and bring on a financial crash in the fall—(Remember this is the panic year of the never failing serews)—lay it on the Administration Policy, and when everybody is broken, Congress will meet in the winter and pass Randall's bill, putting greenbacks in the place of the $340,000,000 National Bank Bonds.

Pass another bill paying duties on imports in greenbacks—and then another bill paying interest on the $1,400,000,000 5-20's in legal tenders.

In other words, give the country one currency. That is, twenty-five hundred millions of legal tenders, instead of sixteen currencies as at present. [Applause.]

This makes all happy for the Presidential election of 1868. Delirium tremens requires national whiskey to recuperate the system. The whiskey will make all vote for Radicalism.

They elect the President and after that the deluge. [Laughter and applause.] Johnson in his talk with Halpin—the Democratic party and the South thinks that a crash will burst the Radicals.

By no means. They will turn it to their advantage. The next war is to be financial. Land and labor against banks and bondholders—and the former own the notes. The South had no debt.

The West little. The greenback age wiped off their mortgages, and placed the load on the back of the bondholders. The debt rests uneasily on the seshore and in Europe, and the shadow is on the wall.

Paying gold interest in greenbacks is Reputation, you say—why so? nearly all the States have done it, New York taking the lead.

The finality of all the recent Congressional legislation may be stated in two words, Confiscation in the South and Reputation in the North.

The Chicago papers have already sounded the tocsin, we are growing poorer every day. The $2,500,000,000 debt only cost $1,250,000,000.
